Sabbath Morning.

BY ALLAN CUNNINGRAM Dear is the ballowed morn to me. When village bells awake the day; And, by their sacred minstrelsy, Call me from earthly cares away

And dear to me the winged bour. Spent in thy ballowed courts. O Lord To feel devotion's soothing power, And catch the manna of thy word.

Which echoes through the blest abode, Which swells and sinks, and swells again, Dies on the walls, but lives to God.

Sung with the pomp of village art; That holy, heavenly melody, The music of a thankful heart,

In secret I have often prayed, And still the anxious tear would fall But on thy sacred altar laid, The fire descends, and dries them all,

Oft when the world with iron bands. Has bound in its six-days' chain. This bursts them, like the strong man's band : And lets my spirit loose again. Then dear to me the Sabbath morn

The village bells, the shepherd's voice: These oft have found my heart forlorn. And always bid that heart rejoice.

Go, man of pleasure, strike thy lyre, Of broken Sabbaths sing the charms; Ours be the prophet's car of fire, That bears us to a Father's arms.
