THURSDAY MORNING

Grand Display of

New Autumn Goods

Every day we are opening out in all departments novelties for fall wear, this autumn's purchases being without question the finest aggregation of choice goods we have ever presented.

In the Women's Building.

The woman's building at the exhibit tion was naturally crowded yesterday with the little women of the day, and their little brothers were almost as numerous. The quality of the exhibits in this department is of a much higher standard than ever before. For example, among the quilts, while the immemorial methods are followed, the designs, the material, the needlework and the general good taste is very apparent. Similarly in all the other classes a finer appreciation of what is artistic is apparent. In the Women's Building.

The wood carving is remarkable for craft which has so very recently obtained a footing in Toronto. Some fine examples of pyrography, stained in color, as well as of the normal description, are to be seen. There are also some beautiful specimens of marque-

Mrs. W. H. Orr has gained first prize for a daintily embroidered tea cosy, and another first for an embroidered table cover. Mrs. T. F. Wright gets a first for a finely embroidered shirt waist. Other notable firsts are a sofa cushion by Mrs. C. L. Marshall, a Mal-tese lace collar by Mrs. L. Roberts, a splendid piece of Carrick-ma-Cross lace by Mrs. J. Thompson, and an excellent piece of battenburg by Miss A.
M. L. Schubart.

In the photography department Freeland's studio takes first for twenty por-traits, and Galbraith first for twenty views and interiors. Chas. J. Grine has the red card for the best thru interiors

The art work of the year is a decidbe interesting to know the cause of the higher order of merit. Henry, Winona Travelling and Outing Wraps, &c. a first, and a pottery subject obtains a similar honor for Miss Florence Wood-ward, London.

Muriel E. Stark has secured several awards, among them a first for an ex-cellent landscape in oils. R. E. Mills takes a first for a portrait in the old

Lansdowne School is first for the work of the third and fourth classes, M. M. McAuley, Centre Island, having a first for drawing in the same class of work. The executive of the exhibition, and the woman's committee, are especially delighted with the articles loaned by Lady Aberdeen, thru Mrs. Willoughby Cummings. These consist of a beau-tiful Irish Carrick-ma-Cross lace shawl, presented to her ladyship last June on the occasion of her launching a vessel in Ireland, and in recognition of the great work she has done for Irish industries; and a needle-point lace fan, which was presented to Lady Aberdeen at the same time by the ladies of Ireland. Two of these fans were made, one for Queen Alexandra and the other alarming seems the divorce epidemic in our land to-day, it is certainly a better solution of marital misery than ground where love is not, hate too often is. and hate is the devil. Love, and love only, renders marriage roof and one name obnoxious, segara-tion is the only moral and decent course vironed with respectability.

Perhaps, despite our higher ideals and add one-half cup of milk. Sift two cups not for divorce.

Surely, of the two evils, divorce is preferable to murder.
