fall I could scarcely walk around for pains in the back and legs, and was Though I tried several medicines I got no better. I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Suitable Houses For the Working Classes.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In this age of advance ment of high ideals and improvements it is strange that the question of bet ter housing of the working class has not received the attention it merits.
We in a small way are trying to keep pace with the great outside world.
We have modern improvements and ideas modified. Big municipalities have arrived at a comparative state of perfection. We are content with a "Bummagen" initiation of their do ings, and what is here accomplished amounts only to the gift on the giv er's bread. Why? Because public spirit is of too weak a quality to give us anything like the fitness which this, as a growing city, needs and merits and must have to be a comfort to the inhabitants. Our needs as a city are many. The resources of the Municipal treasury are not vast. We cling to old ideas too long and too fondly, and moreover lack the experi ence in the ways that bring other cities larger and smaller than ours to a nearer touch with perfection than we can hope to attain if we stand as we do today. Are those men in our midst who are able by their command of that great force in the world, viz., money, gold, riches, hanging back content with the state of affairs here, or are they so blind that they can't see that their powerful financial co operation can improve the condition of our city? Can they not notice that the foul blot on our reputation as a Christian and a civilized city is, that the accommodation of the working class from a sanitary standpoint is disgraceful and a menace to the health of the city? Think over it and we have trusted too much here to the ef forts of the working man himself to build his own home, to stick it up as best he could after a day's work else where, and as long as he complied with so-called Council regulations, the question of where his sloppy water went was a matter of consideration for himself, either to pitch it out the window or door onto the sidewalk as it suited. Councils, members of Par liament, men of wealth, even the health authorities, never have to in hale in their homes the foul odors that arise from a putrid waste lac et. But perhaps they may have some of their family or friends sick from some contagious disease got from the effluvia of a night tub or a stagnant drain, whose fumes would breed pes tiferous only for a merciful Provi dence. What remedy has the working class in this matter? Legislation, and lots of it, can't help 'em pay the plumber for the installation of water and sanitary service in their humble homes, even if they have the room for such. Why do not men of equip ment, citizens of St. John's, array them selves on the side of cleanliness? They can invest in every branch of trade, indulge in every luxury, but when it comes to trade and philan thropy combined they lay back. But it can form a happy and a beneficial combination notwithstanding. No one would expect these "peas" of the above, they are here to be had. I've merely written just to put a thought on the matter into the heads of our rich men. I appeal to them, to their citizenship, to their charity, and to their business instincts, to ask them if they cannot do something to make the lot of our workmen in regard to habitation better. Gentlemen, some of your servants—male and female—employed in store, wharf, shop or of fice, may live in these germ impreg nated localities, and they come in contact daily with you and your wares and customers, and you can't see that you can get the benefit of the microbe as if you lived in these places. How some manage to ob serve the cleanliness they do is won derful in their surroundings, and 'tis a miracle they are alive at all. What a splendid gain to the present race and a bequest to the future would these houses be, brightening the gloomy portions of our city, uplifting the tone of clean living, both in mind and body. And the alien and stran ger will then no longer point the finger of scorn at us in respect of this matter. I would like some per son who is practical more so than I who would write his views on this matter and help to stir up interest therein. If my pen can do anything I shall be pleased to at any time do my best to write on this subject of such vital importance to this city.

And should it become a fact that in terest is awakened and something done in this and many other civic matters, believe that it is no link of time wasted writing on these matters.
Trusting that a little fruit for a start may result from this epistle, I close.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor for space, I am,
Yours truly,

McMurdo's Store News

Saturday, Aug. 13.

Just arrived a stock of the well known and highly approved tonic Sanatogen, small size. Price $1 a pkg.

The New Century Perfumes are ge nerally known to be by far the finest, truest, and most fragrant perfumes sold at moderate price. In this series are to be had several odors not to be obtained in any other make.
Price 50c a bottle.

Alexandra Rose Talcum Powder has distinction. In odor it is not quite like any other rose—it is more nat ural and sweet. And as Talcum it is as fine and smooth as any in the market. 25c.

Heaviest Cable.

The copper wire of the new West ern Union cable which is being laid between Bay Roberts and Cornwall is the heaviest in the Atlantic Ocean. It is said that experiments will be made when it is laid to telephone over it.
If this proves feasible it will put a different aspect on communication by cable across the Atlantic. The peo ple of Bay Roberts believe there is a possibility, if this cable proves a suc cess, of large extension of the West ern Union plant there, and that there may be 100 employees engaged at the Bay Roberts station eventually.

The Conquest of the Air

With a thunder-driven heart And the shimmer of new wings, I, a worm that was upstart; King of kites!

"I have heard the singing stars, I have watched the sunset die,
As I burst the lucid bars Of the sky.

"Lo, the argosies of Spain,
As they plowed the naked brine, Found no heaven-girded Main Like to mine.

"Sailing from the clinging sod, First and foremost of my race, I have met the hosts of God Face to face.

"Met the tempest and the gale Where the white moon-riven cloud Wrapt the splendour of my sail In a shroud.

"Other winged men may come, Pierce the heavens, chart the sky, Sound an echo to my drum Ere they die.

"I alone have seen the earth, Age-old fetters swept aside,
In the glory of new birth—Defied!"

—Harold Trowbridge Pulsifed.

C.E. Orphanage League

On St. Andrew's Day of last year the Sunday School Orphanage League was started. Since that time under the honorary secretaryship of the Rev.
James Bell, its work has been very successful. The object of the Asso ciation is to interest the Sunday Schools of the Diocese in the work of the Orphanage. Nearly 100 schools are already enrolled and display a cer tificate of membership under the Seal of the Diocese in their school rooms.
Already $300 have been received from this source in aid of the Orphanage and the prospects for the extension of the work of the league are bright.
To the orphan aided the assistance is beneficial, to the Sunday School schol ars aiding the work is educational in bringing out the quality of benevo lence and sympathy for others.

Liverpool Cathedral.

The Lady Chapel of the first com pleted instalment of the new Liver pool Cathedral was consecrated re cently. "Towards the £30,000 still required to finish those portions of the cathedral which are now being undertaken Mr. Arthur Earle has pro mised £10,000 if the balance is, rais ed in the next five years," says the Times. "Mr. Earle belongs to two closely inter-related families which have already provided a large part—we believe, not less than £25,000—of the cost of the Lady Chapel. They represent, as few local families now do, the distant past of Liverpool.
Their traditions stretch back to be fore the days of St. Peter's Church.
But they understand the future im portance of the Cathedral as a centre of diocesan life and a model of dioc esan worship."

Premier Canalejas Interviewed.

Special to Evening Telegram.

PARIS, Aug. 12.

The Paris Temps to-day prints a long sensational interview with Jos Canalejas Mendes, the Spanish Prime Minister, covering the recent events which culminated in the severance of diplomatic relations between the Spanish Government and the Holy See, as well as his future programme, which the paper says, the Premier dictated. Premier Canalejas begins by declaring that the movement in the North of Spain is directed by rich Carlists who are inveterate separatists and enemies to the remainder of the country, and by intransigent Catholics, whose only programme is the reign of Jesus Christ. The Prime Minister affirms that he possesses knowledge that the committee behind the movement spent $30,000 in giving the manifestants of July 16 and tickets, besides their railroad fare. After the failure of the manifestation, Senor Canalejas said the agitators organized Juntas, of which, I announce this publicly for the first time, village priests are the leaders. He says that he officially protested to the Bishop of Victoria and to the Vatican but both of them replied that it was none of their concern. There is no religious question in Spain, the Premier continues, it is simply an effort to exploit religious sentiments upon the ground, now disproved, that the Spanish majority as was indisputably proved at the elections is anti-clerical. Most of those sent address as approving the Government's policy. I have received 150,000 telegrams urging me to continue this policy.
