

CHAPTER II. continued.

PAGE.

..... 427

ical con-
distribu-
..... 481

..... 445

als and
..... 445

egan be-
..... 446

sive deve-
..... 458, 477

.....

cial creation
era ..... 479

osition of man eras 482

ms :
..... 487

..... 499

..... 501

..... 504

n. Spen degrees
..... 506

..... 513

..... 513

..... 516

..... 521

g to spe-
..... 526

and men-
..... 529

..... 532

..... 535

.....

influences
..... 550

..... 557

PAGE.

Investigation of supposed cases, in which the differences are not those of development, but of type ..... 565

Illustrations of this law afforded by America 577

Concomitant variations of physical characteristics and circumstances ..... 586

Examples :
1. In Scandinavia ..... 588

2. In Egypt..... 589

3. In America..... 595

Consequent uncertainty of arguments derived from typical race-forms..... 598

Bearing of the argument on the antiquity of
the human race ..... 606

1. The Peruvian skull ..... 608

2. Changes in the surface of the earth
within the human era..... 611

Conclusion :
1. As to the comparatively recent origin of man ..... 627

2. As to the moral evidences of the unity of the human race ..... 633

3. As to the theological results of the whole enquiry..... 643