ROOKWOOD POTTERY OF CINCINNATI.
Gold Medal, Paris Exposition, 1889.

THE ROOKWOOD POTTERY was established at Cincinnati in 1880 by Mrs Maria Longworth Storer, whose father, Joseph Longworth, was the founder of the Art School and a chief patron of the Art Museum in the same city. The artistic impulse which came from the ceramic display of Japan at the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, and the production still bears the impress of that influence. For a time a school for pottery painting formed part of the scheme, and from the beginning the commercial side of the enterprise has been subordinate to the artistic. St. John—South End.

The event of the week to which society, especially the younger members of it, have been looking forward to some time came off on Wednesday in the marriage of Miss Joanna B. Hazen, second daughter of the late Wm. Hazen, to Mr. Arthur F. S. Moren, of Halifax, N. S. The ceremony which was fixed for 8.30 p. m., took place in St. Paul's Church, and was performed by Rev. Canon DeVeber, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lutz. The church had been prettily decorated for the occasion by friends of the bride with ferns, golden rods, and other yellow and white flowers. The guests, numbering about 100, began to assemble about 8 p. m., and were shown to seats in the middle aisle by the usher, Messrs. R. N. Frith, H. B. Robinson, B. S. Smith, and H. Wright. Precisely at the hour mentioned, the groom arrived at the altar with Mr. A. F. S. Moren, who attended him, and the choirsters who had assembled at the church door, proceeded up the aisle to the music of "The voice that breathed of Eden," followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss May Beer and Miss Harriet Hazen, and the bride leading on the arm of her brother, Mr. R. F. Hazen, who subsequently gave her away. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of heavy white cord, with a train of four feet, and a long veil, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and carnations. The bridesmaids wore very pretty dresses of cream bengaline made in train, and trimmed with gold passementerie, tulle veils fastened with white and gold aigrettes, each carried large bouquets of yellow roses tied with ribbon, which, together with beautiful ball hoop pearl rings, were the gifts of the bridegroom. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests returned to the residence of the bride's mother, Chipman Place. The scene at the house was a very picturesque one. The bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends under a large bell of white roses and carnations hanging at one end of the room. The mantels at either end of the room were banked with ferns and moss, and filled in with sunflowers and other yellow flowers. Immediately after supper the bride retired to change her dress for that of a very becoming travel-lug costume of grey and electric blue plaid, trimmed with large pearl buttons and small ribbon, hat to match. Mrs. and Mrs. Moren left by the 11.30 train amid showers of rice and hosts of good wishes for a trip to Montreal, Ottawa, and other places, returning by way of the States to Halifax, where they will reside. Altogether, it was one of the prettiest weddings ever seen in St. John. I particularly noticed the dresses of the following ladies:

Another wedding of much interest to St. John people takes place at Digby, N. S., next month, when Miss Fanny Pickman, formerly of St. John, will be married to Mr. Herbert Crookall of Halifax. On Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. Stephen DeForest gave a picnic at Long's Lake. Omnibuses drove the party to this pretty resort, where a very pleasant time was spent.

On Wednesday evening the Messrs. McLaughlin, with a number of their friends, enjoyed a picnic at Bay Shore.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. W. B. Robinson entertained a few friends at her residence, Broad Street, to celebrate the 11th wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Allison, who is staying with her. Many useful gifts in tinware were presented to Mrs. Allison by her friends, but I cannot use the very conventional phrase that the gifts were "numerous and costly." After some time spent in playing cards the young people present indulged in a very pleasant time.

Among those present were: Col. and Mrs. Alexander, Dr. and Mrs. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow Robinson, the Messrs. DeVeber, Mrs. Racey, (Fredericton) Mr. W. G. Lawton, the Messrs. Leely, Mr. J. Seely, Miss Lillian Hazen, Mr. Arthur Hazen, Miss Warner, Mrs. Macdonald, (Halifax) Mr. C. J. Coster.

Capt. Wm. Robinson left on Thursday for England en route to Sierra Leone. Miss French returned to Philadelphia this week bidding good bye to his friends, as he leaves for Shanghai, China, next month to join his cousin Mr. Gove in business there.

Mrs. Gove, of St. Andrews, spent a few days in St. John last week.

Another old resident passed away this week, Mr. John Sandall who for many years was associated with the custom house service. He died in the 82nd year of his age.

Rev. Mr. Grear, of Delaware, preached at the Mission chapel on Sunday last. It is probable he will be appointed to that church as successor to the Rev. M. Davenport, who leaves shortly for his new field of labor at Philadelphia.

Mr. Custance the new organist of the Mission arrived in the city last week and has taken up his residence at the Davenport school, where he is to give instruction in music and other branches of study.

Mrs. Augustus Robinson and Miss Gladys Robinson of Annapolis, N. S., are the guests of Mrs. John R. Armstrong, Wellington Row.

Mrs. Fudington and family, who have been summering at Rothesay, will return to town.

The Messrs. Nicholson left for Boston on Saturday last, having been called there in consequence of the severe illness of their brother, Mr. J. T. Nicholson, who, though still very delicate health, has somewhat improved by latest accounts.

Miss Fannie Jack is visiting St. John; she is staying with her family, Wright street.

Miss Stratton, of Fredericton, is the guest of her uncle, Judge Peters, Pitt street.

Miss French returned to Philadelphia this week. Mr. Isaac Burpee and Mrs. G. K. McLeod returned this week from a trip to Bangor.

Mrs. John Burpee is spending a few weeks at Bathurst.

Mr. J. Macdonald visited Halifax this week to attend the marriage of his brother.

Miss Wheeler left for Halifax this week to pay a short visit.

Mrs. Thayer returned to her home at Boston on Thursday last. She was accompanied by Mrs. Lawson, who intends paying a visit there.

Mrs. Fred Corbett arrived from Halifax this week to attend the wedding of Mrs. Corbett's son, Mr. Moren.

Mr. Nellie Barker, who has been abroad for the past three years, returned home on Wednesday last. She was accompanied by Mrs. Shuttleworth, widow of the late Capt. Shuttleworth, who has come from England to visit her sister, Mrs. Fred Barker, Newcastle.

The community was shocked on Wednesday last, to hear of the sad and awfully sudden deaths of two well-known ladies, Miss Thelma and Miss Jarvis, at the residence of the former, Woodlawn, Marsh road.

Miss Ann Thelma, the last of an old and much
