The funeral procession was the most imposing. The coffin was draped with the tattered Union Jack which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and also the tattered flag of the British Chartered South Africa company, which went through the fight at Massikessi, and was carried on the gan carriage of "Long Cecil," used at the siege of Kimberley, through the crowded streets to the cathedral.

The streets were lined by troops, who saluted the passing cortege. The pallbearers were Sir John Gordon Sprigg, premier of Cape Colony, and five others, proceeding the passing cortege.
