DAVID MONTGOMERY IS DEAD AT CHICAGO

Member of Famous Comedy Troupe Was Well Known in Toronto

Chicago, April 20.—David Montgomery, the comedian, long a member of the famous theatrical team of Montgomery and Stone, who has been ill in a Chicago hospital for more than a month, died shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Montgomery and Stone have been well-known to Toronto theatregoers for many years and were always warmly welcomed.

Productions in which they appeared in this city included "The Wizard of Oz," "The Red Mill," "The Old Town" and "The Lady of the Slipper." Owing to David Montgomery's illness an unexpected break in the "Old Town" production was presented in Toronto in the week of April 2 last.

"A LITTLE BIT OF FLUFF." Unquestionably the comic success of the decade but an epoch in a statement which may be made with regard to the London farce, "A Little Bit of Fluff," which will be presented by the greatest of light comedians, Albert H. Robins, at the Grand Opera House next week.

Ed. H. Robins, Toronto's favorite leading man, whose annual season at the Alexandra will open Monday, April 30, promises to give the many friends and patrons of the Robins players the best stock organization he has ever had.

Anna Held The patrons of the Alexandra, who are interested in advance fashions, should see Anna Held and her company of beauty of that popular playhouse next week, for it is said that "Follow Me" is quite the most elaborately equipped musical comedy on "our" stage.

Merry May Robson A clever comedienne in a riot of laughter, supported by a capable company in a clever play—Merry May Robson in "The Making Over of Mrs. Matt"—is the attraction at the Grand Opera House week of April 30.

The Hippodrome In the appearance of William A. Hanlon, who will headline the bill at the Hippodrome next week, patrons of the popular theatre will have an opportunity to see the greatest of the Hanlon troupe, in the new fantastic comedy "The Railroad Hotel."

At Shea's Ed. H. Robins, Toronto's favorite leading man, whose annual season at the Alexandra will open Monday, April 30, promises to give the many friends and patrons of the Robins players the best stock organization he has ever had.

BERNHARDT SEEN IN A NEW DRAMA

Wonderful War Photoplay a Presentation of Tremendous National Epic.

MOTHERS OF FRANCE

Divine Sarah Crowns Her Career With Marvelous Piece of Realism.

Veneration and homage are the sentiments which go forth from the audience to the "Mothers of France" as they are seen in the wonderful photoplay in which Sarah Bernhardt, a daughter of that brave and suffering country and actress without peer, plays the principal role.

That its powers might exert themselves everywhere on men and women alike, an opportunity to see this great photodrama will be given shortly when a presentation through the World Picture will be given in Toronto at one of the leading theatres.

FAMOUS CABARET SHOW HERE The Cafe Royal is furnishing one of the biggest cabaret novelties of the year in "The Wake-ups," a talented and well trained company of sixteen young ladies and gentlemen, from New York City, under the direction of Richard Lewis.
