

ABRAHAM'S BOSOM

“ ‘And great is the mystery of godliness,’ ”
the other quoted, in his turn.

“And wonderful is it to emerge from darkness and half lights into the daylight of the Sun of Righteousness.”

“But blessed,” Berkeley Noone went on, fervently, “are they who, in half lights and darkness, are able to see that they shall emerge quietly, simply, naturally—and not be violently thrust into glories or terrors they cannot understand.

“More blessed are they who learn to live in God as in the One Vast Certainty—which created every one, and supplies every one, and upholds every one, and defends every one, and loves every one; and does it all with unlimited intelligence and might—
‘to whom be glory and dominion for ever and ever.’ ”

“Amen! and Amen!”

THE END