ORE IS BEING SACKED AT THE PEOPLE'S MINE

Rumor of Great Depth of Drilling, However, is Not Correct—Camp Developments.

COBALT, Feb. 14.—(Special). — The recent shipment of 34 tons from the Foster mine consisted half of high-grade and half of second-grade ore. The former will carry from 2000 to 2500 ounces of silver to the ton. Supt. John MacDonald keeps between 50 and 60 men constantly at work. He has a lot of good miners in his employ. The chief feature of the recent development work in this mine is that the values of veins Nos. 8 and 11 have been proved at a depth of 140 feet.

Shaft No. 5 on the Foster is the main working shaft and is down 165 feet. At the 70-foot level a drift was run to the south to connect with vein No. 6, which is 300 feet distant. The vein for this distance has a width varying from 3 to 12 inches, carrying high silver values. Stoping was done up to the surface for 210 feet of this distance. In running this drift a cross-vein was encountered. This is vein No. 8. At the juncture of vein No. 8 with vein No. 5 the former had pinched out entirely for a few feet, but it was picked up within a few feet and found to be between eight and ten inches in width. This was early in the month of November, and at that time the station had been cut and drifting was begun at the 140-foot level. The other day this drift on vein No. 5 crossed vein No. 8, and the value of this latter vein was thus proved at the depth of 140 feet. In a similar way vein No. 11 was encountered and its value demonstrated. Vein No. 11 runs parallel to vein No. 8 and at right angles to vein No. 5. This is a narrow vein, but very rich in silver. No stoping has been done on it. Vein No. 8 has been traced on the surface for 500 feet close to the Lawson line.

175 Men at Nipissing.

One hundred and seventy-five men are at work at the Nipissing, and at the Kendall vein the timbers are being lowered to timber the shaft from the 100-foot to the 150-foot level. One hundred and fifty-five sacks of high-grade ore were taken out of this shaft one day last week, and on an average 40 sacks are sent up this shaft every day. At the 97-foot level a vein of rich ore has been broken into which is six inches wide and carries at least 3500 ounces of silver to the ton. The vein is on the south wall of the shaft, dipping slightly to the north. At the 60-foot level two small veins or seams were encountered. The northern one was followed a short distance and is pinched out entirely. The vein recently discovered in the shaft at the 97-foot level is believed to be a continuation of the southern seam or vein encountered at the 60-foot level, and, if this proves to be the case, as it undoubtedly will, a half million dollars extra will be produced from this shaft. The vein is in the Keewatin.

The McKinley-Darragh Company is working on the southern extension of the Kendall and has shipped a lot of ore from it.

The Public Mine.

Supt. Corkhill has 25 men working at the Provincial mine and is working double shift. The main shaft here is down 130 feet and 500 feet of drift-ing has been done at the 65 and 130-foot levels. A first-class plant, consisting of 100 horse-power boiler, a 10-drill compressor, hoist, etc., has been installed, but as this is a mine owned by the people and worked for the people, no invitation is extended to go underground. The Kerr Lake spur of the T. & N. O. Railway runs directly past the works, and shipments will be delayed till the long-delayed completion of this three miles of a railway.

Ore is sacked at the Provincial mine, but one is not told either the amount or the quality thereof. There is no truth in the report that a diamond drill has been at work here and proved values at a depth of 700 feet.

Supt. Houston, at the Right of Way, has 50 men and five drills working. No ore is being taken out at present, only development work is being done. The main shaft, or shaft No. 2, is now down to a depth of 155 feet, and a station is being cut at that level. The first, or upper, level will be at a depth of 85 feet. Shaft No. 1 is 575 feet away and drifting is being done from both shafts at the 85-foot level to connect them. Two hundred and twenty-five feet of this distance has been done, and the work will be completed by the 1st of March. When this is done shaft No. 1 will be closed. One hundred and fifty buckets are hoisted daily.

Shaft to be known as main shaft is about 70 feet distant from the main vein and a crosscut has been run and it was in this crosscut that a blind vein was recently found.

Concentrating Building Completed.

The building of the Cobalt Concentrators at the Nipissing is completed. It is 40 x 108 feet and four storeys high. A steam heating system is now installed. This consists of a rather novel arrangement of steam coils encased in a large box of heavy sheet iron. The steam is supplied by a pipe from the boiler. The heat from these coils is drawn off by a rotary fan at one end of the steam box or casement The fan is operated by a small steam engine having a direct drive on the fan. The heat is then forced up thru large galvanized iron pipes to the various parts of the building. The different flats in the south end of the building will be used for crushing and roasting the ores and the north end will be used for separating. The boilers are in place and bricked in, and the engine is being set up. A lot of machinery is on the ground and some of it is in the building. A car-load is also now at Cobalt Station being unloaded. With the heating plant in operation, the men will be able to work to better advantage.

LINEMAN FALLS 40 FEET AND IS SEVERELY HURT

Samuel Fletcher, a telephone lineman, fell from near the top of a 45-foot pole at Bloor-street and Ossington-avenue early yesterday. He sustained bad fractures on the arm, forearm and hip, and also suffered greatly from shock. It is supposed that Fletcher's belt was insecurely fastened, and therefore unable to stand the strain placed upon it. He lives at 986 Dovercourt-road.

BRAVE FIRE CHIEF KILLED AFTER 36 YEARS' SERVICE

Kruger, New York Dept.'s Grand Old Man, Falls Thru Trap Door Into Cellar.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Deputy Chief Charles W. Kruger, known for many years as "The Grand Old Man of the Fire Department," lost his life to-day while leading his men in a desperate fight against flames in Canal-street.

While working his way cautiously thru a cellar filled with smoke and gases, Kruger plunged thru a trap door into a sub-basement filled with water. He was dead when taken out, but in the few minutes which elapsed between the time the old man fell and his body was drawn out, more than a score of men had risked their own lives in an effort to save that of their leader.

"I knew it would happen this way," said one of Kruger's men when the chief's body was being carried away. "I have been to many fires with him. He was always in the lead. He never said, "Boys go into that place or this place," he always led us himself. He said, 'Boys follow me.' And that's just what he said this time when he led us into that basement."

36 Years a Fire Fighter.

Kruger was 57 years old, and had been a member of the department for 36 years. Several years ago Kruger was acting chief of the department for a time while Chief Croker was temporarily under suspension.

The fire started at 217 Canal-street and before it had been subdued swept that building from basement to roof, spread to two buildings adjoining, routed the tenants from several surroundingq tenement houses and threatened the Church of the Most Precious Blood, in Baxter-street.

It was after the flames in the upper part of the building had been brought under control, that Kruger took his men to the basement. A great pile of excelsior in bales was blazing furiously, and attempts to reach it with streams from the street had been unsuccessful. After several attempts to get at the fire from the outside, Kruger asked permission of Chief Croker to take his men thru the basement of 215 and cut a hole thru the wall to 217 where the fire was burning. Croker consented, and a moment later, with a dozen men behind him, Kruger plunged into the cellar.

The place was filled with smoke, and the deadly fumes of illuminating gas which flowed from broken or melted pipes, but the men pressed cautiously forward in the darkness. Just in the middle of the cellar Kruger stepped on a trap and plunged into six feet of water in the sub-basement.

Heroic Work.

Then began a desperate fight in the gas-filled cellar to save the chief. He could do little to help himself, and when Battalion Chief Galvin plunged into the dark hole and raised the old man's head above the surface he was unconscious. It required the combined efforts of twenty firemen, weakened as they were by breathing smoke and gas, to draw Galvin, who still clung to Kruger's body, from the pit.

The property loss as a result of the fire is placed at $50,000.

BOY'S HEAD CUT OFF.

Bus Overturned at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 14.—Earl McLeod, the 8-year-old son of J. D. McLeod, proprietor of the Prince Albert Hotel, was instantly killed this morning. He went to the station on his father's 'bus and while the driver was checking trunks, the horses started up. The lad could not hold them, and as the 'bus overturned the edge struck the top of the boy's head, cutting it off.
