Chicago, Oct. 6.—The baseball fans of Chicago were at white heat today and they bet their money like drunken sailors on the White Sox chances to win the fifth game of the world's series, but their hopes were shattered when, in the sixth inning, the Reds broke in with four runs. The Reds got another in the ninth, and the Sox were unable to break into the score column at all.

Two things stopped the Chicago fans from collecting. Hod Eller, the Cincinnati pitcher, was the cork in the bottle. Aside from the first and ninth innings he not only retired the White Sox in one, two, three order, but in addition, broke all previous world's series records. His work on the slab called forth the cheers of the crowd. Not only did he outclass the stars of the past by his work in the hot, but in addition showed his nerve and stamina, when with the score nothing at all, he first man up in the sixth, hit the ball on the nose for a clean two bases off Williams, who, up to that time, had been pitching wonderful ball. Rath followed with a clean hit and Daubert was equal to the occasion for with a sacrifice he sent Eller home with the first run of the game.

The National League champions have won four games, and therefore need but one to clinch the winning. By the same token the Sox can annex the major share of the money only by winning four straight. The teams left for Cincinnati tonight for two games, if that may be required.

Eller, a White Sox cast-off of four years ago, gratified the dearest wish of his heart by attaining the victory. He held his former team mates practically helpless throughout. He allowed the only three widely repeated hits, gave out one pass, and established a record for consecutive strike-outs in a world series game. In the second and third innings, he fanned six batters in a row, and in the fourth he was going so strong that the first two Sox's who faced him dribbled the ball to him for easy outs at first, and the third man struck out. He delivered two more doses of the same medicine before the game was over, a total of nine strike-outs for the game.

Williams, who was defeated in the second game of the series at Cincinnati, batted for the Sox, and did about all that a pitcher could do to win. He walked two men and did not allow a hit until the fifth inning. The Reds delivered only three more hits off his delivery, but these, after the "World's Series" fashion of the Reds were coming in the one inning in which were most needed. In this instance the avalanche descended in the sixth round. The air was fairly foggy with hits, helped along by a walk and an error, and when the air clear the score board showed that four Red Legs had reached the counting station. It was enough-plus. In the eighth Williams retired to allow Murphy to appear in the role of pinch hitter, but he merely fanned, and in the ninth Mayer went to the mound for the Sox. His wildness was partly responsible for the final run which the visitors capped their score.

Schalk Sent to Dugout. Ray Schalk, premier catcher of the American League or any other league according to his admirers came forward as the first player to be chased by an umpire during the series. It was in the sixth, when most everything happened, that this occurred. Groh had slid to the plate, accumulating large holdings of base line real estate on the fence of his anatomy, and Schalk claimed that he touched the runner before the latter had ploughed his way to the plate. In his excitement he jumped up on the umpire. His wildness was partly responsible for the final run which the visitors capped their score.

The field was in excellent condition despite the rain of yesterday, and 24,379 persons paid to witness the exhibition. The sun shone brightly and the temperature was to the liking of players and spectators alike. Continued on Page 8.

The above pictures show the managers of the two rival teams in the world's series—"Pat" Moran, of the Chicago White Sox, and "Kid" Gleason, of the Cincinnati Reds.

General Kemal Now Controls Turk Situation

Resignation of Cabinet Was the Result of His Ultimatum—Fresh Impetus to Nationalist Movement.

Paris, Oct. 6.—According to the transcript of the resignation of the cabinet of Damad Ferid Pasha from General Mustafa Kemal, the Nationalist leader, who has set up a new government at Erzerum and has issued a call for elections to a new national parliament to meet at that place, away from the influence of the Entente. Following the occupation of Konieh, in Southern Asia Minor, which is connected by railroads with Constantinople (Asiatic side), Mustafa Kemal called upon Damad Ferid to resign with his entire cabinet.

The capture of Konieh and the retirement of Damad Ferid's cabinet in response to the ultimatum will, it is thought, give fresh impetus to the Nationalist movement and increase the dangers of the situation, even though the country may not be able to support important military operations. Some papers believe that massacres are almost sure to follow the present anarchy and that even the throne is threatened by latest developments in Turkey.

The noon papers regard the cabinet change as a last warning to the Supreme Council and ask whether it is time for a superficial investigation as to the will of the population of Asia Minor.

COMPELLED TO SALUTE FLAG AND SING ANTHEM

Swift Current, Sask., Oct. 6.—P. M. Friessen, Reeve of the rural municipality of Rush Lake, was taken in hand by the citizens, following the departure of the Prince of Wales, and compelled to salute the flag and sing God Save the King. The alleged action of Friessen which caused the trouble was his neglect to bare his head when he stood on the reception platform as the band struck up the national anthem. Chief Inspector Parker, of Scotland Yard, who is with the Prince's party, reprimanded him.

Italy may soon be freed of Fiume nightmare.

PARLIAMENT'S SPECIAL WORK IS ABOUT ENDED

Introduction of Important Legislation Dealing With Certain Features of Ry. Situation Will Delay Prorogation.

GRAND TRUNK MATTERS COME UP

Parliamentary Committees Are Working Hard and With Success and Have About Completed Their Tasks.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Introduction of important legislation enabling the government to deal with certain features of the railway situation will likely delay prorogation of parliament until the middle of next week. The legislation is likely to have a direct bearing upon the government's negotiations for the acquisition of the Grand Trunk, and it is also likely that a measure will be introduced amending the exchequer court act in a manner to give the court fuller powers in dealing with a receivership, such as that which exists in the case of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Introduction of this legislation is likely to give rise to an important debate, and, incidentally, may serve to disclose to the public the precise position of the long drawn out negotiations with the Grand Trunk Railway. The proceedings in the house today were mostly trivial in character. On a question of privilege, Mr. St. Hughes told of his thoughts and actions in the great war; Mr. D. D. McKenzie made a futile attempt to stir up a scandal over an alleged attempt of certain Ontario canners to sell the British government cans filled with water and pebbles instead of with beans; and a number of Maritime oppositionists, temporarily fermenting about their devotion to economy, urged construction of branch line railways in their constituencies.

Parliamentary committees, however, are working hard and with success. The committee of soldiers' dependents is making excellent progress. Present pensions provisions are inadequate. The war service gratuity was distributed in such a way that those who needed it most, often got the least. Soldier Settlement Act benefits only go to a limited class of agriculturally trained men. A comparatively small number of men benefited by vocational training, and, as administered, students have only minimum chance of success.

Canada Able to Take Care of Self

Republican Senator in U. S. Congress Says Great Britain Cannot and Will Not Control Vote of Canada.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—Denying that Great Britain and her colonies would have six votes in the League of Nations to vote for the United States, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, charged in the Senate today that Senators advocating the amendment by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, proposing to limit the voting power of the British colonies, were fanning popular prejudice with an unfounded appeal.

As a substitute for the Johnson amendment, Senator McCumber urged his proposed reservation to exclude British colonies from participating in the League in disputes involving the Mother Country, or each other.

Senator McCumber said the argument of Senator Johnson, and other supporters of the Johnson amendment was "too absurd to be true," and asked why France, Italy and other nations did not raise objections to "putting their heads in the lion's mouth."

"Great Britain cannot and will not control the vote of Canada," Senator McCumber said. "I would like to put this question straight to the American people," has not Canada a fully governing, independent dominion, earned by her sacrifices in blood and treasure through forces of this bloody war, a right to a seat in the Assembly that would give her a voice, an effort equal to Haiti, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Salvador or Venezuela.

King Albert Pays Fitting Tribute To Valorous Deeds of Canadians

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 6.—"The Canadians in Flanders were always in tight places, but they always held their ground." This was the tribute of the fighting King of the Belgians to Canada's overseas army, as expressed in conversation with the Hon. N. W. Rowell, who received King Albert and his party, on behalf of the Governor General and Government of Canada, when they made a flying visit to this side of the Falls today.

In reply to the invitation of the Governor General to make a visit to Ottawa, His Majesty said he regretted that time and arrangements would not permit of the acceptance of this.

GREAT WAR VETERANS' CASE IS PRESENTED TO HOUSE COMM. BY COUNSEL FOR THE VETS.

Makes Many Recommendations for Equalizing Benefits and Aiding Those Most in Need and Deserving—Present Pensions Are Inadequate.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The case of the Great War Veterans was presented to the special house committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment by the members of the G. W. V. A. advisory committee this evening. The house committee has been anxious to get the G. W. V. A. representatives before them.

Mr. C. M. MacNeil, who had acted as G. W. V. A. counsel, dealt with the evidence submitted to the committee. He submitted that the re-establishment measures have not equally provided all members of the Canadian forces with reasonable opportunities to overcome handicaps.

Further provisions for dependents is a necessity, and a large number of dependents are left unprovided for. Present pensions provisions are inadequate. The war service gratuity was distributed in such a way that those who needed it most, often got the least. Soldier Settlement Act benefits only go to a limited class of agriculturally trained men.

Controversy Between Rival Claimants Will Have a Hearing Today in London.

London, Oct. 6.—The controversy between rival claimants for the honor of having invented the army tank, used with such signal success in the Great War, will have a hearing before the British commission on awards to inventors tomorrow. Eleven claimants will appear before the commission. Winston Churchill, Minister of War, will be among the witnesses called to the stand in an effort to settle the controversy.

AMENDMENTS TO THE LIND ACT OF DOMINION

The Conclusion of Peace Make it Necessary to Provide Certain Specified Amendments.

MR. MCKENZIE SPILLS THE BEANS

Wants to Know All About Dominion Canners and What They Put up for Pork and Beans.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Allegations that the soldiers at the front were supplied with adulterated canned food by the Dominion Canners of Hamilton and Simcoe were made in the House today.

Mr. D. D. McKenzie, leader of the opposition, said he was informed that cans supplied by this company, and supposedly containing pork and beans for consumption of the troops, were found on opening to contain rotten beans, a proportion of pebbles, and no pork at all. He understood that in the aggregate the stones which were found in the canned goods supplied by this company would probably be some cart-loads.

How About Beans. The discussion of canned goods arose on the presentation of a motion by the leader of the opposition calling for the production of all papers and correspondence having any bearing on contracts between the government and the Dominion Canners, Limited. Mr. McKenzie read a series of letters to show that there were pebbles in cans supposed to contain pork and beans. There was evidence, he said, that stuff had been canned which should not have been sent as human food to any person, much less to the boys at the front. He asked for the fullest investigation, stating that he understood evidence in support of the charges had been laid with the Attorney-General of Ontario, but that no action had been taken.

The Minister of Justice said he had no knowledge of a contract between the government and the Dominion Canners, but understood that the company had a contract with the British government. There had, he thought, been complaints with regard to quantities furnished, but did not know that stones had been included in the cans. The resolution for production of papers was carried.

Dominion Lands Act. A bill to amend the Dominion Lands Act was considered in committee of the whole at the evening sitting. Hon. Arthur Meighen explained that certain amendments to the Act were necessary by the conclusion of peace. Provisions applicable to returned soldiers' entries, which were in force by virtue of the War Measures Act, were continued in the amendments. One clause provided that returned soldiers' entries should have one day's priority over those of civilians. Another clause provided that the ordinary rule compelling a man who had an entry to go into residence within six months or a year after receiving his patent, should not apply to returned men.

The minister explained that sometimes, owing to disabilities, soldiers were unable to go into residence on land within any specified time. The bill was reported.

SIBERIAN ARMIES UNDER KOLCHAK HAVE ADVANCED 75 MILES ON WHOLE FRONT

Fifteen Thousand Prisoners, a Hundred Machine Guns and Twenty-One Heavy Cannon Have Been Captured in This Movement Commenced Sept. 1st—Voluntary Enlistment Among Refugees Behind the Lines Increases.

Omsk, Sept. 28.—The advance of the Siberian armies under Admiral Kolchak since the resumption of the offensive on September first has been carried out with a few reversals to a distance averaging seventy-five miles along the whole front. The advance of several portions of the line has been made against serious resistance, counterattacks at the Kolchak troops have proved their meagre in this fighting.

Fifteen thousand prisoners, a hundred machine guns and twenty-one heavy cannon have been captured in this movement, by which the armies of Admiral Kolchak brought their retreat to an end.

At present the front of the army touches the Tobol River, fifteen miles south of the town of Yainovsk. The railway crosses the Tobol River. From this point northward the front bends back to the eastward, but the enemy has been pushed back seventy miles from the railroad centre Ishim at the nearest point of approach. ## CONTESTS TO MARK WEST. CO. ELECTIONS

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Oct. 6.—This was nomination day for the municipal elections in Westmorland county, and the indications are tonight that there will be contests in four parishes, while the other three parishes will go by acclamation. In Moncton parish, where there is a contest, the candidates are C. B. Keith and Fred Bourgeois, old councillors, and A. J. Wilson and Job Renton, both new men.

In Shediac a novel contest is on. The old councillors A. T. LeBlanc and Wm. Murray, who were elected on the same ticket last time, have each selected a new running mate and are opposing each other. John Hodgins is running with LeBlanc and Max Richard is the colleague of Murray.

In Dorchester two tickets were nominated, Simon Melanson, old councillor, and Hazen Farrer compose one ticket, and Hubert Palmer, a returned soldier, and Elou Legere the other.

In Sackville, C. C. Campbell, A. C. Fawcett, F. L. Estabrooks and Burwash Robins were nominated. In Westmorland Alex. Carter and Thorold Wells, both new, have no opposition.

The old councillors in Botsford, T. M. Gould and W. J. Allen go by acclamation. In Salisbury Warden J. W. Carter and U. Z. King, former councillors, are unopposed.

The voting in the municipal elections in Albert takes place tomorrow. Great interest is being taken in the contest in the Parish of Coverdale where Lewis Smith, M. L. A., and John W. Gaskin are being opposed by S. H. Ryan, ex-M. L. A., and Lane Colpitta.

MYSTERY NOW SURROUNDS VIMY RIDGE TREASURE

Of Such Import That Militia Department is to Investigate Discovery of Sum of Gold.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—A story of buried treasure on Vimy Ridge is under investigation by the Militia Department. The treasure, a sum of money in gold, is said to have been buried on La Folle Farm on the top of Vimy Ridge. Subsequently, it is claimed, the money was found by Canadian soldiers while digging in a gun and handed over by them to their superior officer.
