Why Not Suitable?

The Brantford Courier says "the proposed free trip of the aldermen to London has been called off. The object of the visit was to inspect the city pavements there, but it has been found that the Warner asphalt used in London for paving purposes would not be suitable in Brantford, and accordingly a visit was unnecessary."

A Great Postal Service.

Secretary Jared Vining, of the East Middlesex Liberal Association, says that the reason the Liberal list of appeals and additions did not reach the clerk in time for the Court of Revision held at Lambeth was the poor mail service. The inspection passed off satisfactorily, but on reaching the stock cellar, Mr. Barrett—the light being dim, or rather no light—the inspector, not finding terra firma for his umbrella, wistly stepped to one side, but Mr. Alexander, not so forewarned, stepped boldly onward over a flight of stairs leading to a lower cellar, receiving a bad shock, with a slight abrasion of the knee cap."

Investigations are being conducted by the special committee of the Board of Health with reference to the different systems of garbage disposal in use in various cities in the United States, but the committee is not yet in a position to present a report upon the best system adapted to local needs. ## WONDERLAND MAY NOT BE NEEDED.

Evidence That Diphtheria is Disappearing.

Hospital is Often Unnecessarily Filled Up.

Dr. Campbell Discusses a Matter of Interest.

The special committee of the Board of Health which is dealing with the matter of fitting up Wonderland as a convalescent hospital for scarlet fever has to have met yesterday to take the preliminary steps, but Chairman Carrothers was unable to attend and the meeting was postponed. The committee are likely to go pretty slow in the whole matter for two reasons, one being that the general sentiment is distinctly opposed to the use of Wonderland for any such purpose, and the other that it is as though the epidemic of both scarlet fever and diphtheria is on the wane. With respect to the first, there are few people to be found who view with favor the idea of sending the little sufferers to such a place as Wonderland. A statement was made yesterday in the presence of Ald. Dr. Campbell, a member of the Board of Health, to this effect, adding that it would appear to be dangerous to remove the convalescents to such a distance from the hospital. To this Dr. Campbell made objection, his claim being that in many cases sufferers from scarlet fever were sufficiently recovered at the end of about three weeks to have them removed to their homes without any danger whatever. He said that the regulations of the Provincial Board stood in the way of this, providing that there shall be isolation for a period of six weeks from the time of removal. This, he meant, said Dr. Campbell, that the hospital was often unnecessarily filled up, quite a proportion of the patients being quite strong enough to bear removal to Wonderland or any other place.

As to the waning of the epidemic, there has been but one case of scarlet fever and none of diphtheria reported to the Medical Health Officer since Friday last, a record that has not been equalled for a good time back. At the hospital the immediate pressure has been relieved and for some days they have refused no applications for accommodation. There are now sixteen scarlet fever and twenty diphtheria cases, meaning that the place is just about comfortable. There have been about twenty-five cases admitted this week, one scarlet fever case on Sunday, and another on Monday, while three diphtheria cases were sent in on Monday Tuesday. Yesterday no applications were made. So long as the pressure on Victoria Hospital continues thus light, it is hardly likely that the Board of Health will go to the extreme of fitting up Wonderland.

PRETTY WEDDING ON DUFFERIN AVENUE.

Miss Estella Matthews Becomes the Bride of Mr. Harry B. Charlton, of Brantford.

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday when Miss Estella Matthews, youngest daughter of the late Mr. R. F. Matthews, of the post office department, this city, became the bride of Mr. Harry B. Charlton, youngest son of Mr. M. Charlton, of Brantford. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Fred W. Matthews, Dufferin avenue, the bride's brother, and was performed by Rev. George J. Bishop, of the First Methodist church, assisted by Rev. J. Johnston, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. While the solemn vows were being exchanged the bride stood under a floral star of white chrysanthemums, with sprays of smilax, the star being a pretty and poetic reference to the bride's Christian name. She was charmingly attired in a wedding robe of white silk cape-chenes, over white taffeta, trimmed with white point lace, and wore the customary bridal veil with orange blossoms. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Sara Matthews, who was gowning in white lace. Both carried bouquets of choice flowers. Mr. Arthur Tuck, of Brantford, was best man, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Fred. Matthews. The wedding march was played by Miss Dora Elson, of Hyde Park.

The wedding breakfast took place in an apartment artistically embellished with flowers and festoons of smilax, and the display of useful and valuable wedding gifts was unusually large, many of the presents being from friends in distant parts of the Dominion. The bride and bridegroom left by the 5.30 P. M. train for various eastern points.

INTERPRETER WAS UNDER SUSPICION.

Fruitless Effort of Toronto to Discover Who Took $500 From Lee Bing, a London Celestial.

A laudable effort was made to solve the Chinese puzzle presented by the charge of theft against Lee Non Chong at the Toronto police court on Tuesday, and ascertain "Where the money came from?" Lee, who was a Brantford Celestial, leaving to revisit the scenes of his boyhood in Chinland, was alleged to have received $500 from Lee Bing, a London Celestial. Since the alleged thief has been on bail, the P. M. decided to dispose of the criminal proceedings, and had Lee Non Chong placed under the surveillance of the sheriff. Then something arose, and it was decided to drop of the criminal proceedings first. Lee Bing, after much effort, managed to inform the court, through the interpreter, that Lee Non got $500 from him, alleging that he was going home to gamble, and would return it. Lee denied this, and intimated that the other Lee made his money by gambling, and not by laundry. Then something arose, and Mr. Curry moved want of confidence in the interpreter, who was summarily dismissed and the case adjourned, when an effort will be made to secure the services of Rev. A. B. Winchester.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN HER BEDROOM.

Sudden Passing of Mrs. Abigail Howard, An Old Resident of London Township.

A very sudden death was that of Mrs. Abigail Howard, of Masonville, who passed away Tuesday in her 83rd year. She was apparently in good health at breakfast time, but later was found by one of her daughters lying dead beside her dressing table in her bedroom. A curious fact is that her husband died under similar circumstances three years ago. Born on the same concession of London township, in the year 1820, she was the daughter of the late Orange Clark, of the 4th concession. She was married in October of 1844, and a family of nine children survive her, viz., Thomas, Albert, John, William, George, Charles, and Mrs. Hutchingson, of Manitoba; Mrs. Canniff, of Fort Francis, Ont.; Miss Annie and Miss Esther, at home. The funeral takes place on Saturday.

NICKNAMES.

What the Jolly School Principal is Called.

Nicknames never get hurt a healthy man. An Ohio lady tells a good food story. "Once years ago my sister, at that time a woman of 35, became ill from nervous exhaustion that for two years her life was despaired of. She had suffered from dyspepsia since a girl, and the nervous trouble of course aggravated that, until it became impossible for her to eat or take nourishment of any kind without intense suffering."

"Like all persons affected with nervous diseases, she suffered from insomnia, and it was nothing unusual for her to sleep only three hours out of 24. All the years she had been a miserable invalid her diet consisted almost entirely of milk and eggs. Finally, Grape-Nuts came upon the market and she tried this food for breakfast, four teaspoonsful in a pint of hot milk, and the change in her condition was perfectly marvelous."

"She improved at once, and her face has now grown round and fat as I remember it in girlhood and the increase in flesh has extended all over. She never was weighed while an invalid, so we cannot say just how much she has gained, but it is wonderful. She now sleeps through the night through and through, and the nervousness and aches in head and neck are gone. She is again well and strong and happy when it looked as though she would never have any happiness on this earth again. All her neighbors look upon her recovery as a miracle."

"The principal of the public schools in our city is such a strong advocate of Grape-Nuts as a brain food that he has gained the nickname of 'Old Grape-Nuts,' but somehow or other he is so jolly and healthy he doesn't seem to care." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB OPENING.

Brilliant Audience Assembles in Masonic Temple.

Inaugural Concert a Marked Success in Every Way.

Reception Given by the Ladies Closes a Pleasant Evening.

HE banqueting hall of the Masonic Temple was filled to its utmost capacity last night by a brilliant audience which assembled to hear the opening concert of the Women's Music Club. Appropriately, the majority of those present was composed of ladies, and the choice programme submitted was received with much appreciation. The successful opening of the club's season augurs well for its continued prosperity, and as its membership is representative of the most accomplished exponents of music in the city, it was to be expected that a rare treat would be provided. A feature of the evening was undoubtedly the singing of Master Jack Challis, chorister of All Saints' church, Toronto. His first contribution was "Oh, Dry Those Tears," in which he displayed a voice equal to a soprano of great range and power, and in response to an enthusiastic recall he gave "Falling Leaves and Fading Trees," in a most artistic manner. An encore was again demanded, and at a later stage in the programme, Master Challis delighted the audience by an accomplished rendering of "When the Heart is Young," and "The Moon is Beaming Across the Cotton Fields." The male quartette "Annie Laurie," arranged by Dudley Bucke, was also a most successful number, and the vocalists, Messrs. Marriott, Sydney Glass, Earnest Moule and Garthwaite, in answer to a recall gave "We are Men of the Sea," "Rakoczy's March," arranged by Liszt, and was heartily applauded. Miss Steele contributed a piano solo "Sparks," by Moszkowski, in which she displayed her command of the instrument, and at a later stage gave a pretty little solo, which the audience considered all too brief. A piano duo, "Old Olsen's 'Petite Suite,' by the Misses Steele and Raymond, was also a most acceptable item, and was performed with rare skill. Altogether the initial concert of the Women's Music Club was a marked success.

At the conclusion a reception was given by the ladies of the Club, which was a most enjoyable function. Refreshments were served, and a pleasant hour was spent in social intercourse. The ladies of the executive are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

Reference is had to the food upon which the boys are fed. Before us as we write are two so-called menus, taken from "University Hall" at New Haven, where some 2,000 Yale students are led up to the trough three times a day and regaled with alleged nutriment. Probably that many more are suffered to forage at will among the hosts, refined families, and genteel boarding houses of the City of Elms; but all that these 2,000 boarders of "the commons" have to eat may be gathered from the bills of fare, to wit:

BREAKFAST.
Grapes.
Rolled Oats.
Boiled Eggs.
Corned Beef Hash with Fried Eggs.
Baked and Fried Potatoes.
Tea.
DINNER.
Consomme.
Vermicelli.
Scotch Broth.
Chow Chow.
Catsup.
Boiled Cod, Sauce Parsin.
Roast Leg of Lamb, Brown Gravy.
Mashed Potatoes.
Baked Potatoes.
Green Peas.
Bread and Butter Pudding.
Vanilla Sauce.
Lemon Pie.
Tea.
Coffee.

What can be expected, one may ask in tones of reproach and scorn, of young men reared on this slender and delusive schedule; broken promise given to the ear, but broken to the hope; this array of provender which is ostensibly designed to sustain life and produce phosphorus in the brain, but which, like the chicken's neck, is graceful, but not sustaining? Compare with it the menus of the past generation in any country college, whence came the brains of our present public life. We quote from memory:

BREAKFAST.
Boiled Beef.
Fried Pork.
Water.
DINNER.
Boiled Beef.
Potatoes Boiled, a la jackets on.
Dried Apples (twice a week).

The contrast is painful. Yet how many of our voluminous publicists, in treating the topic of university education, take any note whatever of this most important phase of the question? The menus speak for themselves. We need say no more.—Portland Oregonian.

Mrs. Isabella Smith, of 25 Empress avenue, West London, is very anxious concerning the whereabouts of her son, John W. Smith, who left this city about a year ago for Nipigon, New Ontario. Smith is an unmarried man, 35 years of age, and most all his life has been employed at livery stables.

Plain Living and High Thinking of To-day.

It is high time, perhaps, to protest against a popular injustice to the college boys of to-day, as compared with those of a past generation. It is the fashion to reprobate their manners, morals, and stocks of knowledge, and even to hold them up to ridicule as spendthrifts, ruffians, and ignoramuses. This criticism may be well grounded in isolated cases, but in all cases the character of our college boys must be viewed in connection with the serious disadvantage they labor under, which we have never seen advertised to.

Reference is had to the food upon which the boys are fed. Before us as we write are two so-called menus, taken from "University Hall" at New Haven, where some 2,000 Yale students are led up to the trough three times a day and regaled with alleged nutriment.
