MAN NOT BORN TO READ.

That is the Reason He is Compelled to Wear Glasses.

Many of the commonest physical de fects of civilized man are due to an imperfect adaptation of his body to new conditions of life. Nearsightedness is an example.

C. W. Safeeby, the English writer on scientific subjects, says that all the talk about the degeneration of the human eye is "undiluted nonsense." The truth is that "man was not born to read." An instrument made for seeing long distances is forced to accommodate it-self to little marks and signs on a piece of paper. Says Dr. Saleeby, "The eye which we have inherited from our an-cestors is one that is used without effort at long range, merely containing within it an apparatus enabling it at the cost of nervous and muscular effort to be used at short range."

The general need of glasses aris from the necessity in modern life of the use of the eyes at short distances. If the eve were naturally focused upon near objects the advantage, as Dr. Saleeby admits, would be great. However, he continues, "If one started to make a list of the bodily characters of man which the amazing development of his intelligence has rendered more or less appropriate to his needs than originally one would require a vol

GAY FUNERAL RITES.

Curious Ceremonies That Accompany Cremation in Siam.

The funerals of young unmarried la-dies in Brazil are grewsomely gay, so to speak. The color of the coffin is bright scarlet, and bright scarlet, too are the hearse, the livery of the driver the harness and the plumes that nod on the heads of the horses.

But for a gay funeral we must go to the cremation of the dead in Siam.
When the body is that of a prince the proceedings are most elaborate. Gold carriages galore abound, and the pyre is ultimately lighted by the king him-self with candles which have been ig-nited at the sacred lamps in the temples of his palace, which burn night and day. The lighting of the funeral pyre is followed up with sports and the lotus dance. The king promotes the mirth by tossing limes to the peo-ple, by whom they are eagerly fought for, as inserted in each are current coins of the realm. Darkness having at length failen over the land, fire-works and gay illuminations conclude these curious funeral rites.

The Word Etiquette.

The very high sounding word etiquette had a very humble origin, for etiquette meant simply a label. It received its present signification from the fact that a Scotch gardener who laid out the grounds at Versailles for Louis XIV. was much annoyed at the courtiers walking over his newly made paths and at length had labels placed to indicate where they might pass. At first these labels were not attended to, but a hint from high quarters that in future the walks of the courtiers must be within the "etiquettes" or labels was promptly attended to. To keep within the etiquettes became the correct thing. The meaning of the phrase

Making Money by the Clock. It has been figured out by able statis-ticians that Mr. Rockefeller grows $1.90 richer every time the clock ticks. Some men who care for money might be tempted to oil the clock and nake it tick faster, but Mr. Rockefeller isn't that kind of a man. Rumor hath it, too, that he can buy his oil at wholesale rates, but that doesn't tempt him. At his age his wants are simple, and he knows that at $1.90 a tick he can get everything he wants without having to buy anything on tick.

Suppose he did happen to see suppose ne did nappen to see some-thing that he wanted and found him-self about $10 short. All he would have to do would be to fool around five or six minutes pretending to in-vestigate its merits and at the end of that time he would have made enough so that he could safely tell the clerk to wrap it up.
