CONVENTION RENOUNCED.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Sept. 13.—Dispatches from Geneva state that the French government has renounced the Franco-Swiss commercial convention of 1906. It explains that this is due to the Entente policy to put an end to all commercial treaties in which the most favored nation clause exists with a view to preventing the enemy from benefitting after the war.

EX-NAVAL CHIEF MURDERED.

Stockholm, Thursday, Sept. 12. — Roar Admiral A. V. Razvosoff, former commander-in-chief of the Russian naval forces in the Baltic, was murdered in Petrograd yesterday according to a dispatch from Helsingfors.

SAVE GASOLINE.

Many Brantfordites appear to be under the impression that the "request" of the fuel controller in regard to the conservation of gasoline on Sundays is a matter which may be observed or not. This is erroneous. If the request is not regarded, an order prohibiting the use of automobiles on Sundays will be forthwith issued. A despatch from Detroit states the situation there: "Entirely satisfied with the manner in which the last autoless Sunday was observed throughout the country," is the verdict of prominent motorists. Motorists are being asked to save every available drop of gasoline ordinarily wasted in handling, as well as to refrain from keeping the engines running while cars are stopped, the latter aiming particularly at truck drivers.

Rippling Rhymes

HELPING THE HUN.

You help the Hun if you are prone to dodge food regulations, if you put up a dismal groan when'e you view the rations. The loyal fellow does not swerve from rules laid down by Hoover; he blithely follows every curve and by-law and manoeuver. You help the Hun when you repeat dire stories of disaster; you pick up rumors of defeat, and make them travel faster. It is the Kaiser's standard trick, to keep such rumors brewin', to make our hearts and spirits sick through tales of death and ruin. You would not willfully assist this would be Alexander, but thoughtlessly you help, I wist, to spread his propagander. You help the Hun when you complain of what the war is costing; the patriot who's safe and sane will find no load exhausting. What if demands on you are hie? What if you're always busted? While you've a penny still to dig, you shouldn't be disgusted. You're buying freedom with the cash you shell for bonds and taxes, and Kultur's dome you help to smash, as though with battle axes. It's easy work to help the Hun, by snarling and repining, by being stingy with your mon, by heeling and by whining. And legions do it every day whose anger would be royal, if we should point with scorn and say they are not truly loyal.
