ECZEMA ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczeema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system. Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes healthy healing.
Mr. J. Sage, 215 Princess Ave., Vancouver, B. C., writes:—"Having suffered with eczeema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. too highly. I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczeema."

B. B. B. put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Lord Melbourne, Prime Minister—(Well, Mr. Disraeli, what is your idea in entering Parliament? What is your ambition?)
Disraeli—"To become Prime Minister of England, my lord."
And he did.
It was a thirty-year fight.
Disraeli entered Parliament in 1857. In 1867 Queen Victoria made him Prime Minister.
In the interval Disraeli, a young Jew, without fortune or influence, battled his way to the top.
And again in 1874, nine years after his first appointment as Prime Minister, the Queen again appointed Disraeli to be Premier.

to secure a franchise. Rumors had it before he left that he would get either the Brooklyn or New York American League team, but he refused to acknowledge them. He did intimate to a New York newspaper man that he had an option on an eastern team, but was not at liberty to say which one it was, and that he would defer making a definite announcement until he returned from his trip.

"Now that the famous theatrical man is back in his organization, and is believed the announcement will soon be made that he has acquired the controlling interest of the Brooklyn team."
"President Ban Johnston of the American League has expressed a wish to have Cohan in his organization, and through friends has attempted to get him to take the Boston Red Sox. But Cohan does not wish to interest himself in a baseball venture outside New York. Therefore it is more than probable that the report that he has secured the Brooklyn franchise will develop to be true."

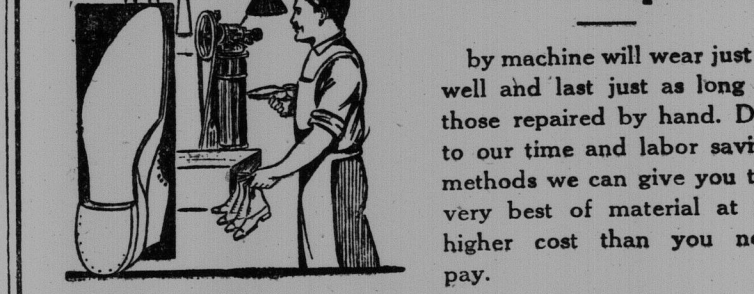

"President Ebbeh of the Dodgers remarked only a short time ago that he had passed the sixty-year mark and that it was time for him to retire. He said he was willing to do so and that his club was for sale at a certain price. He has been in baseball for more than thirty years, and said he was ready to step out to let a younger man take his place."

It has been often reported that George M. Cohan was to acquire control of a major league baseball club, and just before he sailed for England on the round trip which he has just completed he gave apparent confirmation to the rumor that he would soon appear in the role of a magnate. The Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Philadelphia Nationals were the clubs which figured most prominently in the guesses then hazarded.
