

A New Toiletry For the Bath

Bath Dusting Powder brings milady a new freshness and fragrance after bathing.

The Powder produces a tonic coolness and judiciously combats perspiration, while imparting a satiny effect to the complexion as noted about the neck and shoulders.

Again there is the delicate hint of her favorite perfume. Introduced at Christmas time, Bath Dusting Powders went over big as treasured Gifts and Bridge prizes.

They come in giant boxes, handsomely gotten up and include puff. Six selections at the Ross Drug Co., Ltd., as follows:

ARGUES CLAIM FOR INGLEWOOD

Dr. F. R. Taylor Heard This Morning In Arbitration Proceeding

Mr. Montgomery Concludes His Address—Mr. Hughes, in Rebuttal, Closes Case

This afternoon should see the hearing into the Inglewood claim against the N. B. Electric Power Commission completed. Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the company, began his address this morning, and will conclude this afternoon, and with rebuttal by P. J. Hughes, K. C., senior counsel for the commission, the case will go to Judge LeBlanc for decision.

MR. MONTGOMERY.

G. H. Montgomery, K. C., Montreal, counsel for the Inglewood Pulp and Paper Co., completed his argument yesterday afternoon. He spoke mainly on technical points. He contended that the commission had developed the Musquash because it was the most suitable in this part of the province, that Henry Holgate and P. H. and C. H. Mitchell should have been the engineers called by the commission instead of R. S. Lea, as the former had been connected with the work and were familiar with it.

Regarding market, he said Grand Falls and steam generated power were the only competitors to Musquash and at the time the development was undertaken Grand Falls belonged to a private company which might have kept the power for themselves.

The rights of Messrs. Spinney, Clinch and Dean, which had been secured for $22,500 were unimportant, he said, and should not be considered in dealing with the case.

THIS MORNING

Opening his argument this morning, Dr. Taylor quoted from the articles of incorporation of the Inglewood Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., and discussed exhaustively their rights under the act. The act, he said, gave the company the power to sell energy and construct the necessary pole lines, etc. He declared that even expropriation powers would have been granted had the company so desired.

Discussing the evidence of N. Belding, assessor at Musquash, Dr. Taylor said that the land was valued at $41,500 in 1920. Dr. Taylor said that would comprise the company's holdings in Musquash parish only and that the valuation was entirely of land as land, and that no consideration was made by the assessor of the holdings regarding water power rights.

SAYS RIDICULOUS.

Concerning Mr. Barkhouse's evidence of the value being at $1 an acre, instead of being placed at $124,500, the assessment would be some $12,000 on this basis. This, he termed, "ridiculous."

In 1920 the commission, he said, decided to develop Musquash. The decision Dr. Taylor said, was a very proper one as the Musquash was a good power site. Counsel declared that the Grand Falls could never be a serious competitor of the Musquash owing to high cost of development at Grand Falls, and longer time to develop.

Mr. Taylor then went on to discuss the lumbering and fishing rights of the company at Musquash and the value of these holdings. He pointed out that cutting off the company from using the streams for log-driving purposes was a serious blow and with access cut off lumbering would be an expensive operation. Regarding severance and Mr. Murdoch's statement that he would place it at $35,000, he submitted His Honor would have to take that figure for this item alone. It would have been reasonable to place this at $15,000. His Honor, he said, could increase the $35,000 but not decrease that amount.

FISHING AND HUNTING

The value of the fishing could be placed at $100,000 and hunting privileges were destroyed. Regarding inter-charge since expropriation, he declared it was only equitable that the company be granted this as they had been deprived from enjoyment of their property rights. He cited cases to support his argument.

With reference to the contention that the company did not own the waters, Dr. Taylor said the authorities were entirely at variance with this contention. He referred His Honor to several cases on this point.

City Engineer Again Recommends Exploration in Report on Harbor Work

The report of City Engineer G. G. Hare of the work in the harbor department in 1925, in connection with the expenditure for last year, which totalled $171,766.04, says: "While the general estimate was not exceeded, it must not be thought that all the work necessary to keep the properties in first-class repair was carried out. On account of the wharfage rates, the money was not available to carry out the necessary work and no money was available for improvements, and it is apparent to those familiar with the city's wharves and sheds that at no distant date heavy capital expenditures will have to be incurred to put our properties in condition to meet the demand of modern transportation and increasing traffic through the port."

"In this connection, I again recommend that the area north of North Rodney wharf be explored with the view to estimating whether it may be reasonably developed for deep-water wharves."

An exercise entitled "The Parting of the Ways" was given by Misses Margaret Henderson, Evelyn Cunningham, Mary B. Owen, Eva Adams, Phyllis Watters and Laura Mason. A duet was sung by Miss Margaret Barrett, and Mrs. Margaret Henderson. Mrs. D. Brunstrom contributed a solo.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times-Star reporter, "I see Billy Milder there one time and he been elected an alderman down to Eastport. He's been mayor—an' postmaster—an' I guess he's been in the legislature or might be now. I can't think a lot 'o' him. I mind Billy when he was just a young fellow runnin' a store over to Weymouth Bridge, Nova Scotia. His father had been a fine old school teacher his day. Billy he went to Yarmouth fer a spell—an' then he went to Eastport. I seen him there one time an' he come home to dinner. Says he to his wife, says he: 'This is that man I hear you hear me talk about—he's out again.' But they gimme a mighty good dinner an' me an' Billy talked out old times 'o' the pooley little French gal I took a shine to the winter I was over to Weymouth Bridge. Says—that the place fer smelts an' mayflowers—that Sissiboo River. I guess I'll hev to git Billy to go back there with me sometime an' look it over—Yes, sir."

ADD TO FUNDS FOR NEW ORANGE HALL

Fairmount L. O. B. A. Supper and Sale Very Successful Event

A very successful bean supper and sale was held under the auspices of Fairmount Lodge, L. O. B. A., in the United Church hall, East Saint John, last evening. Mrs. John Chard, W. M. of the lodge, was the general convener. The tables were decorated in scarlet and orange, with orange candles in brass candlesticks. At the supper tables 120 were served. Mrs. Willis McIntyre and Mrs. Delbert Lewis were conveners of the tables, and were assisted by Mrs. Harry Franklin, Mrs. Robert Magee and Mrs. Lorne McFarlane. Mrs. Philip McIntyre replenished, and the young ladies assisted in serving. W. L. Pepper had charge of the door tickets.

Assisting in other capacities were Mrs. O. J. Lawson, Mrs. George Elliot, Mrs. Reed Lewis, Mrs. George Gowen, Mrs. Harris Greer, Mrs. W. Woodroffe and Mrs. Harry Foster.

The booths were prettily decorated in the prevailing colors, red and orange. Mrs. W. L. Wood had charge of the fancy work, and Mrs. Fred Lewis the candy booth. A satisfactory sum was realized for the building fund of the new Orange hall.
