Ladies' Tailor-made Suits

Ladies' Ready-wear Suits have been found a strong feature of this season's business. Some of the reasons for the popularity being improved designs and methods of manufacture, assured fit, no waiting, as with ordered goods; also ability to try on suit complete before buying. All the latest styles and materials are comprised in our stock, ranging from $15 to $50.

COLD WEATHER COATS

We show an exceptionally fine line of Ladies' Tailored Tweed and Fine Cloth Coats, including a specially full stock of plain black jackets. All prices from $10 up.

ANOTHER HANDKERCHIEF SPECIAL

We have lately had immense success with a special line of unlaundered ladies' handkerchiefs, which we have been running at $1.25 per dozen. As we found some enquiry for a laundered handkerchief for gift purposes, we have secured another lot of ladies' fine linen, cambric, handkerchiefs, laundered ready for use. 14 inch hemstitched border, scrip initial, surrounding embroidered wreath (every initial letter in stock), $2 per dozen, worth considerably more.

DRESS GOODS ITEMS

Black and White Shepherd Plaids, in almost every conceivable check, at 40c, 50c, and $1 per yard.
Black Chiffon Panamas at 90c to $1.50 per yard.

FATHER FINDS DAUGHTER

Strange Story From Kingston, Ont.—Closing Chapter of Twenty-Five Eventful Years.

KINGSTON, Oct. 24.—(Special).—A case has just come to light where a father and a daughter know one another for the first time. With nothing but recollections he turned his back upon his former home, returning at Kingston, left to seek his fortune in the Rockies, endured great hardship, meets with no success, and finally seeks new fields of adventure in Alaska.

Here he meets with such success that he has $20,000 worth of gold, but in the twinkling of an eye his gains, his hopes and his reward for the many years which he had endured were lost by the upsetting of his canoe in making one of the rapids. After this he seeks the less venturesome life in Vancouver, where he settled down, got a position, did well and married again. Years roll on, until Pat Gallagher, also an old member of the battery, and who knew Mr. Stellerington then and now, came to Kingston a few weeks ago, and in conversation with Samuel Jordan, of this city, mentioned Stellerington's name. Mr. Jordan then let Mrs. Charles Hebert of 7 Plum-st., Kingston, know of what he heard, and she, believing him to be her father, wrote and received a letter from him which confirmed her hopes. Mrs. Hebert, upon the death of her mother, when she was but a few days old, was adopted by her uncle, John "Blade" of Montreal, who never knew whether Stellerington was dead or alive.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR ONE AND A HALF HOURS' PLEASURE.

The R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge-street, will give their regular Edison monthly recital tomorrow, Saturday, evening, at 8 o'clock in their large Recital Hall and all owners of phonographs and their friends are cordially invited.

Do not miss this, as the new issue of November Records contains some very fine selections.

CHATHAM TEETH CHATTER
GAS SUPPLY IS CUT OFF

Merchants and Professional Men
Wear Overcoats—Factories Close —Printers Stick Type.

CHATHAM, Oct. 24.—(Special).—The main which carries the natural gas to Chatham from the Tilbury gas burst at 10 o'clock this morning, and the escaping gas later caught fire.

The Volcanic Oil and Gas Company, from whose wells the gas is brought, are experiencing great difficulty in repairing the break. As the boilers at the Chatham Steam Heating Company's plant are heated with natural gas, the result is that the heat stores, offices, factories, city and county buildings, as well as the schools, have been without heat all day. Traffic at 10 o'clock this morning, and the power house are heated with gas and there was no means of generating steam.

Many factories which use gas engines have had to shut down for the time being. Both local newspapers came out this evening alluding to the fact that no gas to melt the metal in the type-setting machines, and in the stores and offices men might be seen working with their overcoats and hats on.

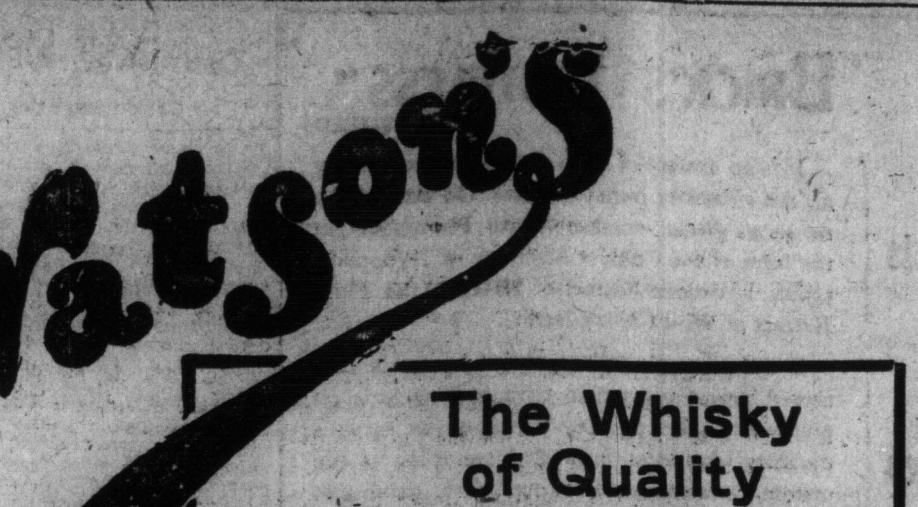

SHOT TWO WOMEN.
Returning From a Dance at Welland —Man Escaped.

WELLAND, Oct. 24.—(Special).—Miles Mikakou, an Austrian, while returning from a dance with his board-house mistress and another woman, got into an argument over six dollars that the woman said was owed by her. He pulled a 35-calibre revolver and fired in such haste that the bullet pierced the thigh of Mrs. Petro Valchek, and then lodged in the knee of Mrs. Milka Yojic, who he had intended to hit. He immediately fled into the darkness. Both women are recovering.

BOARDING HOUSE THEFT.
Ex-Butler and Kitchen Maid Charged
With Theft From Bloor St. House.

Charles and Sadie Manners, who had been employed by Mrs. Isabel Gar at Butler and kitchen maid in her boarding house at 142 West Bloor-street, were arrested by Detective Mackie in Elm-street yesterday afternoon upon a warrant taken out by Mrs. Gar, charging them with theft of linen and other household effects while in her employ a month ago.

WHO WILL IT BE?
Hon. Meers, Foy and Pyne and Meers, McNaught and Crawford, the city members in the legislature, held a conference in the attorney-general's rooms at the parliament buildings yesterday afternoon. It is understood that among the matters discussed was the selection of a license inspector in succession to Mr. Purvis; also that no decision was reached.

Noted for its rich, full and mellow flavor, this famous Scotch is becoming recognized in Canada as superior to all others. Connoisseurs agree that WATSON'S is a whisky preserving the finest traditions of Scotland's best.

CARING FOR THE INDIANS
CAUSES BREEZY COMMENT

Anglican Mission Board Receive an Exhaustive Report From Hon. S. H. Blake.

The semi-annual session of the general board of missions of the Church of England yesterday resulted in such an unexpectedly large attendance that the meeting had to be held in the St. James Cathedral parish house.

The feature of the day was the presentation by Hon. S. H. Blake of a comprehensive report upon the existing conditions with the government to induce them to assume as their own full charge the work of education, leaving to the church religious care. The existing system, he said, had been a partial failure, and was becoming too onerous for the churches with their rapidly-growing membership.

The report also called for scientific and paternal investigations since the death lists of pupils or graduates, while still young, were being sent to the government. The existing facts of scrofula, consumption or tuberculosis, the taking of children with tuberculous taints from tented life in the camps, old-fashioned, ill-ventilated buildings was an undoubted cause of sickness.

The Indians, in large number, because of these deaths, have been withholding their children, and so the schools were not doing their full work. The education of the Indians, however, rising in the industrial scale; last year they had 750 pupils, and this year, being paid by the federal government, 238, cost $42,422, of which $27,750 is being paid by the government, and $14,672 by the Indians.

The government gives $13,824, and the church $41,844. The work has been done by the traveling missionary among the Indians than by the boarding school.

Clergymen Deny.
Northwest clergymen present combated the reflection in the report upon the school because of deaths, declaring that the proportion of outside deaths was greater. The Bishop of Algoma charged that the statistics furnished were widely and inexcusably misleading, but Mr. Blake proclaimed that reflecting judgment would no longer support the present inefficient supervision and over-manned costly staffs. Within a year, he said, a beginning had been made at reform and improvement.

The board resolved that it would not while alone to industrial and boarding schools for Indians, or take up operations of that class released by the Church Missionary Society of England. Evangelistic work among the tribes would be continued, but education was the duty of the government. Other denunciations ask for sufficient funds to sustain the schools, but desire to continue in charge.

Secretary's Report.
The report of the general secretary, Rev. Dr. Tucker, was the review of strong new settlements in the Northwest one or two years old and of rural centres so young as yet without a name; for instance, the Town of Govan, Qu'Appelle diocese, nine months old, has 300 people. In one day last spring, three English missions, six dioceses, and fifty churches and sixty parsonages are in process of erection in the effort to keep pace with the immigration. The Columbia Coast Mission was found to be as successful and self-supporting as the others. It had been reported with its mission steamer and two land hospitals. A larger steamer is required, and the hope is that some churchmen will contribute $10,000 to effect an exchange. These are but incidents among hundreds of lesser evidences of the great forward movement of the church, begun five years since, and succeeding beyond sanguine anticipation, but still leaving a greater work to overcome.

Treasurer's Report.
The report of the treasurer, Chancellor

Worrell, showed contributions to be $1000 in advance of last year's. A proposal for a Canadian Anglican mission province in China came from a missionary, Rev. W. C. White, Longueux, as a reflex of the Centenary missionary conference and ordered for discussion later.

The apportionments recommended for 1908 were: Algoma, $7000; Athabasca, $11,000; Caledonia, $2000; Calgary, $3000; Columbia, $2500; Keweenaw, $1500; Kootenay, $4000; Mackenzie River, nil; Mooseonee, $2500; New Westminster, $2500; Qu'Appelle, $10,000; Ruperts Land, $10,450; Saskatchewan, $17,500; Yukon, $4000.

These grants are a considerable advance upon last year's on the whole, and the annual apportionments to raise the $120,000 were discussed at length. Religious denominations and church religious care boarding schools (Archbishop Matheson, Bishop Williams and Hon. S. H. Blake) for adjustment. The western dioceses are to be called upon for 40 per cent. additional, as they have been taxed lightly.

Archbishop Matheson, Bishop Williams and Hon. S. H. Blake, were engaged to hold a conference to-day with the woman's auxiliary.

A paper by Charles Jenkins, urging a settled policy upon foreign, Indian and white work, was referred to a special committee.

ANNEXATION

and collectable taxes $42,579, with a debt of $250,000. A sewage system would have to be installed.

In Toronto there are 11,424 acres and in Ward 1 24,000 feet available for building and for an increase in population of 6000 east of the Don and north of Queen-street.

The great frontage of vacant land would tend toward land speculation and the exploiting of such land by the construction of local improvements would eventually place the responsibility for payment on the city. Mr. Forman thought consideration should first be given to the residential area between the city and East Toronto. He believed the Junction was in the same position as East Toronto as to vacant land.

Mayor Ross held that there was little vacant land in East Toronto, and that the report had included land in the Township. He pointed out how desirable a residential area would be acquired by taking in all the land from 200 feet north of Danforth-road to East Toronto. He urged that the municipality had its own waterworks and sewerage systems, fire halls and equipment and that in four years the town would be freed from contract with the York Radial. Of the debt of $250,000 was for schools and $55,000 for waterworks.

Major Baird of the Junction renewed the argument. He maintained that the Junction's financial status compared favorably with Toronto's, as its debt per acre was $1,000,000 for 12,000 population, or 12 mills per capita, while the city's debt of $15,000,000 for 212,000 population figured out 18 mills per acre. The mayor reminded him that there was no sinking fund, and he replied that the unexpired term of 38 years gave ample time for preparation. He held that no new sewage system would enable the city to prevent the Junction from annexation.

Unless the city made prompt agreement to annex the Junction would go ahead on its own account and annex all the land between the Junction and the Hunter. The Junction was too large to be added to Ward 6 and should be a ward itself.

Controller Ward moved a resolution against annexing East Toronto, and was supported by Controller Hubbard, who said that he favored the annexation of the northern territory because the city was already built up close to its limits, but that this was not true of the Junction and East Toronto. The city should annex the conditions.

Mr. Coady appeared.

The city treasurer admitted that he hadn't made any recent study of the Junction's finances, but on the basis of those submitted two years ago, he was opposed. He seemed surprised that the population was represented as 12,000, whereas it was stated two years ago to be 10,000.

City Engineer Rust said he differed from his fellow-civic officials, inasmuch as he was in favor of annexation as a step that would enable him to prepare a broad, comprehensive scheme of waterworks extensions, and would enable the city to prevent the erection of disgraceful shacks inside the city.

Mayor a Warm "Pro".
The mayor was equally pronounced in his views. The city covered now 17 square miles, and in a few years its population would be 350,000. To take in all the proposed territory would bring in about 24 square miles, whereas Detroit, with a 260,000 population, had 27 square miles. The new land would enable workmen to purchase property cheaply for housing buildings. Controller Hooker declared like views and pointed out that the establishing of the big smelter in industry would mean adding 40,000 or 50,000 to the population.

Controller Hubbard charged that the proposal was most unfair to citizens who had been paying taxes for years, and that individuals who had gone outside the city to seek exemptions were now wanting to come back.

Controller Harrison believed that the ultimate destiny of both East Toronto and the Junction was annexation, but doubted if the time were opportune. He suggested that reports be received from the assessment commissioner and city treasurer, and the board agreed.

INDIANS ON WARPATH.
Tribe of Utes Require Attention of Troops.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The tribe of Ute Indians which more than a year ago wandered away from their reservation in Utah and created trouble in Colorado and Wyoming by threatening to take the warpath and raid ranches is reported to have again broken out on the Cheyenne River reservation in South Dakota, where the tribe was being temporarily quarantined. At the request of the secretary of the interior, the war department to-day ordered troops from Fort Mead, S.D., to the scene of the trouble.

LAND LINES FOR MARCONI.
Reported That He Will Erect His Own Service in Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Marconi's London officials announce that he has agreed to erect his own land lines in Canada to avoid the delay now existing.

STILL BUSY.
Rumors that several of the large manufacturing firms in this city were about to cut the number of their employees was denied by general managers, who were interviewed last night.

TRUAX AGAIN TO CONTEST CENTRE BRUCE ELECTION

Hon. A. G. MacKay Was Well Received, But Little Enthusiasm Shown in Proceedings.

WALKERTON, Oct. 24.—(Special).—South Bruce Liberals to-day nominated E. B. Truax, ex-M.L.A., as their candidate for the next provincial election. There were present about 140 people. Six candidates all dropped out but Mr. Bryan, formerly M.L.A. in the House of Commons, was elected.

F. G. Inwood spoke at some length on the revision of the voters' lists. Hon. A. G. MacKay showed how the Conservative party had been winning glory thru measures originated by himself and the Liberal party, mentioning the taxing of mines by royalty, and the succession tax as the cause of the present surplus. The Liberal leader criticized the wholesale removal of justices of the peace, and the administration of the liquor traffic thru party politics. He referred to Hon. Dr. Pyne's action in the Courtney case.

Resolutions of congratulation to the federal and provincial leaders were passed. Mr. MacKay was well received, but little enthusiasm was shown in the proceedings.

TOOK THEIR WORD.
Insurance Companies Reports Were Never Devised Deceitfully.

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 24.—Further evidence of the ineptness of Otto Kelsey to administer the office of state superintendent of insurance was given before a committee of the legislature.

Charles S. Crippen, statistician of the department, who examines the reports filed by the big insurance companies, admitted that the valuation of securities reported by the insurance companies is never questioned; that he had practiced accepted everything turned in by the companies at its face value.

ENGINEER'S COSTLY ERROR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Miscellaneous on the part of an engineer has rendered useless half a mile of construction work on the Pennsylvania Railroad from the mouth of the tunnel under the Palisades southward, over the Secaucus meadows in New Jersey, and it is said, will entail an expense of $500,000 to 1,000,000 to correct the mistake.

MOB HANGE WOMAN INSULTED.
OKOLONA, Miss., Oct. 24.—Charged with having over the telephone insulted and threatened the life of a young white woman of this place, Henry Sykes, a negro, was taken from an officer near Van Vleet, five miles from here, last night and hanged to a tree.
