Have you seen the perfumery window at the Drug Store?

Mr. Jas. Jones, who has been in Halifax for some weeks preparing for the medical examinations, passed the board successfully as master, and has returned to his home in Wolfville. We congratulate Mr. Jones on his success.

Examine the three star nursing bottle. It's perfection. No tubes to clean.

The first quarterly session of the Grand Division, S. of T., will be held at Fort Williams, Kings Co., on Wednesday the 29th inst. The date originally fixed was the 29th, but had to be changed to suit the convenience of western members as the local train arrangements interfered with the attendance on that date.

A large attendance is expected. The returns, it is understood, indicate large additions to membership, increasing interest, a healthy condition of the Order all over the Province.

For something in the hair and tooth brush line call at the Drug Store.

The meeting of the Week of Prayer held on Wednesday evening was devoted to Prayer for Nations. It was especially interesting. Rev. Mr. Fraser, the leader, delivered a thoughtful address and was followed by a lengthy speech of Rev. Mr. Donovan's. The latter gentleman did not agree with the hopeful views of the chairman but seemed to wish great changes to be made. Indeed he seemed almost to think all human government useless if not worse. He did not encourage prayer for the rulers in some of the governments would be for the good of the people.

Try a bottle of Rand's Emulsion for that cough and run down feeling. It is a valuable emulsion. Very palatable, easily digested.

Death of Angus S. Murray.

Mr. Angus Murray died at his home in Wolfville last Sunday evening. When he moved here with his family a few months ago, he realized that the end was not far off. He came to Wolfville where he had spent seven years of his life in business, to spend the last days of his life. Though expecting the end, the news of his death was a shock to the townspeople, who knew him so well and esteemed him so highly. A man of splendid business ability, public spirit and sterling character, his death is deeply felt by all who knew him.

Mr. Murray was born in Pictou in 1855. When a young man he went to Halifax and while there was in the employ of Burns & Murray. In 1876 he came to Wolfville and entered into business in company with Mr. J. W. Caldwell. While in Wolfville Mr. Murray took a deep interest in the welfare of the town.

In every movement to further its interests he was among the foremost. In religious work he was also deeply interested and ever ready to throw his energies. Presbyterianism in Wolfville owes much to him. While that church was in a struggling condition he came to its aid, and by his self-sacrificing and enthusiastic efforts did much to bring about its present prosperous condition. He presided at the Sunday school of the church, and left it in a prosperous state on his departure from Wolfville. Mr. Murray was also an enthusiastic temperance worker. He was a loyal member of the Sons of Temperance. He organized and conducted very successfully in Wolfville the society "Cadets of Temperance."

Of this society nearly every boy in the town was a member. The influence of this work is felt in Wolfville to this day. In 1884 Mr. Murray left our town and went to Halifax to become a member of the firm of Burns & Murray. While in Halifax he showed the same public spirit and interest in moral reform and religious work. About three years ago he was compelled to give up business on account of ill-health. He spent a year in the South, but a disease was upon him which he was powerless to overcome. He met death patiently, triumphantly. He leaves a wife and four daughters. We extend to the sorrowing family our sincerest sympathy. He rests from his labors, but his works follow him and will long follow him.

A Humorous Lecture.

Arrangements are making for a tour through the Province, later in the season, by W. O. Fuller, Jr., of the Beckland (Maine) Tribune, whose success as a humorist lecturer has been phenomenal. His subject is "Banking in Kansas; How I Found It and How It Left Me," being an account of experiences when he left the newspaper field for a season for the purpose of getting rich. Whenever he has appeared large houses have greeted him and laughter and applause have ruled the hour. A part of the time assigned for the Province has already been booked, and persons wishing to make dates can write to Mr. R. B. Usher, Messenger, Rockland, Maine. Mr. Fuller, appears in the University course at Wolfville, March, 29th, and other towns hereabouts can secure dates on application.

The first of the course of Phrenological lectures by Mrs. Ellis, was given on Wednesday evening last in Witter's Hall. The hall was crowded to the doors, and a large number were forced to remain standing. The lecturer was very interesting and was much enjoyed by all.

At the close Mrs. Ellis asked the audience to nominate four candidates for examination on the platform. The request was complied with, and four gentlemen were examined and told of their various qualifications and characteristics. Lectures will be given to-night and Saturday night, and on Monday evening the most popular lecture of the course will be given, the subject being "Love, Courtship and Marriage."

Died.

MURRAY.—At Wolfville, Jan. 18th, Angus S. Murray, aged 40 years.

PORTER.—At Wolfville, Jan. 8th, Aubrey Porter, aged 37 years.

Tuesday Night's Lecture.

The second lecture of the course, for which arrangements have been made by the B. Y. P. U., was delivered on Tuesday evening last by the Rev. G. O. Gates, of St. John. The subject of the lecture was "The Reformation; or The Struggle for Freedom of Soul."

The speaker considered the Reformation in its different aspects—it was a political as well as a religious revolt against the Papacy. Pointing out the growing corruption of the church, he dwelt at length upon the rise of the Papal power, its moral rottenness and political pollution.

He then spoke of certain reformers and reforms attempted previous to the Reformation proper. First, The Sutherian Reformation, the great defect of which was its lack of radicalism. Second, The Swiss Reformation, independent of a better action of the supremacy of Scripture. This embraced that of Zwingli at Zurich, and Calvin's at Geneva. The Geneva movement was the strongest theologically of the three, and the one that has exercised most influence on the subsequent development of the church.

Third, The English Reformation, which was of political origin, but which soon developed a strong religious tendency under the influence of the Geneva theology. The lecture ranks high as a literary effort, and the interest of the audience was sustained throughout. The lectures of the B. Y. P. U. course are intended to be educating influences, and this they have most certainly been.

Music was furnished by the Union choir, assisted by the College quartet. A vocal solo by Miss "Minnie" Frick increased the pleasurable impression made by the evening's exercises.

The Fruit Grower's Association.

The following circular has been sent for publication by Mr. S. C. Parker, Secretary of the N. S. F. G. A. :—The 31st Annual Meeting of the Association will be held at Wolfville, N. S., Jan'y, 29, 30 and 31st, 1895. The Annual Meeting is yearly increasing in attendance and popularity, and we expect the coming meeting will be of unusual interest. The meeting will continue for three days and every session will be found interesting and instructive. Wednesday evening will be devoted to a public meeting to be addressed by prominent men. A large number of leading fruit growers of the Province have signified a willingness to take part in the various discussions or introduce leading topics. Prof. John Craig, Horticulturist, of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and Prof. Faville, of the N. S. Hort. School, will take part in all the sessions. If you have any important question you wish taken up, if you will send it at once to the Sec'y, he will give it a place on the programme.

It is the aim of the Association to assist in the development of the fruit industry in Nova Scotia by giving intelligent instruction in this work. We wish to make this a practical people's meeting and to this end ask your assistance, encouragement and personal attendance.
