7 1/2 mills on $15,613,301.00—$121,044.19

Alderman Griesbach pointed out that there were some items in the estimates which it was proposed to pay out of current account which probably should be charged to debenture account.

There was $5,000 for cement walks on Jasper. This was to cover the city's share of the cost of the sidewalk built on Jasper last year. It should be handled in the same way as any other local improvement, the city spreading its share of the cost over a term of years.

There was $4,000 for expropriations, an item which was calculated to provide for the probable expropriation of some east end property for the purpose of straightening out some streets. This account should also be borne in part by the ratepayers of the future.

There was $2,320 for a city warehouse, also in the future of a capital account investment and therefore not chargeable to current account.

These three items, if put under their proper head, reduced the general estimates by $11,320.

Secretary Kinnaid reported that by so doing the general rate could be reduced from 7 1/2 mills to 7 mills.

Ald. Griesbach asked if it could not be reduced another quarter of a mill.

Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaid suggested that by cutting off $4,334 from the incidentals the estimates would then be reduced by $15,654, making the total $106,390, which could be raised by a rate of 6 3/4 mills.

The school rate recommended is 2.50 mills and the general debenture rate 7 1/2, making the total rate, providing the suggested reductions are made, 10 mills.

On motion the estimates were left in the hands of the secretary-treasurer for one week more so that he might figure out the probable effect of the suggested reductions.

The by-law for raising $75,000 to purchase the G.T.P. right-of-way was finally passed.

The fire chief recommended the purchase of a fire team for $350. The horses were the property of John Reid and T. J. Cascadon, of Clover Bar. The recommendation was adopted and the horses will be purchased.

The water application for a switch to the corner of Jasper and Third, was rejected on report of the commissioners. The grounds were that the track would cross the Jasper lane diagonally, thereby probably blocking it; and furthermore that the curve proposed was not practicable.

The application to build a wooden rear and front to the space between the Queen's hotel and the C.N.R. store was turned down, on report of the commissioners that the building would cause the insurance rate to be raised and that the fire fighting chances would be greatly lessened.

An offer of $250 for the hand hook and ladder wagon from Vegreville was accepted. The hand wagon is going out of commission by the purchase of new apparatus.

Another horse and express rig for the water works department was ordered purchased.

HILL MAKES SOME MONEY.

New York, Oct. 8.—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad, sold 750,000,000 tons of ore to the United States Steel corporation today for $100,000,000.

There may be a few million tons of ore and a million dollars more or less involved in the sale, but it is the biggest transaction in the history of finance in this country since the formation of the steel corporation itself, and the whole gigantic deal was accomplished by five men in the space of a couple of hours.

The men who put their names to the papers involved were, James J. Hill, J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles Stee, George W. Perkins, and E. H. Gary. They met in Morgan's offices, were in conference for about two hours, and when it was all over and done with E. H. Gary, who is chairman of the steel corporation's board of directors, thus announced the latest money miracle in the romance of America's steel industry.

SASKATOON BOY SHOT.

Saskatoon Phoenix:—Within twenty-four hours of the time he was delivering messages for the C.P.R. commercial telegraph office in this city the shattered body of Walter H. Wright was laid away in Nutana cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The poor lad, the second of three sons, who are the sole support of his mother, showed up early in the afternoon and returned across the river to his home and took his gun for an hour or two of rabbit hunting in the bluffs on the south side.

Between five and six in the evening he was noticed lying close to the water's edge near where the traffic bridge will touch the south bank. It was men employed on the bridge work whose attention he first attracted. When it was seen how badly he was injured doctors were sent for and the police were notified.

The boy was found by Dr. Stewart to be in a terribly injured condition but still conscious. He had received the full charge of one barrel of his shot gun in the left side of the abdomen, the shot of actually tearing itself through the stomach. It was seen at once that he could not recover.

To Sergt. Loggin, who assisted in carrying him to his home, the wounded lad told how the accident occurred. He had gone rabbit hunting, as stated above and had a shot at one. He wounded the animal and to make sure of his game, swung at it with the butt of his gun and this set off the other charge, lodging the shot in his left side.

With wonderful nerve he commenced to crawl to the river, feeling thirsty and it was there he was later picked up. The doctors, for Dr. Malens was also called, and the police marvel at the wonderful vitality of the lad.

Investigation by Sergt. Loggin proved the accuracy of the boy's statement. The shot which killed the lad was fired from a .22-calibre shot gun with both charges fired and found near the coil at the south end of the fairly cable. A dead rabbit nearly completed the story of the tragedy.

The boy lived only about three hours and at three o'clock Saturday afternoon his remains were borne to the old Nutana cemetery.

About three years ago Mrs. Wright came to Saskatoon from Prince Albert, having originally come from England, and where her husband died. The three boys who were left, ceased as second, being only fourteen, were all employed as messengers at the telegraph office here. The earnings of these boys was the sole support of the mother and household.

Walter was a quiet, unobtrusive lad, steady and courteous, and was never seen around the streets except in the performance of his work as messenger.

SHARKS IN CALGARY.

Calgary Albertan:—The story of the trial of Murphy, the man who is under arrest charged with defrauding Powers out of $365, has few new features about it. The case came up yesterday morning. P. J. Nolan appeared for the accused. The trial was postponed until Monday next.

Powers the man who was victimized, has not shown up. The police have been scouring the north line, but so far without success. If he does not return there will be little case against Murphy.

These are the routine facts of the case. But the conditions of affairs is much more interesting than shown in the dull statement of facts.

There is a state of alarm among the people of Calgary, who learned yesterday for the first time that this city has become infested with card sharks and confidence men.

At the present time the Albertan is informed there are six or seven men who are in this posture of affairs in the city. There are a number of other men who are confederates in this same game, some of them being somewhat prominent in Calgary.

That is the condition of affairs. The police, particularly Police Mills, are making a desperate effort to get to the bottom of this defrauding state of affairs, but he is lined up against one of the best organized outfits consisting of some of the slickest men in the business in America. It is possible that he will be unable to get a conviction, but it will be a marvellous thing if the police do not succeed in running the gang out of the city and freeing Calgary of this dangerous bunch.

If they do not do as they will be a considerable enquiry regarding the reason why. The sharks are unusually bold in this affair.

The first contingent of this gang arrived in the city many months ago, and on that occasion they were concerned with the game of faro when the town came to an agreement with the bond company in which Matheson was insured. The bond company liquidated all they acknowledge as their liability in the Matheson shortage which was $1,300 and which the town council after deliberations decided to accept, and while this does not make good by something like $1,000 the amount of the defalcation, under the circumstances it was thought wise to accept the amount offered and close the matter so far as the bond company is concerned, but the town still holds the unpaid amount of the shortage against Mr. Matheson.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 11.—Popular anger against the modus vivendi arranged by the United States and Great Britain in relation to the Newfoundland herring fishery is growing. There is a general feeling that the compromise arrived at was a back-down on the part of the British government. Archbishop Howley, the Roman Catholic primate, speaking on Sunday at a parish festival, declared the modus vivendi a shameful betrayal of the colony's interest, and advised agitation throughout the colony against it. He urged an untiring, spirited protests to the throne, the despatch of delegates to England and Canada, and an appeal to all autonomous British colonies to join in the resistance to what he termed an unbridled invasion of colonial rights.

Attorney-General Morris, speaking at the same function, stated that the colonial government was unaware of the terms of the modus vivendi, but it had done everything within its power to protect the colony. The telegram, the same well known Canadians are making a vigorous effort to free the men who are concerned in this affair, what the sharks who are in the city and the assistance they are receiving from friends who are here, the police are up against a pretty hard row and the police were notified.

SUMMERIDE SUFFERED.

Summerside, P. E. I., Oct. 11.—A terrible fire swept over the town early this morning, doing damage to the jail, electric light plant, fifty houses and three churches are gone. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary. The fire began in a railway shed and was fanned by a heavy gale. The town had only two hand engines and one steamer to fight the fire. The firemen and an engine from Charlottetown saved the Presbyterian church, extent of $200,000. The insurance only amounts to $50,000. The court house.

Ald. Myers seconded the motion of Ald. Picard to adopt the majority report of the commissioners and purchase the De Carey destructor.

The plans were laid on the table and Alderman Griesbach asked Mr. Gorman, of Gorman, Clancy and Grindley, who are acting for the agents, about some points of interest regarding the Heenan and Froude.

Mr. Grindley said he was not posted. But he had just received a telegram from the Heenan and Froude agent stating that he would be in the city within the next week if the decision could be adjourned until that time.

Alderman Manson said he would adjourn the question for a week.

Mr. Pace stated that the guarantees given by the De Carey agent absolutely protected the city from any chance.

Engineer Keely, who is a believer in the Heenan and Froude, although he says that the De Carey people give the best guarantee, pointed out some of the advantages of the Heenan and Froude.

The motion to adjourn the discussion for one week was put and carried.

Mr. Browning, who was present to represent the De Carey people, said that he hardly thought it was fair after the tenders and guarantees had been read, to re-open the question, but he would try to be present Friday next. This closed the incinerator debate and the estimates were taken up.

CLOSING UP THE INCIDENT.

Raymond, Oct. 11.—The last chapter in the Matheson embezzlement, as far as this town is concerned, was written this morning when the town came to an agreement with the bond company in which Matheson was insured. The bond company liquidated all they acknowledge as their liability in the Matheson shortage which was $1,300 and which the town council after deliberations decided to accept, and while this does not make good by something like $1,000 the amount of the defalcation, under the circumstances it was thought wise to accept the amount offered and close the matter so far as the bond company is concerned, but the town still holds the unpaid amount of the shortage against Mr. Matheson.
