

Twenty Long Years

Mrs. Wallbridge Suffered Pain.

The Pain All Left Her After She Had Taken a Few Pellets of

MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE

She Recommends This Remedy to Every Sufferer as a Sure Cure for Rheumatism—It Cures to Stay Cured—Valuable in Violent Changes of Temperature.

"A simple remedy is better at the beginning of the disease than a council of doctors at the critical stage."—MUNYON.

"As the evidence of Mrs. Wallbridge indicates, my Rheumatism Remedy will cure Chronic Rheumatism speedily and permanently. It will also cure long-standing cases of lumbago, sciatica, lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back, and all pains in the hips and loins in a short time. Where it is possible, I also recommend my Rheumatism Cure in the earlier stages of the disease, so that the injury to the system that results from chronic or continued Rheumatism may be prevented. I would strongly advise you to look after yourself, particularly when we are experiencing violent changes of temperature. This is rheumatism weather. And if you do not check those twinges of pain, temporary aches, and stiffness, you will probably develop chronic or some form of painful rheumatism. Try a vial of my Rheumatism Cure. Its cost is not much. I know that it will cure you."—Munyon.

MRS. WALLBRIDGE.

"I have suffered with Rheumatism for twenty long years. And the pains at times would be terrible. My shoulder gave me the most distress, and my hands would sometimes swell up. I tried doctors and advertised remedies, but never received very much relief. I obtained a vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure at the free distribution held at The News Office, and I am thankful I did. The pain has left me. I consider Munyon's Rheumatism Cure a wonderful remedy. Anyone who desires to get cured of rheumatism I would recommend them to try it. I believe Munyon's Rheumatism Cure will cure the most obstinate case." Mrs. Wallbridge, 23 Elmwood Avenue, Toronto, Dec. 15th, 1902.

IN BORROWED PLUMAGE.

Well Dressed Women Who Wear Goods Sent on Approval.

When the ways of some women are considered, it is less remarkable that such numbers of women dwelling in the large cities dress extravagantly than before their methods of securing rich costumes for all occasions have been scrutinized.

There are women, and many of them very wealthy, who make a regular practice of having elegant garments sent to their homes on approval, wearing them once and then returning them to stores or costumers. Some women will wear a dress or a cloak to the opera and send it back next morning. Or they will get a hat or wrap or driving or visiting in it. The average person would be astonished to know all the things, from handsome umbrellas and fans of great beauty to jewelry and clothes, that some women borrow from the shops.

Of course all of these women are not well off, but they all dress well and go out a great deal, and although the shopkeepers often discover the manner in which they are being deceived, they do not always like to make a fuss for fear of losing a good customer. Besides they know that if they incur the enmity of such importers the women are quite capable of abusing their goods and robbing them of other and more honest customers. Strange as it may seem, these women generally mingle in pretty good society, or the fringes of it, and have some influence in the matter of dress, since they have won the reputation of always dressing elegantly and in the newest things.

This sort of imposition had been carried on so often by a customer of a certain large firm that its members determined to put a stop to her haunting about in borrowed plumage, at least when the plumage belonged to them. One Saturday this woman had a splendid wrap sent home on approval, and on Sunday one of the head clerks of the firm who knew Mrs. Blank as the offender stationed himself near her pew in the fashionable church which she attended. When she sailed down the aisle after service, resplendent in the borrowed cloak, this man stepped up to her and said:

"How do you do, Mrs. Blank? I am delighted to see that you like our cloak well enough to keep it."

Of course after that she could not return the cloak.

Still, with all the efforts put forward by shops and costumers to break up the pernicious habit of forcible borrowing on the part of sundry feminine customers, the practice goes merrily on, and many a fair dame with an enviable reputation for exquisite dressing appears but once in garments and hats that when next seen are bedecking another woman or hanging in the show-room of some smart shop.

Barred Out Immigrants.

Uncle Sam has a black list of birds and quadrupeds which it is absolutely prohibited to introduce into this country, says the Chatham Daily Planet. The mongoose, the flying fox and the starling are on the list. The mongoose is a species of ferret, a native of India, where it is domesticated as a sort of animal rat trap and snake destroyer. It was introduced into Jamaica to get rid of the sugar cane rats. These exterminated, however, the mongoose went on to diet off the insect destroying birds, with the result that the crops have been devastated by insects in some sections of the island. The animal is exceedingly crafty, nocturnal in its habits and evades traps with ease. The flying fox, known also as the fruit bat, is a voracious harvester of fruits and vegetables. The starling belongs to the crow family.

Barred Out Immigrants.

"How did the doctor tell you to take the medicine, Larry—internally or externally?"

"Neither way, sor."

"But it must have been one or the other."

"Divil a bit, sor. Nayther way."

"But look here, Larry; that's absurd. It must have been one or the other, you know."

"Nayther way, I tell ye. He tould me to snuff it up me nose."

Animals and Alcohol.

Many animals yield to the seduction of rum drinking, especially elephants, horses, cows and swine. Poultry, especially turkeys, will absorb the tempting drink till they tumble over in leaden sleep, lying around as if dead and utterly ignoring their accustomed roost. On awakening they stagger for a few moments and soon recover, but it is hours before they renew their cheerful cackling.

Their Last.

"Yes," remarked the sad looking stranger, "I have seen the last of many a good man."

"Doctor or undertaker?" queried the man behind the white apron.

"Neither," replied he of the sad looks. "I'm a shoemaker."

A Deep Thought.

"In a brown study, eh?"

"Yes, I was just thinking."

"Thinking what?"

"I was just wondering why a fellow never has as much trouble borrowing trouble as the trouble he has borrowing other things."

BARGAIN BABIES.

If babies were for sale the most inveterate bargain-hunting woman in the world would not look for a bargain baby. She would want the best baby that could be bought, regardless of price.

Every woman naturally craves a healthy, handsome child, and her craving can be gratified if she will but remember that the child's health is her own gift, and to give health she must have it to give. Mothers whose babies have been weak and puny have nursed in strength their first strong child after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the best preparative for maternity, encouraging the appetite, quieting the nerves and inducing refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"My wife had been sick nearly all her life," says Mr. E. B. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Illinois, Box 357, "and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I got six bottles, and my wife took a few drops three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. Today he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also says the use of your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for the use of delicate women.

PROMISE OF THE WEST.

Nearly One Thousand Arrivals at Winnipeg Yesterday.

Winnipeg, April 15.—An immigrant special, consisting of twelve passenger cars and a baggage car, arrived yesterday afternoon. It had on board 250 English, 50 Galicians, 80 Germans, 20 Italians, 20 Hungarians and 15 Roumanians. All were passengers by the Lake Ontario and the Sicilian.

At 4 a.m. yesterday an immigrant special with 100 English and 200 foreign settlers, arrived. About two hundred settlers arrived from the south. The day's arrivals totalled nearly one thousand.

The Saskatchewan caterers believe in making hay while the sun shines. It has been reported to the Department of Immigration here that $1 in being charged for meals at that point. Immediately on this being known, Commissioner Smith arranged with the C. P. R. to ship some boarding cars there. Good meals will be supplied by this arrangement at 25 cents per meal.

A Saskatoon despatch received here says a heavy train of stock and settlers arrived there last night from Minnesota and Dakota. This morning another train of settlers' effects, with crowded cars, arrived. A train loaded with supplies for the Barr colony is also expected during the night.

It works both ways—the clock's pendulum.

DEATH FROM POISON.

Medical Records Show that Uric Acid in the Blood is a Swift Agent of Death.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Wonder-Working Spring Medicine is the Only Reliable Blood Purifier.

In the springtime deaths from poison—uric acid in the blood—are common. This malignant poison which should be expelled by the kidneys, is diffused through the blood, and when allowed to remain in the system, proves fatal. Thousands of men and women around us are now suffering from kidney-poisoned blood. Loss of nerve force, failure of appetite, nausea, constipation, pains in the back and side and depression of spirits, indicate that uric acid is doing its terrible work.

For such a condition in springtime, there is but one sure, tried and unfailing remedy; it is Paine's Celery Compound, which promptly restores the kidneys to health and enables them to perform their functions. With the kidneys in proper condition, there cannot remain the slightest trace of uric acid in the blood. Mr. Frank Palmer, Winnipeg, Man., writes about his wonderful cure as follows:

"Last year I was so ill that my family almost gave up all hope of my recovery. Kidney complaint, constipation and general weakness had almost wrecked my life. My blood was full of uric acid, and medical men told me my condition was such that they could not give me any decided hope. My wife finally decided to have me use Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle produced such encouraging results that I continued the use of the compound. After the fourth bottle was used I was almost myself again. Six bottles completely cured me and raised me up again to attend to my daily work. I am satisfied that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life. It is better medicine than the regular doctor can give us in times of sickness. I always recommend it."

THE TYRANNY OF LABOR.

MANUFACTURERS LISTEN TO STRONG ADDRESS.

Pledge Themselves to Assist in the Formation of a Non-Union Organization—Tariff Revision.

New Orleans, April 15.—The National Association of Manufacturers, representing hundreds of millions of invested American capital, began yesterday what is expected to be the most important annual convention in the history of the organization. The largely increased representation from various manufacturing States of the north was declared to be largely due to the labor question. Governor Heard and the Mayor welcomed the delegates. Marshall Cushing, National Secretary, read his annual report. It showed an increase in membership of 100 per cent. during the year, and a satisfactory financial condition.

C. W. Fose of Battle Creek, Mich., delivered an address on "The Tyranny of Trades Unions." He said in part:—"There may have been some brutal and tyrannous slave-owners in the South, but I ask you if ever in all the history of negro slavery did there exist such a condition of oppression, cruelty to men, women and children, terror, anarchy, beatings and murder, as now exists under the acts of desperate members of 'labor unions' in the gradual solution of the wage question and the establishment of the rights of both parties, labor unions became a necessity in order to curb the selfishness and injustice of some manufacturers, but such violent and desperate excesses have crept into the operation of labor unions that the establishment of a new union eliminating the faults of the old. I protest against unnatural acts such as curtailment of production by the manufacturers to force lower wages on the employee, or by strikes to force higher wages on the employer. The conditions must be governed by the natural law of commerce."

Numerous resolutions were introduced and referred to a committee without debate, among them being the following: Endorsing the organization of non-union workers and pledging the association to their support, pledging the support and assistance of labor to investigate and attempt to adjust the labor troubles of members, and to endeavor to organize and promote a non-union workers' association, to be known as the "Workmen's Liberty Union," urging tariff revision on general living measures to increase the elasticity of the currency."

Objected to Free Press.

John Knapp of the St. Louis Republican had little use for press agents, and it took a mighty shrewd man to get a free puff from him. He never would publish a lawyer's or a doctor's name if he could avoid it, for fear they might derive some benefit from the free advertisement. It is said that one morning mention was made in the Republican—they call it the Republic now—of a man having died of Bright's disease. Old man Knapp hunted up the proofreader and called him into the private office.

"Why did you let that get into the paper?" asked the old man, indicating with his forefinger the objectionable paragraph.

"I don't see but that's all right," said the reader.

"You don't, eh?" snapped old man Knapp. "You don't, eh? Do you think we want to advertise that man Bright for nothing? He never had an ad. in this paper in his life."

Courage in Elephants.

An elephant with a good mahout gives perhaps the best instance of disciplined courage—courage, that is, which persists in the face of knowledge and disinclination—to be seen in the animal world. They will submit day after day to have painful wounds dressed in obedience to their keeper and meet danger in obedience to orders, though their intelligence is sufficient to understand the peril and far too great for man to trick them into a belief that it is nonexistent. No animal will face danger more readily at man's bidding—London Spectator.

A Blessing in Disguise.

Towne—Look at that poor blind beggar playing the accordion.
Brown—Yes, and he's deaf too.
Towne—Gracious! Isn't that awful!
Brown—Oh, I don't know. Just think how much he'd have to suffer if he wasn't deaf; he'd have to listen to his music.

Superfluities.

The Man—Let me sell you this new and very interesting work.
The Other Man—I don't need to. My barber bought one last week.

And Rich as Well.
