Ayers Cherry Pectoral keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fittal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, Cherry Protoat is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts specifily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Yesterday Capt. McKay reported that his Warm Spring Indians had taken four scalps. This may be the whole or it may be only a portion of the killed, the Modocs being very careful to destroy as far as possible all traces of their casualties, carrying their wounded into the caves and directions.

Justice to the memory of BURNING THE DEAD been seen so far. Justice to the memory of the Gallant Dead Compels the record of the following facts, which are well authenticated: When Capt. Thomas found himself and men surrounded by his vindictive foe, true to his nature as a soldier, he sought to cheer the soldiers on to the bitter end, and obtain, if possible, life for life, and to sell their lives dearly, saying, "Men, we are surrounded. We must fight and die like men and soldiers." In his noble efforts to sustain the courage of his small command he was ably secondefi by Lieut. Howe and Lieut. Wright. After receiving a mortal wound he buried his gold watch and chain among the rocks and emptied his revolver amongst the enemy before dying. Ifflying, he would also write in terms of well-deserved praise of the conduct of Lieut. Howe, who was similarly situated. Capt. Thomas, with a portion of Battery K, the Artillery, set an example of bravery.

The reinforcements sent out under Col. Green, together with the killed and wounded, are expected momentarily. A heavy rain is now falling, which is beneficial to the poor wounded men in alleviating their sufferings and relieving their feverish limbs. Their arrival is anxiously looked for by their more fortunate comrades in camp. Every preparation is made for their proper reception. When the news of the massacre reached camp, the soldiers who had grown old and gray in the service wept like babies at the fate of their officers and comrades.

The surface of the ground in many places is torn up by volcanic action, which form crevices, and these are adaptable to purposes of hiding or defence. In several instances the soldiers, knowing nothing of the topography, have come unawares on such fissures, and before they could escape were confronted by a wily Indian, with rifle leveled and finger on the trigger. To Mrs. Waterspury.—Dear Madam,—I desire to add my testimony to your already Celebrated Dinner Pills. During my whole life time, until about six years ago, I was severely afflicted with Indigection, Biliousness and all their attendant evils. I had tried many medicines, and got but temporary relief. At the time above mentioned, I was advised to try your Pil s; I did so for three months, according to directions: since that time I have had no occasion to take any medicine, and have enjoyed good health.
