The H. K. Fly Company will publish in January, 1914, a novel by a new author who writes of the everlasting hills, the smiling green fields and the running brooks; of life, love and youth, as only unspoiled, unconquered youth can write.

If you are interested in knowing about a good, clean, wholesome story, that will make your pulse beat a little faster, your breath come a little quicker and the tear-drops gather in your eyes with the pure joy of living, write to

THE H. K. FLY COMPANY, 263 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
