Cattle Market Notes.

The house occupied by Supt. D. Walker is being removed from the market across Wellington-avenue to a site on Stanley Park.

Mr. D. McDonald of the firm of Whaley & McDonald, feels sore over the treatment he has received at the hands of the city. On Tuesday last his firm had 15 car loads of live stock consigned to them to sell. One man from each firm is allowed to go on the market before 8 a.m., the hour for opening, to see to the feeding of stock placed in their hands for sale. Mr. A. W. Maybee, acting for Whaley & McDonald, was on the market on Tuesday morning for this purpose. Mr. McDonald claimed as a representative of the owners of the 15-car loads, that he had a right to go upon the market, which he did. On account of this he was summoned to appear before the Police Magistrate for breaking the rules governing the market. During the year 1902 Mr. McDonald stated that his firm had handled 1800 cars, or $2,500,000 worth of live stock on the Toronto market, and this fact alone entitled him to fair play at least. Mr. McDonald also claims that he has the right to take his own feed upon the market if he so desires. And that the lessee of the market has no right to feed stock unless he is instructed to do so by the owner or his agent.

Cotton Gossip.

McIntyre & Marshall wired the following to J. G. Beaty, 21 Melinda-street, this evening:

The cotton market was stubborn to-day, and while trading was narrow, with little or no outside interest, selling pressure was light and a small rally was secured by the bulls. Weather conditions favored the market, and the movement for the week also the promise for receipts next week, is not heavy enough to justify free engagements on short side. The market in fact is a waiting one, and devoid of activity. Strike situation in New England shows no change, and the contest will probably be narrowed down to Lowell and the seven mills selected for the battle ground. The influence of this affair on market is waning. Weather to-day indicates continued unfavorable weather conditions over some areas west of Mississipi River, but on the whole we believe planting operations are progressing rapidly, and unless marked change for the worse takes place, there should be no serious delay in this part of next year's crop preparations. The strength of statistical position, however, stands out in bold relief, and within its sphere of influence will doubtless protect the market against a serious break, the speculation for an extended advance could hardly be based on this alone.
