"Say, I'm going to move to-day, and I'd like to have you send a man to change my telephone to the new place right away," said a corpulent man who had wearily climbed two pairs of stairs in Exchange place and ooked his head into the central office. "All right," said Superintendent Cowdery, "it shall be done at once (the door is being closed). But why didn't you ask us by telephone?" "Dear me! I never thought of that," said he, and as the corpulent man decended the stairs it sounded as though he kicked himself at each alternate step.—

A Mere Form.

Steam-boat travelling on the Missouri is constantly enlivened by sounding, and the calls, "Six feet," "Five-and-a-half," "No bottom," etc., have come to be given after a tradi-tional musical formula, very much like intoning. A recent importation from the land of "pirates" having been ordered to the lead, went bravely to work, and sang out thusly: "Too-rul," "Too-rul-i-rul," "Too-rul i
