When a man can walk up to the ballot-box with his wife or sister on his arm, voting-places will be far more agreeable than now; and the polls will not be such bear-gardens that refined men will be constantly tempted to omit their political duties.—Harriet Beecher

"For 35 years," says Cardinal Manning, 'T have been prest and bishop in London, and now I approach my eight-ieth year I have learned some lessons, and the first thing in this; the chief bar to the working of the Holy Spirit of God in the souls of men and woman is intoxicating drink. I know no antagonist to that good Spirit more direct, more suttle, more stealthy, more ubiquitous than intoxicationg druk.

Though I have known men and women case of a sprain, destroyed for all manner of reasons, yet In many parts of England and the Lountess de Gasparin—The saddest I know of no cause that affects man, wosality and steady power as intoxicating drink."

A DISGRACE TO CHRISTIANITY.—The number of the Pythagoreans, who said it represented the beginning, middle and Christian Leader, adverting to "For-eign Liquor Traffic," says:—We are glad to hear that the Foreign Mission Society of the Glasgow Y.M.C.A., are making investigations into this subject with a view to the taking of some definite acimplore our aid in turning the tide of a traffic threatens them with rapid ruin; but Church and State alike seem to turn a deat ear to every appeal. Why is the voice of our churches silent? Can it be that the terrible extent of the trade is that the terrible extent of the trade is not fully known? Or is it that the church shrinks from fear of the revelation which a careful search would entail. Silence in view of the facts which many of her ministers and pastors do know only increases her bloodguiltiness. Already it is known that in her very bosom are a number of the vilest offenders in "the trade," some holding positions as office bearers, others through their liberality and pecuniary aid to missionary and charitable institutions enjoying con-tentedly the admiration of their fellowworshippers as great Christian philanthropists. It is a sin and a disgrace that the representation of a Christian to a heathen mind should be the rapacious cupidity of merchants whose merchandise is making the unhappy peoples they trade amongst "twofold more the child-ren of hell than themselves." It is impossible that the Church's foreign missionary effort can succeed so long as ahe goes with a soul-saving gospel in the one hand and a soul-damning trade in the other. May God give her ministers garded as a lucky one, is possessed of grace to declare his whole mind and will in the matter, and enable her to wash the matter, and enable her to wash these trades of the product of three times sionary effort can succeed so long as she her hands and garments clean from all three. complicity therein.'

A great mystery in a certain house-hold in Boston has been solved. The head of the house, who bought sugar by the barrel, often wondered "how in the world the family used as much sweetening as they did," and his wife, who was not much given to going into the kitchen, [said guessed they didn't use any more than other folks. But one day she did go into the kitchen, and arrived just in time to see the cook in the act of throwing a scoopful of granulated white sugar on the fire. Sugar is exceedingly inflammable, and its applicacation made the fire flash up in fine shape. The girl confessed that she had regularly used sugar to quicken the fire.

This is the title given to Scott's Education of Cod Liver Oil by many thousands who have taken it. It not only gives the flesh and strength by virtue of its own rhyme on "TEABERRY," the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Eath. Ask nutritous properties, but creates an appette for food. Use it, and try your weight. Scott's Emulsion is perfectly palatable. Sold by all drugg'sts, at 50 n and $1.
