EX-MAYOR HOCKEN

in Suit Against City.

Evidence has been concluded and today Mr. Justice Middleton will hear argument in the action of John Mackay against the City of Toronto for $43,000 for services in connection with the proposed purchase of the Toronto street, railway and the Toronto Electric Light plant. Mr. Hocken told of his negotiations with the owners of the railway company and the electric Light plant for the purchase by the city and the engaging of Mr. Mackay to make a report. He admitted that in months.

Reading of the reports of affiliated societies took up the greater part of the citoties took up the citot of the railway company and the electric plant for the purchase by the city, and the engaging of Mr. Mackay to make a report. He admitted that in in interview with newspapermen or October 23, 1913, he had said that the consummation of the agreement depended on the report of Mr Mackay. But he wished to add that the statement applied in the same way to the reports of Mr Ross and Mr. Arnold. "If either of these gentlemen had reported against the purchase," he said, "I would have dropped it at once. In fact, I went to Chicago specially to obtain the opinion of Mr. Arnold on the matter."

Would Recommend Payment.

"If Mr. Mackay had placed his figure at five or six thousand dollars," said the ex-mayor, "I would have recommended it to council." He said he had told Mr. Mackay when he asked him to analyze the reports of Mr. Ross and Mr. Arnold, that they were being paid $5,000 each for their services and that he would have to keep his account within that sum. Mr. Mackay said the shought he could not do the work for $5,000, but would put in an account that he considered reasonable. Regarding his authority for engaging the services of the plaintiff, Mr. Hocken a misapprehension. Council had only intended to employ Ross and Arnold. When it was considered advisable for the plaintiff, to go to Chicago he was to be away only two days, but he had stayed twelve and charged a bill of $458.45 to the city. Mr. Hocken said he had requested Mr. Mackay stelling to the first women to address the had requested Mr. Mackay stelling to the first women to address the had requested Mr. Mackay stelling to difference. On February 9, 1914, he wrote Mr. Mackay, telling point of difference. On February 9, 1914, he wrote Mr. Macay, telling JUDGMENT RESERVED im that if the final report was not ready it would be valueless. Wilson C. Eddis, a chartered accountant, stated that considering the time and the responsibility involved $8,765 would have been a reasonable figure. F. A. Mollitor, a New York engineer, thought $52,000 would have been a fair sum for the work, and A. W. Braithwaite, of the Montreal Bank, considered Mr. MacKay's price reasonable.

British Statement Admits Destruction of Private Factory Only.

London, Jan. 31.-Reuter's Telegram Co. this evening made public the folowing: "German newspapers claim the destruction of the Woolwich arsenal as a result of the recent explosions in East London. It is officially announced that this statement is a pure invention. The explosion occurred at the works of a private firm, and the other factories damaged were private establishments. No government factory was in any way concerned, and the output of munitions has been vir-

Miss Rachelle Copeland's concert in Forester's Hall was a great success. The hall was filled to the doors, and the young artiste looked very pretty in pale but and white shot taffetas, fulled with whate tuble and embroidered with pearls on the corsage. She received eight bouquets and baskets of flowers—Killarny roses, daffoddls, bridesmaid roses, Ruchmond roses, Mrs. Russeel roses, carnations, etc., but one large basket of pink anterrhinums and earnations, tied with pink satin ribbon, was a gem presented by the Durham Old Boys' Association, and this offering was no doubt greatly prized by Miss Copeland. The accompaniet, Miss Flora MacDonald, who wore a gown of mauve satin, was very popular also, as she received baskets and bouquets of roses. Among those present were: Mrs. T. W. McGarry, Mrs. Humfrey Anger, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Burroughes, Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Clarke, Mr. Cringan, Miss Cringan, Mrs. Van Pyk, Mrs. G. N. Bethune, Mr. Wheeldon, Mrs. R. Y. Baton, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Judge Coughlin, Chatham, Withholds Ruling on Point of Ordering by Mail.

Special to The Toronto World.
Chatham, Jan. 31.—Judgment was reserved by His Honor Judge Coughlin this afternoon in the appeal from the decisions of Magistrate Arnold, who dismissed the action against F. A. Robert, a former liquor dealer of Chatham, now with an office in Detroit, who was charged with selling liquor on Oct. 21 by reason of having delivered in the city orders mailed to the Detroit office from his bonded warehouse. The case was appealed at the instance of the Ontario license commissioners who are making a test case of the issue. The case rests on the technicality as to whether this method of doing business can be considered a bona-fide sale. At the concluding of the hearing J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the Ontario License Board, intimated that means would be adopted to prevent this use to founded warehouses.

"The Conflict," which, with Lucille ee Stewart in the leading role, will form the feature at the St and Theatre for today and for the balance of this week, is a strongly dramatic and thrilling Vitagraph production. Two women crave the love of the same man. One is pretty, proud and poor. The other is pretty, proud and rich. There is a long standing feud and rivalry between them. Both offer the man love, but the rich offers him as well everything that money can buy Then the jealousy grows more vioent, and it is dramatically shown to what lengths it will drive its lictims. The bill will also include Maurice Costello in "The Crimson Stain Mystery" and a world tour thru France and Greece. For the first half of next week there will be a big doubleheader bill, consisting of E. H. Sothern in "A Man of Mystery" and Charlie
