decreed that these practices must end."

"Throughout my career," the President continued, "I have always conducted myself with the idea of promoting business and promoting prosperity. If there is anything that arouses disgust in me, it is the calamity howler—the man who attacks business and seeks to arouse prejudice against it. Prosperity we all need. We are all in the same boat," It was here that the President declared he would rather cut off his for political motives.

"But," he added, with a pound of his fist on the railing before him, "we have a condition of lawlessness to deal with. We have had it for twenty years. Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of fits. He commenced havour little boy who was compietely cured of fits. He commenced having them at 10 years of age and had them or four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Rever and Liver Pillsmade a compiete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. School Girl Found That Her New-Found Husband Was a Gambler.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—An undefended sult for divorce, decided in Beno, Nev., carries a warning to impressionable young women against secret, hasty marriages. Miss Sarah B. Pearl, a beautiful girl, was going home from school to pass a vacation with her parents at South Bethlehem, Pa. She met a handsome, engaging young man on the train; she says in her affidavit that he told her he was Victor Lang with a profitable business in last night, which was regarded as having a direct bearing upon the Government's latest trust prosecution against the United States Steel Corporation, President Taft denied in vigorous language that the administration was being influenced by political motives.

"I would rather cut off my right hand," he exclaimed, "than to do anything to disturb the business of this country, especially with a motive of cultivating political success.

"Statements as to what I may be responsible for in bringing about business troubles, however regretful I may be that it is so, cannot turn me from the duty that lies straight before me."

The President spoke to an immense throng in the First Regiment Armory, and his anti-trust declarations called out a storm of applause and cheering. There was no doubt as to what was in the President's mind when he said: "I come to the subject of the trusts at a time when the matter is boiling."

He was delivering in part his Waterloo speech on the relation of the government to business, and had declared he belleved the railroads of the country had brought themselves within the law, and were conscientiously trying to keep within it.

New York, Oct. 29.-A special cable from Edinburgh, Scotland, says: Jack Johnson's recent initiation as a Freemason at Dundee, has caused a commotion in Scottish Masonic circles, owing to unorthodox scenes accompanying the ceremony. The Marquis of Tullibardine, as head of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, presiding at a solemn meeting to consider the case, ordered that the provincial Grand Lodge at Forfarshire be requested to investigate all the cir-cumstances. Meanwhile, Johnson's fellow members of the Lodge of Forfar and Kincardine, profess to be unable to see what objections the Grand Lodge can take to Johnson as a mem ber of the craft, since colored people are Freemasons in many countries. It is stated that everything connect ed with the nomination and initiation of Johnson was carried out in proper form, the only irregularities being the hurried summoning of the meeting and the subsequent changing of the hour of assembly to suit Johnson's

The lodge members' attitude toward the Grand Lodge is defiant, it being held that Johnson is every bit as good a man and as good a Mason as any Scotsman, and that he cannot be expelled, anyway, although he might be prevented from advancing in the mysprevented from advi-teries of the craft.
