CLUES, BUT NO MURDERER

Attorney General Will Send Specia Officer- To-Day to Probe Hamilton Mystery.

Hamilton, Oct. 13.-(Special.)-The simple truth about the murder case to ment. The police have not one good clue to the identity of either the victim or the murderer. Crown Attorney Washington to-day applied to the attorney-general's department for a provincial officer, and he was not fied to night that a detective would be on the job in the morning. The people of the city are getting worked up to a state of nervousness similar to that which existed after the Barron tragedy, and the police have been called to several homes to assure the people that the murderer had not taken refuge under some of the beds. Two constables were called to the home of Mrs. Crowe, 27 George-street, to-night. She thought she heard suspicious noises, and the constables had to earch the place before she was satis-

As stated in The World yesterday the assault theory has fallen flat thre the evidence of the doctors who held there is no new light on the motive The fact that the handkerchief was found in the dead woman's mouth led at first to the supposition that it had been used as a gag, but it is such a small and flimsy affair that it would not serve for that purpose. The police believe that it may have been used to tel on the mountain, says that a man night, and asked for a drink. When he was shown a paper containing the news of the tragedy, he trembled with terror and shoved it away from him. It does not seem probable, however, that the man who committed the crim would hang around the neighborhood. The missing hat has not yet bee ocated. It is described as being

Mrs. Wilson, who lives near th ne of the tragedy, says she saw an walking away from that direction Monday shortly before noon, He carried a coat on his arm and held a parcel wrapped in a newspaper in on hand. Roy Dawson, a teamster fol-lowed the same man to the Mountain View Hotel, where he disappeared Prizes for Well Kept Lawns.

The prizes given by the City Improvement Society for well kept hawns and flower beds were presented this evening before a large gathering in the council chamber. President Steele complained that private interests had gob oled up hearly all the attractive spots on the beach, and he said the parks board should take steps to acquire more park property there. He also endorsed the proposition to establish a local prizes were presented by the following young ladies: Misses Marion Forneret Wilhelmina Brick, Edna Bergin an Dorothy Hobson. The winners of the first prizes were: District No. 1, Jas. Sweetlove; No. 2, Chas. Mortimer; No. 3, George Roberts; No. 4, C. D. Nash Upton Co.; special prize, Chas. Morti-was the victim of a natural gas exhere some months ago in which his lower eyelids were burned away. His sight was not injured, but oculists feared that because of the unprotected condition of his eyes, he would soon become blind. An attempt to elongate the bases of the missing eyelids made some weeks ago failed, but now, as a result of an operation performed at Mount Carmel Hospital, Kerr has new eyelids. In this operation living tissue was cut from his arm and quickly fashioned into lids, the bases at the same time being roughened for engrafting. The new lids were then placed in position and secured by delicate ligatures.

This was done last Saturday. Kerr's eyes were bandaged shut and left in that condition until to-day. When the bandages were removed the surgeons pronounced the operation a success.
The new lids have grown fast and Kerr will be very slightly disfigured.
His sight will be saved.
