

THE RIVAL

VOL. I No 16.

TORONTO, DECEMBER 17, 1906. PRICE 10 CENTS.

A STRANGE KIDNAPPING

When Dicky Ford awoke on Thursday morning and looked over at his room-mate's bed, he was surprised to see it unoccupied. Ford was the proud captain of his college's football team, and his room-mate and greatest chum, Rex Winston, played centre half. On the morrow, Glyndon, Ford's school, was to play St. Simon's College in the greatest and most important match of the season.

The captain wondered why Winston was not still in bed, as he was not by any means an early riser, and would not get up unless absolutely forced to do so.

After dressing quickly, Ford went out and tried to find out where his friend was. Winston was missing. As nothing had been yet found out about him, Ford told the Head. At prayers, those who did not already know, were informed.

Everyone was greatly surprised. Consternation reigned supreme. Anxious consultations were held in re-

"By Means of the Water Pipe."