"37.2A (1) No person shall offer a product for sale to the public under conditions which enhance, or are intended to enhance, the appearance, colour, or other characteristic of the product in an artificial way or through artificial means, or which are intended in any way to deceive the public as to the true appearance or quality of the product, or both.

(2) No person engaged in the supplying of products to the public shall obstruct the view of cash register windows or, in any other way, whether deliberate or not, conceal the price actually being charged to a customer.

(3) No person shall offer a product for sale to the public that does not have the price per unit clearly indicated on the item or in some other way.

(4) No person shall offer a product for sale to the public at a price which exceeds, in terms of price per unit, the price at which smaller quantities of that same product are offered by the same person.

(5) No person shall offer a product for sale to the public at a price that does not fully reflect the intended consequences of any government subsidy programme then in effect with respect to that particular product.

V 185—1½

(6) No person who offers a product for sale to the public shall distribute, or offer to distribute, coupons or stamps of any kind that are redeemable for cash, gifts, or any other consideration.

(7) Any person who violates subsections (1) to (6) is guilty of an offence and is liable

(a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment not exceeding five years; or

(b) on summary conviction to a fine in the discretion of the court or imprisonment for not more than one year, or to both."

After debate thereon, the question being put on the motion, pursuant to section 11 of Standing Order 75, a recorded division was deferred.
