The Chancellor, with a grave but clear voice and a strong and unfaitering attitude, leaned forward, as is his wont, and addressed himself to the jury. He said Karl Dullman, John Nolin and John Walsh had been found guitty after a careful investigation. They had been found guilty of a novel experiment in using dynamite for the purpose of destroying a public work of Canada. They were foreigners, who had attempted to destroy a public work, which was a highway of the whole continent, and it was a crume of a grievous and suggestive character. There was no evidence to show their motive, and it was probably one of hire on the part of Nolin and Walsh for the purpose of gain, and it was probably one of hatred on the part of Dullman, which hatred led to a blow against the state and civilization. Dullman really deserved more punishment

The Chancellor then paused and the spectators and the jury leaned forward.

"I sentence you all to imprisonment for life," were the firm words which escaped his lips as he rose and quickly left the court room.

McInnes and Dunsmuir.

Billy McInnes, at a meeting in Weilington on Wednesday night, cleverly handled Dunsmuir and his henchmen. Dunsmuir repeated his promise that he would employ only white men henceforth as soon as he could get them to replace the Chinese. McInnes complimented Dunsmuir on this policy, and said it would not take long to settle the Asiatic labor question if the same enlightened policy were adopted by other employers.

London, May 26:—(3.30 a.m.)—The latest intelligence from Lord Roberts' headquarters at Vredefort Station, filed at 5.35 Thursday afternoon, was that the British were advancing rapidly. Gen. Hamilton had effected a junction with Lord Roberts. The country in front of them was clear of Boers to Viljoen's Drift. The Boers were evacuating all their positions south of the Vaal River, and 5000 had already crossed to the north bank. Probably Gen. French's cavalry is already reconnoitering the fords of the Vaal.
