Matheson and Herman Elected

Dave Matheson

Joan Herman

Dalhousie students elected Dave Matheson and Joan Herman to the two highest positions on the campus in yesterday's elections. Matheson defeated Bruce Willis by 286 votes while his running-mate, Joan Herman, also won by a sizeable majority of 229 votes over Nigel Gray.

In other elections Julia Gosling defeated Sandy Clarke by a large majority in the race for the presidency of the Dalhousie Glee and Dramatic Society. Sid Oland was elected vice-president and Phoebe Redpath, secretary.

First year Law student, Stu MacKinnon, defeated Commerce man Lew Smith in the contest for NFCUS chairman.

Murray Dewis was re-elected president of DAAC, defeating Stu MacInnis by a majority of 172 votes. Steve Thompson will occupy the post of DAAC vice-president with Ted Wickwire as secretary - treasurer. Judy Wilson will head DGAC with Janet Sinclair as vice-president. Peggy Baker was earlier elected secretary by acclamation.

Representatives elected to the Council from the various faculties include: from Arts & Science, Senior Girl, Judith Bennett; Senior Boy, Peter Outhit; Junior Girl, Phoebe Redpath; Junior Boy, Wally Turnbull; Sophomore Representative, Pam Dewis. Commerce elected Martin Farnsworth; Law, Jack Davison; Pharmacy, Dick Wedge and Engineering Carl Day. Issac Boniuk and Byron Reid will represent Medicine. George Travis was elected by acclamation from Dentistry.

Marg Sinclair will lead the girls of the campus as Delta Gamma president. Helen Muir defeated Elliot Sutherland by 3 votes for the post of secretary-treasurer of that organization in what appears to have been the closest contest of the election.

Meds and Dalcom Elect Executives

Medicine and Commerce elected their society executives in yesterday's election.

Norris Carroll will head the Med Society. Lalia Dauphinee was elected vice-president, Kempton Hayes, treasurer, and Zoena Jordan, secretary. Mike MacKinnon is Junior CAMSI representative and Roland Perry DAAC representative.

The newly elected Dalcom president is John Wood. Ann MacCallum will occupy the post of secretary with Al Beattie as comptroller. Joanne Diachuck was appointed Managing Director by acclamation. Dave Mann will handle publicity for the company while Bill White will represent Commerce on the DAAC executive.

Other societies will elect their executives at their own meetings, probably within the next two weeks.
