Six Brothers In Fighting Ranks

Three Have Won Commissions on the Field; Their Grandfather Was Officer in U. S. Army

The six sons of Mrs. G. D. Campbell of Weymouth, N.S., formerly of Bangor, who enlisted in the British army, are now serving their country with bravery and distinction, thus carrying out the proud traditions of their family. Mrs. Campbell's father, Alpheus Taf Palmer of Bangor, was a first lieutenant in the United States army during the Mexican war of 1846, and was breveted on the field in recognition of his service. During the Civil war, he acted as drill-master and recruiting officer for the volunteer regiments then departing for the south.

Mrs. Campbell is the wife of G. D. Campbell, head of the Campbell Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd., one of the big industries of Digby county, Nova Scotia. Her fighting sons are:

Colin, lieutenant in a regiment at the front.
Kenneth, lieutenant of the 219th Highland battalion.
Thomas in the — battalion at the front.

Glidden, machine gun officer with the 88th Nova Scotia Highlanders.
Albert, with the 58th Howitzer Battery of Fredericton, now at Peterawa, Duncan, sergeant in the 106th Battalion, now in England.

This is one of the finest records of any family in Nova Scotia, or for that matter in Canada. A year ago last Christmas the entire family was united in Weymouth; today, the sons are scattered at the front, in England and in Canada. All are King's College men.

Three of them have won commissions. Colin won his after long service as a private and experience in severe fighting at the front. The other two, Glidden and Kenneth, obtained commissions after long study and close attention to military duties. Three others, Thomas, Albert and Duncan, enlisted as privates. Duncan was promoted to sergeant soon after enlisting.

Colin, the youngest of the family, was the first to enlist, joining the army in August, 1914, soon after the war broke out. He entered the home service and did duty at McNab's Island in connection with the searchlight service. Later he became attached to the 88th artillery battery at Fredericton. When the battery was sent to France, Campbell was wounded in the battle of La Bassée.

He was returned to England and after convalescing, again went to the front and was in the big offensive near Albert, where he received several wounds and is again in England recovering.

Thomas Campbell has seen much active service in Belgium, and was invalided to England suffering from shell shock, but has completely recovered and is doing another bit at the front.

Kenneth was the next to volunteer.

HAVE YOU

tried Zam-Buk for those disgusting pimples and blackheads? Others have used it with great success, and we are confident you will not be disappointed.

Mr. J. B. Wagner of New Canada, N.S., writes: "For a considerable time I suffered with pimples and blackheads on my face. They were very unsightly and I suffered a good deal. Someone recommended Zam-Buk and I commenced using it. To my delight the pimples and blackheads gradually began to disappear, until now my face is entirely cleared of them. I am, indeed, grateful for what Zam-Buk has done for me, and should like all others who are troubled as I was, to know of this wonderful ointment."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, abscesses, old wounds, blood-poisoning, boils, piles, burns, cuts, scalds, etc. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, all druggists or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 10c. stamp for postage on free trial box.

ZAM-BUK

He was attached to the 40th battalion for instruction and training while in Canada. Later he took his captain's course at Wellington and then a machine gun course. Later he raised nearly a platoon for the Highland brigade, training them at Aldershot when the battalion was mobilized. Later he was selected as one of the Nova Scotia officers to accompany reinforcements overseas.

The enlistment of the other brothers followed as the war progressed. Assistant Lieut. Kenneth Campbell in recruiting was his brother, Lieut. Glidden Campbell, machine gun officer of the 88th N.S. Highlanders.

Caleb F. Palmer of 55 Norfolk street, Bangor, is a brother of Mrs. Campbell and uncle of the six soldiers.

The Waltham

THOSE who realize the need of always being on time know best the value of a Waltham Watch. For whenever doubt may arise, a Waltham gives the assurance of accuracy. That's why most railroad men throughout the world have adopted the Waltham Watch as a necessary part of their equipment. Strong, sturdy and well able to stand the shocks of railroad use, the extraordinary engineering and the jeweled main wheel of the Waltham "Vanguard" ensure an even action and extraordinary accuracy. The Waltham indicator on the dial signals when the watch needs winding. Your jeweller will recommend the Waltham "Vanguard" or any of the Waltham Railroad Watches. Write for the booklet "Concerning a Timepiece."
