

NORMAL LIFE TO BE RESUMED

Imperial Authorities Think Early Re-peopling of Transvaal and Orange River Colonies Advisable.

LORD MILNER'S BUSINESSLIKE TALK

"We ought to show ourselves masters in the house we have taken."

Durban, Oct. 29.—The Imperial authorities have reached the conclusion that the early re-peopling of the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies is advisable, so that the normal industrial and agricultural life of the colonies may be resumed.

In the course of a speech yesterday afternoon, Lord Milner of Cape Town said it was useless to wait until the war was over in a formal sense. It might be over, but he declared, but it was burning itself out, and in time, we ought to show ourselves masters in the house we have taken by rebuilding it and beginning to live in it.

THE REAL ISSUE.

London, Oct. 29.—Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary speaking yesterday in Cape Town, repeated the arguments he has frequently used in justification of the government's South African pacification policy. He defended himself from the accusation that he was responsible for the great Britain had been on the eve of a struggle with the Boers, not over the question of franchise, but on the issue whether Britain or Boer should be predominant in South Africa.

BOTHAS' NARROW ESCAPE.

Pretoria, Oct. 29.—Commandant-General Botha's narrow escape from the British columns pursuing him was a close affair. Major Remington, marching on the commandant's headquarters at night, only to find that Botha had got off with a few hundred yards' start, leaving his hat, revolver and papers behind. Ten prisoners, including Commandant Hans Botha and former Landrost Schutte, were captured.

SEVERE FIGHTING.

London, Oct. 29.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener dated Pretoria, Monday, Oct. 28, says he has received reports of important fighting on Oct. 24, near Kemp's Dam, where the British force of 1,000 men repulsed after severe fighting, leaving only dead on the field, including Commandant Botha and Major Remington. The British force consisted of 74 Boers killed, 16 wounded and 205 prisoners. In addition, 45 Boers surrendered, and 500 rifles, 15,000 rounds of ammunition, 300 horses, 500 mules and 8,000 head of cattle.

PLAN IMPRACTICABLE.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The delegation of Dutch longshoremen, which is visiting Hamburg for the purpose of getting the re-organization of the German longshoremen in boycotting English ships as a protest against the Boer war, has met with the warmest reception there. The longshoremen of Hamburg have decided to co-operate in a strike in the movement which they are here, however, believe that the plan is impracticable.

NATAL'S TRADE REVIVING.

London, Oct. 29.—Trade in Natal is reviving, as the country is cleared of the enemy, says a despatch from Cape Town to the Times. For the nine months ended Sept. 30 the imports amounted to £2,000,000, an increase of £400,000 on the corresponding period of 1900.

FINALLY SUCCEEDS.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Twice failed in his attempt to destroy his life, Robert Nichols, a young clerk, was successful on the third attempt this afternoon, when he cut his throat with a razor.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE FAILED.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—A determined attempt at suicide was made yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Hamilton attempted to end her life by taking a large quantity of salicylic acid.

COMING TO TORONTO.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Mr. A. Phillips, who for the last three years had been assistant in the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, has just returned to Toronto. He had a pleasant trip.

THE END OF AN ALLIANCE.

The Ottawa Correspondent of Le Journal Has an Idea.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—The End of an Alliance is the heading of an article from the Ottawa correspondent of the Journal, in which it is stated that the French-Canadian of Ottawa are going to change their political allies. Up to quite lately, the correspondent adds, French-Canadian have given their support to the Liberal Party, but the Irish Catholics, but the Sons of the Green Isle take all the time to fight for what little they receive, and the party of our allies is to be seen whenever an election takes place. While they have always elected two or three of their own nationality in the Lower Town, thanks to our generosity, they have never voted for one of our candidates. At the municipal elections of January last, a totally illiterate Frenchman ran against three French-Canadians, and out of 100 Irish Catholic votes polled, 101 were cast for the Liberal Party. It is said, in future, they will unite with the Conservatives or Liberal Protestants, and leave the Irish to fight it out amongst themselves.

BULL MOVEMENT PREDICTED.

Light Thrown on the Recent Strength in Toronto Street Railway.

Way Stock.

DREAM OF NIAGARA FALLS POWER.

Facts That Go to Show That a New Era of Progress is in Sight.

A light has been thrown upon the recent strength in Toronto Street Railway stock, and many talk of a further substantial rise in the issue within the next few months.

One basis of this prophecy is found in the fact that steps are being taken towards realizing the dream of obtaining electric power from Niagara Falls with which to operate the railway. On Monday a conference was held in this city looking to this end, and at the meeting Mr. James Ross, the millionaire street railway man of Montreal, was present. It is not thought that the power can be obtained before 1903, so that this argument may not immediately affect the market.

Auburn, Oct. 29.—At 7:13 o'clock this morning Leon F. Czolgosz, murderer of President William McKinley, paid the extreme penalty exacted by the law for his crime. He was shocked to death by 1700 volts of electricity.

UNIVERSITY CONFEDERATION.

Editor World: I can hear witness to the authenticity of one of the incidents mentioned in your account of university confederation.

The late Sir Casimir Gzowski—then Colonel Gzowski—and I were together members of the university confederation.

As we were going away from a meeting together, Col. Gzowski deplained to me the opportunities which Canadian youths were missing for want of education in practical science.

I answered that the only remedy was full equipment of the practical science department of the university, and that this, being very costly, could be effected only by combination of resources.

Colonel Gzowski assented, and came into the federation movement.

The other day I was at Cornell University, which has acquired a considerable reputation for its Department of Practical Science.

I happened to speak to one of the staff about the difficulty which young men from the universities were beginning to find in getting themselves placed in suitable callings.

"We have no such difficulty here," he said, "your men are placed and well placed as fast as we can produce them."

"The present unfortunate division is the consequence of the former limitation of the Provincial University to members of the then established church, which committee universities for themselves. Then, the Provincial University having been thrown open, Bishop Strachan thought fit to secure, and found yet another university for the purpose of educating the children of the Bishop has left a great name, but he can hardly be said to have shown much practical sense in attempting to found a second university in the same city."

"He ought to have foreseen that the competition would be too keen, and that away some strength from the greater, and might itself be kept in existence by political and stock influences, could never have a life of its own."

"There is now, it is to be feared, no way out of the dilemma into which the mistakes of our political ancestors, combined perhaps with some narrowness of view and lack of patriotic spirit among ourselves, have brought us, which will do operate in time. But the government need not make matters worse by fostering antagonism and taking part in the mediation of resources."

SAYS RICE FIRED THE SHOT.

Constable Stewart's Story at Trial of Last of the Noted Bank Robbers.

Line of Defence Hinted At.

Will Try to Show That the Prisoner Jones Killed Constable Boyd.

Fred Rice, who enjoys the enviable reputation of having been connected with the most remarkable criminal trio that Canada has ever known, spent the whole of yesterday in the dock at the trial of Constable Stewart, testifying to evidence laid before 12 jurors, who will determine whether or not he murdered County Constable William Boyd.

Rice was dressed with the same care and neatness which characterized his appearance at his memorable trial before Judge McEwen in May last on the charge of robbing the private bank and the post-office at Aurora. He was in a black tuxedo and wore a dark red tie. His face is quite as thin as it was at his last appearance in court, and it is apparent that his sejour in Kingston Penitentiary has agreed with him. To his acquaintances in court he nodded or entered, and frequently during the day leaned over the railing to consult with his counsel. While the jury was being sworn he stood quietly, albeit betraying some nervousness.

WOMEN INTERESTED.

"Vim" Seavey, the well-known woman, who figured in the episode of the trial, and the relatives of the prisoner in the dock were conspicuous by their absence. Three women entered the courtroom immediately after the court had resumed at 2 o'clock and remained until the hour of adjournment. They watched every movement of the prisoner, but it is not thought they were moved to attend the trial by anything except curiosity. A fourth woman occupied a seat near them in the grand jury box, and still another sat back in the crowd until nearly 4 o'clock, when she also moved up where she could get a better look at the accused.

The courtroom was not uncomfortably crowded, owing, no doubt, to the order issued by Sheriff Stewart, that only those having business with the court should be allowed to enter. County Constable Kennedy, wearing the uniform of a city police constable, was at the entrance and was besieged with applications for admission long before the hour announced for the commencement of the trial.

The counsel engaged in the case are: High Guttridge, M.P., of Guelph, who is conducting the prosecutions at the court, and Messrs. T. C. Robinson and J. M. Coffey, who appear for the prisoner.

Mr. Guttridge is a tall, well-built man of about 35 years of age. He reviewed the Crown's case to the jury in eloquent and masterly style. The learned Crown Counsel, when not engaged in examining a witness, was getting perfectly familiar with the case, and he was constantly referring to the jury in eloquent and masterly style.

The Crown's case was well under way when the learned counsel proceeded to recapitulate the evidence of the witnesses, and he was constantly referring to the jury in eloquent and masterly style.

ADMITS THE POPE IS FAILING.

Dr. Lappin Says His Holiness is Aging Rapidly.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—The Record-Herald's home correspondent writes: Dr. Lappin, Pope Leo's medical attendant, admits that His Holiness is aging rapidly and visibly. He sleeps very little and eats very little. His memory is weak with regard to present affairs, but tenacious of past events.

GAMBLE ON POPE'S LIFE.

London, Oct. 29.—A despatch from Paris to The Daily Express says that the local office of an American insurance company has just issued a policy of $20,000 on Pope's life. The company entered a certificate from the Pontiff's physicians before undertaking the insurance, and was only willing to insure him for a month.

WANTS TO "SMASH THINGS."

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The German press is discussing in lively fashion the following utterance, attributed to Emperor William: "If no commercial treaties are negotiated, I shall smash everything to pieces."

The Executive Committee of the National Liberals have adopted a resolution in favour of higher agricultural protection, but within such bounds as would leave long-term treaties possible.

The Christian Socialist Metal Workers' Association of the Rhine Country has adopted a resolution, almost unanimously, that the projected increase in wages is not to be made operative until such time as would prove ruinous in hard times.

PREMIER FARQUHARSON TO RUN. Charlottetown, Oct. 29.—Premier Farquharson today received the unanimous nomination of the convention of the Liberal party of West Queen's, called to nominate a candidate to contest for the seat made vacant by the elevation of Sir Louis Davies to the Supreme Court bench. A strong resolution was passed showing why the choice of the convention should be given the portfolio held by Sir Louis Davies.

ROYAL INVESTIGATURE.

King Personally Confers Insignia of Various Orders. London, Oct. 29.—King Edward today personally conferred the insignia of various orders on 230 officers and others recently decorated. The investiture, which was held in St. James' Palace, was attended by all the state ceremonial.

The two eldest sons of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, Prince Edward and Prince Albert, dressed in sailor suits, were interested spectators of the scene.

An incident which evoked some comment was the presence of Sir Francis Laking, the King's physician, at St. James' Palace, who, with his family, left the palace and drove to his home, opposite Marlborough House, just before His Majesty returned there.

DOCTOR ON EVERY TRAIN.

Railway Authorities to Adopt Plan which Check Typhoid Fever.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Unlikely precautions for preventing the spread of typhoid fever are about to be inaugurated by the Prussian State Railway authorities. Practically every station will be turned into a quarantine and every station master made a health officer. In addition to orders to maintain scrupulous cleanliness (throat depot premises the station masters are instructed to furnish the physicians, who will hereafter accompany every thru train, a detailed report of any typhoid cases in their towns or any symptoms of possible cases.

If fever conditions are found to exist the station master must furnish freshly boiled water for the use of passengers and the train crews. He must also maintain tanks of sterilized water conspicuously marked for the use of the travelling public. The regular station disinfecting fountain must be set up until the town has been declared free from fever. The medical authorities who have framed these new regulations assert that they will travellers and railway coaches are among the most prolific disseminators of contagion.

CHURCHES INTO POLITICS.

London Nonconformist Ministers Plan Campaign Against Intemperance and Vice.

London, Oct. 29.—In the hope of decreasing intemperance and removing other incentives to vice the London nonconformist churches are about to enter municipal politics. At a meeting this evening the new clerical body of the East End, most influential pastors of the East End, elaborated a practical scheme of action. The number of saloons will be opposed to the granting of new licenses, and will endeavor to secure the election of morally clean candidates to the local bodies. In this way it is hoped the authorities may be compelled to enforce more severe laws and to prosecute disreputable houses.

DOUBTS TRUTH OF RUMOR.

New York, Oct. 29.—A member of the British Legation who arrived in this city from Washington yesterday says there is no truth, so far as he knows, in the report that King Edward has either cancer of the throat or aneurism of the aorta.

"The reports about King Edward," he said, "are incredible. In answer to a query concerning King Edward's condition, a few days ago, I was informed that he was in good health, and not critically ill, as reported. If King Edward has recently become afflicted with cancer of the throat, and has undergone three operations, the wish of that parliament would not save his life.

"Cancer of the throat is a royal disease, which has been over Great Britain and Germany for many years. Frederick III, the father of the present German Emperor, his wife, the sister of King Edward and the Duke of Sax-Coburg-Gotha, his brother, died of cancer of the throat. Of the latter, it was said that he committed suicide, but investigation proved his death due to cancer. It has been rumored that the present Emperor is also suffering from the disease."

Dr. George P. Shady said yesterday: "If it be true that several operations have been performed because of the recurrence of the growth of papilloma, and if the condition is undoubtedly that of malignancy, I must say, however, that I don't take much stock in the story. Should the reports be true, it is a very serious case. Papilloma is a growth that occurs quite frequently on the vocal cords."

AGED AND PALID.

London, Oct. 29.—King Edward disappointed the crowds to-day by driving from his residence to the Palace and back in an entirely closed carriage. The King looked aged and pallid.
