

3T is my pleasure to call your attention to the coming engagement of.....

The Camille D'Arville Opera Company

at the Grand Opera House, Saturday Evening, March 14th.

Miss D'Arville has ingratiated herself with the music-loving public by her many admirable qualities and artistic talents, and the company supporting her includes some of the most noted players in the field of comic opera, which, with principals and chorus, numbers seventy people.

The opera presented will be "Madelaine, or the Magic Kiss," the most melodious, catchy and charming of comic operas, which remained in New York City twenty weeks; Boston, twenty-two weeks; Chicago, eight weeks; and Philadelphia, eight weeks, and scored the strongest success of last season.

A particular enhancement to this engagement will be that entirely new costumes and scenery will be used here.

Trusting you will encourage the efforts to provide high-grade attractions by favoring with your patronage.

I am, Yours respectfully,

A. E. ROOTE,

Manager Grand Opera House.

P. S.—The sale of seats will begin at the Box Office Thursday of this week.
