They called, and call themselves Liberals, and ey were the most unprogressive men in the land. They had no views on national king, national currency, on the credit and to get cheaper money for farmers. They failed to see that when they committed the nation to hundreds of millions on railways they allowed all this money to go to private companies, and that they were not to be parties to the state owning and running the railways that were built. So, also, the Conservatives. They had the chance of recovering the roads that the Liberals built and making them for the state and the people, to give service, rather than to make profits for individuals. The move they made was to declare that public be forced on them, rather than to be welcomed; and they went off and employed an American railway expert in the service of the Vanderbilt lines. an English financial expert, thinks that capital has more at stake than the nation, to tell them what to do. The leaders of our people must be men who look at things from the standpoint of the state and of public service not from the standpoint of capital and profits, that the natural resources of the country are for the people and the state and not for the aggrandisement of the exploiter and the promoter. They must ready to read the public mind and to diagnose the throbbing pulsations of a nation in its trials and its bitter experience of the past. In completing their immediate part of the offensive the British drove forward on a evening and they made additional progress in the night by capturing a thousand yards of trenches from the Germans near Courcelette and a mile of fortifications known as the Mouquet farm fortification after contending several weeks. Considerable numbers of teen hundred additional prisoners were taken by the British up to Saturday evening. fifty were also captured and gix cannon were either taken or destroyed.

A notable feature of yesterday's fighting on the British front was the defeat and dispersal of a German brigade of four battalions by two British battalions. Perceiving that the Germans were coming up in a counter-attack the British soldiers left their hurryring back whence they came. Actions such as these greatly increase the morale of the British troops and depress the morale of the German troops.

The Italian drive towards Trieste, in reality an offensive directed against the strong capture of more entrenchments on a wide front with about 800 officers and men. The Italians advanced immediately after they had repulsed several night counter-attacks. The males away to the east. All that is at end. The people only await the chance of saying in federal politics what they said recently in On-tario, what they said in British Columbia -- "Stand aside, go back, let other men show what they can do and will try

Are we then advocating the annihila But we do say that the time has arrived for a new party to arise and organize the forces that have shown themselves all over Canada within the past year or more and exerted their power in Britist Columbia and in Southwest Toronto North Perth, Peel, in this province.

These forces are present in provincial mons. The new day party, all it has to do is to elect twenty or thirty men in the forthcoming general election, and we believe they will forthwith be in the majority by defections from the two old parties. That is the immediate word do not even hunger after the progressive for the new party. We believe that if legislation that has made the Wilson adtime for organization is at hand the new day party will sweep the country. In any event their opportunity has come, the bell has sounded. The World will try to help on such a party and be a worker in the movement. Anyone who has read the Canadian papers, particularly professed party papers, within the past weeks will see the signs, the unmistakable signs, of the revolt that is spreading far and wide. A paper that spoke out like The Huron Signal last week against the bossism of The Globe and of The Star of this city will realize what is going on in Liberal ranks; and if anybody is deceived by the appeals to Conservatives by Sir John Willison in The News of Toronto, it is not that he is or the bulk of the party. Conservative papers all over are ready to revolt against the indecision at Ottawa and the dictation and lawyer rule in the Queen's Park at Toronto. IN accordance with the avowed military policy of the allies of increasing the pressure of their arms in every theatre of the war, that pressure has now reached the greatest pressure it has yet attained, but not its maximum, according to the despatches yesterday. These record the attacking of the enemy and the forcing of his lines back on no fewer than five fronts—the French, the Galician, the Dobrudja, is the enemy advancing, and it is doubtful what value the offensive in that quarter is to him, for if the Roumanians are not ready to wage vigorous war east of the Danube while they are securing hold of Transylvania, they will probably retire behind an impregnable line in the Dobrudja, while the power of the enemy is more rapidly dissolving elsewhere by reason of his dispersal of force on a subsidiary operation.

The latest successes of the British and the French bring them territorial gains in the past few days equal to those of the first two weeks in July and they represent in large measure a great destruction of the enemy's power. Tyrants fall at every blow. More important still, while the fighting is extending, the allied output of munitions continues to expand as shown by the increase in the strength every blow tell. Most striking of all is the advance of allied troops in the Balkans. It is manifest that the Bulgarians have sustained a severe defeat at the hands of the Serbians northeast of Saloniki. There the enemy has already beat a big retirement. The news that with conspicuous success, will create consternation in Berlin, although the substitute of the substitute of the swards. The success of the allied forces based on Saloniki over the Bulgarians has apparently been of considerable importance, for the Bulgarians, after suffering heavy losses, have been forced to retreat into Serbia from Greek territory, where they were previously posted, and the French and Russian contingents have arrived in front of Florina, close to the Serbian border and south of Monastir. Further to the east, the Serbians, who are nadvancing on both sides of Lake Ostrovo, have defeated the Bulgarians in an engagement near Kajmackalan, and they are throwing troops across the River Brod. On the Fight bank of this stream the Bulgarian: are now resisting the Serbians. The fight-struma front British reconnoitring parties have fought several successful engagements. Harry Price, aged 36 years, of Erindale, third son of Stephen Price, head of the firm of S. Price and Sons, milk dealers, Toronto, was almost instantly killed late Saturday night, when a seven-passenger motor car, which he was driving, suddenly swervered from the road and was ditoed at the corner of Spring road and Dundas street. George Price, his brother, and Vincent Hector, of Erindale, who were also in the car at the time, escaped unhurt.

Mr. Price and lis friends were returning from a visit to Mrs. W. E. Bourne, a sister of the Price's, at about six or eight miles an hour, owing to headlight trouble.

At the point where the accident happened the road has considerable curve, and when the headlights suddenly went out, Harry Price, who was afriving, was unable to see his way, and the car skidded into the ditch. As it overturned, George Price and Vincent Hector were thrown clear, landing unhurt in a corner of the fence on the roadside. Harry Price, seated at the wheel, was unable to extricate himself in time, and went over with the car.

EARLSCOURT

EXPRESS COMMITTEE TO RAISE FUNDS BY CONCERT

The concert to be held in the large auditorium of Earlscourt Central Methodist Church, Ascot avenue, under the auspices of the citizens', express and freight campaign executive committee, on Wednesday evening next, as advertised, will be one of the best ever held in the northwest section.

The object of the concert is to raise funds to meet the expenses of the committee in preparing their case to be presented before the Dominion Railway Board at their sitting in Toronto within the next few weeks.

EARLSCOURT PREPARED FOR TEMPERANCE ACT

"The quantity of liquor stored in the Earlscourt district for leisure consumption cannot be estimated," said n observant resident yesterday. "For the past three or four days the number of beer wagons delivering in all parts of the section, from early morning until late in the evening, was fas in excess of anything ever known in the history of the district. People who formerly did not purchase from the liquor dealers for home consumption, laid in a stock for future use and in a great many cases every available storage place in the home was filled with bottles and kegs. One householder ordered and paid for $21 worth of whiskey, and from four to six kegs of beer was an ordinary order to the overworked city liquor stores from residents of the northwest district." Very little comment was heard amongst the residents regarding the closing of the larger stores thruout the district on Saturday.
