The Transcript

Published every Thursday morning from The Transcript Building, Main Street, Glencoe, Ontario. Subscription—In Canada, $2.00 per year; in the United States and other foreign countries, $2.50 per year.

Advertising.—The Transcript covers a wide section of territory in Western Ontario, and its readers are the leading farmers and townspeople. It is a first-class advertising medium. Rates on application.

Job Printing.—The Jobbing Department has superior equipment for turning out promptly books, pamphlets, circulars, posters, blank forms, programs, cards, envelopes, office and wedding stationery, etc. A. E. Sutherland, Publisher.

SAFETY WHILE ASLEEP.—I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep; for thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.—Psalm 4:8.

Thursday night's fire has once again revived the agitation for better protection from the "devouring element." These columns are always open for suggestions; let us have them. One thing to be kept in view is a good water supply. Without this the best fire engine made would be useless.

The Glencoe Horticultural Society is giving evidence of its usefulness by placing large vases of flowering plants and foliage at several of the principal street corners. Now, if the town fathers would have the weeds cut and citizens generally tidy up in front of their premises it would lessen the incongruity of things. Let the good example set by the horticultural society take root and flourish.

Street-corner gossip has it that an erstwhile respectable and useful citizen of the community sold no less than eighty gallons of "moonshine" within three days. And there has not been lacking evidence that gossip had some foundation to work on. We use the word "respectable" because no member of the community who disregards the laws of his country can lay claim to respectability.

A Western exchange says:—The "fussy" gent who worked out the present comical cost of arms for Canada received a reward of $6,000. Dr. Saunders, who produced Marquis wheat and devoted his life to the benefit of the farmers of Canada, received a meagre $2,000 on his retirement. Such is the appreciation of man to man. Anything masquerading under the semblance of patriotism will sure loosen the purse strings.

Two Nova Scotia men have started out to roll a 90-lb. barrel each from Amherst to Vancouver, "just to show that it can be done." We hope when they get through that they will have had enough experience in barrel rolling to get them a useful job. We saw the scavengers rolling barrels onto a wagon the other day who no doubt would like some help. And there would be two idle fools less whom the workers of the world would have to feed and clothe.

The human mind is both receptive and elastic. It adapts itself to any and all conditions. Life a hundred years ago was merely slower and certainly much duller than now. How many of us are there who would care to set back the hands of time to the "good old days" of ignorance? People were happy then since they knew no better. Just as we are fairly happy now, knowing nothing of the revelations that will make our own existence of today look as dull and uninteresting as that of our forebears.—London Daily Express.

The all-important subject of the proposed Carnegie Library appears to be one occupying the minds of our citizens at the present moment, especially as after this year ends all opportunity of securing the grant of $5,000 or any portion of it will be lost forever. It will therefore readily be seen that a grave responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the library board and upon the town fathers. In such an age as the present, when the craving for reading is on the increase and almost insatiable, when the love of reading is rooted in the human soul, it is in vain to tell the people not to read

Dread of Asthma makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return, and even when brief, respite is given the mind is still in torment from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are ward off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

How Brantford Asphalt Slates

are Waterproofed and Armor-Plated

Crushed slate in its natural colors (dark red or green) is deeply embedded into and encrusted on the weather surface. This makes it waterproof.

A heavy waterproof coating of our own special blend of asphalts. Water cannot possibly penetrate it. It is flexible enough to prevent cracking.

The body is tough, long-fibred rag felt, thoroughly saturated with an asphalt refined to Brantford Roofing Standards.

They will not crack—
They will not curl

Brantford Asphalt Slates are distributed under Brantford Roofing trade marks, through Brantford Roofing dealers. Stock carried, information furnished, service rendered by our dealer in your district. Write for our Booklet, "Permanent Roofing Satisfaction." Mailed free to responsible parties.

An Entire Trainload of Studebaker Cars

Shipped From Canada to Great Britain

On June 27, one entire trainload of Studebaker automobiles was shipped from the Studebaker factories at Walkerville, Ontario, to the port of Montreal, where it was trans-shipped to Great Britain.

All over the world Studebaker popularity is manifest. From the Studebaker factories at Walkerville, cars are daily shipped to many parts of the world. Canadian workmen are helping to make this a "Studebaker Year" around the world, just as Canadian appreciation is making it a "Studebaker Year" in Canada.

Widespread recognition of the superior value and quality of Studebaker cars has developed an unusual popularity for Studebaker products.

"There Goes the Last Train!"

Long Distance to the Rescue

"What shall we do, George? There goes the last train, and the children will be alone all night. We simply can't have that; Betty is such a nervous child, and Bobby's always hunting for matches to make Indian bonfires with. It's dreadful!"

"Well, Mary, you can't get home to-night. That's all there is to it."

"But we must do something. They may set the house on fire."

"Listen! Here's the drug-store. We'll call up Annie by Long Distance and ask her to go over and stay with the children."

"Oh, what a relief!"

Simple isn't it? Long Distance is the friend in need, always at hand, always ready to put you in touch with family, friends and business.
