SOCCER BOWLING

TWO SLOW GAMES IN INTER-CITY SATURDAY.

St. Patricks Defeated W. F. P. C. Easily, and G.S. & M. Team Walked Away From Veritys.

Pleasure Club's chances of heading the teams in the second series of the Intercity League, when the St. Patricks nine wed into second position by defeating them by a score of 13-4 on Saturday afternoon at Britannia Park. The Irishmen's victory will give them a fine opportunity of overhauling the leading G., S. & M. team, while the W. E. P. C. will have to get a hustle on to be in the running

Knowing that the opposing teams had ome famous for extra inning games and naturally expecting a good exhibition at the great American game, an unusually large crowd 'was in attendance. It happily was a humorous bunch of spectators, and although disappointment overwhelmed them in the early parts of the game, they brightened up towards the end, and made sport by sundry caustic remarks. sundry caustic remarks.

As soon as the game commenced it was evident that it was going to be a slugging affair. The way the West Enders went after Moose McGavin's benders was a surprise to all. Mac's one-hit game recently against the Pleasure Club was not to be repeated, as the West Enders started the hitting in the first inning. During this round everyman on the team batted, and the losers scored four runs. They profited little, however, by the good start, and were shut out every inning during the rest of the game. The Irishmen came back in their end of the inning, and started hitting the ball, with the result that the losers simply went to pieces. They lost heart and merely looked on while the Irishmen piled up enough runs to do for a couple of games. The West Enders could easily hit the ball, but the great work of the St. Pats.' fielders at critical times prevented any damage. The Sants scored in nearly every inning, knocking two pitchers out of the box.

While the score was unusually large, little else could be expected in view of the large number of errors. The game was not won on hits, and although the Saints had ten to their credit, the W. 15. was not won on hits, and although the Sajnts had ten to their credit, the W. E. P. C. could have prevented many runs had they fielded the ball any way like their usual form. The West Enders simply played ragged ball from beginning to end and deserved to loose. The Irishmen only had three errors, and two of them were in the first inning. After the first they settled down, and under the careful guidance of the famous Captan McDonaid, the fans were treated to real good ball. The Irishmen handled themselves exceedingly well, nipping everything in reach, and besides pulling off a few stunts that would be creditable to big league players. No changes took place on the Saints' line-up, while Manager Bradley was continually shifting his team around.

Everything was going nicely till the fourth inning, when, after being knocked all over the field, Harvey Muir, formerly of the Virginia State League, was yanked out of the box, and put out in pasture at centre field. Manager Bradley was a little late in sizing up the situation, and after this nearly every man on the team was moved around. Howard who was catching became a failure at his job, and was moved out to the fourth out steading to the first they was a little late in sizing up the situation, and after this nearly every man on the team was moved around.

Howard who was catching became Howard who was catching became a failure at his job, and was moved out to right field in favor of Ernie Memory.

Memory was an improvement, but was not as good as usual. Bradley became tired looking on from the field, and so (Continued on Page 9.)

A crimp was put in the West End Muir was given his position, and Bradley Played shortstop. Bradley's work was a surprise to the fans, but the real find played shortstop. Bradley's work was a surprise to the fans, but the real find was Carey as pitcher. Carey was certainly a surprise, and his form Saturday and in a short time should develop into one of the best pitchers in those parts. But the next big surprise, and it greatly amused the fans, was Carey going back to short, and Bradley going in the box. The fans treated this more as a joke, but Bradley surprised them all by retiring the first three batters. "Brad' made an impression, and may be used as the regular twirler after this.

While a few of the players were off color, there were a few who deserved some credit. Ernie Buscombe, on second, played an erroriess game, and had two hits, while Conkle had eight chances with only one error. For the Irishmen Alex. McLeod's work on first was the feature. He accepted eleven chances without a party cand bed east in the status.

Alex. McLeod's work on first was the feature. He accepted eleven chances without an error, and had one hit. The work of Dick Beattie was also good. Dick had five assists, throwing three men out at first in one inning, and scoring four'runs. He also had two hits. Padden showed up well on short, and Captain McDonald was always there on second, while Lucas in right caught two difficult flies. Hughy Brennen was the same old backstop; in fact, the whole team played good ball. Outside of the first inning the Irishmen were always in the game, and had little trouble winning.

delivered by some of Hamilton's most in the game, and had little trouble winning.

The work of the pitchers was good. McGavin had them guessing Saturday. He was effective in tight pinches, and land the Indian sign on most of the batters. Mac had six strike-outs and two hits. Harvey Muir's performance proves that he is somewhat overrated. The Saints had little trouble connecting with his twisters. Carey was the real pitcher of the day. He had benders of every description, and with more control should develop into a real classy pitcher. The W. E. P. C. started the fireworks in the first inning. Conkle was hit by the pitcher, and was advanced a base on a hit by Lanning. Howard hit and filled the bases. Carey knocked out a grounder to centre, scoring Conkle and Lanning. Howard and Carey scored on sacrifice hits. For St. Pats Padden got a hit, Beattie struck the ball to centre, but was put out stealing second. Padden got to third, and stole home. McDonald walked, and went around to third on a filly ball hit by Smith to Memory. Memory muffed, and Smith went to second. A. McLeod walked, and McDonald went walked, and went around to third on a filly ball hit by Smith to Memory. Memory muffed, and Smith went to second. A. McLeod walked, and McDonald went in one on a hit by Brennen. In the next inning the Saints scored four. McGavin his valled and Hennessy scored. Beattie scored in the fourth on an error. The Saints scored three in the fifth and three more in the seventh, all on errors.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

The Hamilton Rowing Club's senior four, Mahoney, Sloan, Skelley and Pilgrim, has been industriously training for the regatta of the Don Rowing Club, of Toronto, which takes place on Saturday next, and the young men are now in the best of condition. It is expected that they will not have much trouble in carrying off the senior four event there.

best of condition. It is expected that they will not have much trouble in earrying off the senior four event there.

Ton Clancy, last year's coach of the Ottawa Rugby Football Club, will again look after the red, white and black this year. That decision was made at an enturiastic meeting of the executive held Fréday night. The club will also get its players off to an early start, the exact time for the first work-out being set at a further meeting of the executive to be held at the end of the month.

A general discussion took place upon prospects for the coming season, and a very optimistic feeeling prevailed. Among those who were mentioned as candidates for positions on the team were:

About the probable make-up of the Montreal team followers of the game are necessarily bound to remain pretty much in the dark, because the material available has not yet shown itself. It is understood, however, that an effort is being made to get some of the members of the team of 1907, which won the Canadian championship, back on the gridiron once more.

A half back line is principally what the red and blue are in need of. The front rank of last year's team with a little bolstering up of weak spots should be good enough if there is no better material forthcoming, and with Tommy Stinson at full-back and Buzz Baillie back at quarter again the nucleus of a good team would appear to be in sight.

Bobby Kerr at the Hotel Brant on Saturday evening was a magnificent suc cess. Over a hundred enthusiastic adnirers of the plucky little sprinter took advantage of the opportunity of doing him the honor he so richly deserves, and the presence of so many of Hamilton's known amateur sportsmen there confirmed the fact that Bobby had not dropped in the estimation of his friends here by his failure to carry off the cov eted British championship trophy. During the evening Mr. Roy Moodie, on behalf of the Tiger Athletic Association presented Kerr with a handsome diamond pin in appreciation of his many merits and the honor he had brought the city of Hamilton. Addresses of the most nplimentary and flattering kiind were delivered by some of Hamilton's most prominent men, and the guests evidence

Mayor McLaren delivered the address of welcome. He expressed pleasure on behalf of the city corporation, the citizens of Hamilton, and himself, in greetof welcome. He expressed pleasure on behalf of the city corporation, the citizens of Hamilton, and himself, in greeting the honored guest of the evening. It was not so much his achievements in the old land as the unassuming personality of Bobby Kerr that made us so proud of him. He had gone to England under somewhat adverse conditions, and although he had failed to capture the coveted prize he had made a good showing, and the meanner in which he had conducted himself there had made him a favorite with the English sporting public. Always generous, always modest, he never spoke but in praise of his competitors and had little to say concerning his own deeds. "The name Kerr stands for all that is best in amateur athletics in Hamilton," said the Mayor, "and it gives me great pleasure to welcome him home."

Loud applause followed this address, and when Bobby rose to respond the room was made to ring with the hand-clappings and cheers.

Bobby did not speak long, but to the point. He said it was the proudest moment of his life to be there with his

Mr. George Gow was down for an address, but instead he told a story that brought down the house.

The musical end of the programme, under the capable direction of Chairman Dave Tope and the musical committee, was of surpassing excellence. Solos were sung by Fred Murphy, Hardy Awrey, Harry Lounsbury, Wesley Jamieson and George Robertson. These singers are all well known in Hamilton, and the appearance of their names on any programme is sufficient voucher of its quality. Harry Allen was accompanist. It was one of the most successful banquets held locally for some time and expressions of appreciation and delight were heard on all sides. Mine Host Kiline came in for much praise and a toast was drunk to his health.

Dr. R. A. Thompson also had many kind words to say. He spoke particularly about Bobby's father, Mr. George Kerr. "Without Mr. Kerr, senior, there would not have been any Mr. Kerr, junior," he said.
Mr. George Kerr responded, and with characteristic Irish humor told a couple of stories which greatly amused the guests.

and after the good things had been disposed of he made a short address in which he spoke of Bobby Kerr's successes generally. He told how he had improved ammeteur sport in Hamitton, and said that his example should be a great help to the younger generation. He dwelt on the necessity of the people combining in an effort to promote the playgrounds idea, so that the children might grow up well acquainted with the various branches of clean, many sport. equipped to do their best for the cary. Sherring brought the greatest honor to Hamilton it had ever received up to that time. When Kerr went to England, although he failed in the last case to win the most coveted prize, he had so conducted himself as to win what was to win the most coveted prize, he had so conducted himself as to win what was of far greater benefit to him and the city, that was to be known as a true Christian gentleman, a man who was able to mingle with all kinds of sportsmen, and yet without hesitating was willing to let them see that he was living from day to day as a man should live who knows that he has to give an account of his actions in this world.

Mr. Wardrope then went on to speak of the friendly rivalry that existed be-tween Toronto and Hamilton in so much as athletic sports were concerned, and remarked that the apparent ill-will that remarked that the apparent ill-will that existed between the two cities—if Ill-will at all—was only skin deep, and the icitizens of Hamilton were just as proud of Ned Hamilton were just as proud of Ned Hamilton were into the citizens of Toronto were of our two heroes, Sherring and Kerr.
