

WIGS or Half Wigs made by Pember cannot be detected from natural hair growing upon the head. Their effect is perfect, even to the individual style of dressing the hair. This is because of which shows the hair as coming right out of the head. It is a scientific invention of Mr. Pember—a work of art—which has been patented by him, and it certainly banishes any objection a lady or man may have to wearing a wig on the score that people might tell its artificiality—for it makes detection by sight absolutely impossible.

SOCIAL LIFE

What is it?
"A buzz—a whirl—a cloud of dust—
Wild, blood-curdling yell—
A ghastly object flashing by—
Then silence—and a smell!"

"Spring, gentle spring is here" and the voice of the motor is heard in the land, adding additional sting to the troubles of poor humanity, in the shape of clouds of dust which choke one's lungs and close one's eyes with sections of macadam, to say nothing of the horrid, horrid odors which assail one's nostrils—the former miseries might easily be mitigated by the timely appearance of the watering cart, and as for the smell why, consideration of the joy that sometimes falls to one's lot of a spring evening leaning on the padded cushions of a well appointed motor-car one forgets those other times when the smell is all that falls to one's lot. The Hunt Club has been the scene of a good many small dinners and teas of late, arranged for strangers flitting thru Toronto. General and Mrs. Benson, staying with Dr. R. Wilkie, have had a good deal of quiet entertaining going on in their honor, and Miss Hope Morgan's farewell recital attracted a large number of her friends to Association Hall on Tuesday evening; the stage was very prettily arranged with groups of palms and pots of rhododendrons and azaleas. Miss Morgan looked particularly well in a gown of oyster white satin falling in soft folds to her feet, sequined chiffon on the bodice, with a branch of cape jasmin, the same lovely flowers with their glossy dark leaves in her hair. Her popularity was evinced by the blossoms presented after her songs, notably a basket of carnations, an armful of roses and lilies and a sheaf of white lilac with dark red carnations. Miss Morgan sang Doris's Goodby as an encore after her last number, and the audience responded with Auld Lang Syne. Miss Morgan sails very shortly for England, as she has engagements for the London season. At the Philharmonic Society's concert there the other day, Sir Alexander Mackenzie's new work, "Canadian Rhapsody," was one of the features. The themes are based upon the folk songs of the French habitants of the Dominion and are most cleverly woven together, producing a whole, full of spirit and go, the performance met with much appreciation. Dr. Eiram Corson's readings from Shakespeare and Browning have drawn large and appreciative audiences to the Conservatory Music Hall, during the mornings of the last week, and on Monday afternoon the officers and members of the Round Table Club held a reception in his honor. Members of the club attired in costumes representative of Japan and Holland served tea from pretty tables decorated appropriately. Miss Gertrude Davis, president of the club received and among the many guests were noted Dr. and Mrs. Pelham, Professor and Mrs. Alexander, Dr. and Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Die-nam, Mrs. George Dickson, Miss Fitzgibbon, her guest Miss Nairn; Mrs. J. E. Elliott, Miss Hamilton, Mrs. J. L. Hughes, Mrs. Loudon, Dr. MacMurchy, Mrs. Gardiner (Prince Edward Island), Mrs. McGillivray Knowles, Mrs. J. Biewett, Misses Dallas, Hellwell, Morde, M. Davis and Mrs. James Bain. The lectures will be continued until the 11th of the month, on which late the last of the course will be delivered.

A most distinguished and enthusiastic audience greeted Mrs. Patrick Campbell at the Princess on Thursday evening. Years press lightly on this favored woman, the last decade seems but to have heightened her charm of manner and appearance. As the Sorceress in the first act she wears a gown of barbaric magnificence, mouse colored chiffon velvet covered with amulets of gold and jewels, by the flowers, snails and flowers in a glittering mass, her hair plaited in innumerable tails, each one ending in a golden tassel, fell from a fillet of gold and jewels holding flowers; her other gown was of gold tissue embroidery with huge suns. The bridal gown of Ivanna was of palest pink and blue brocade, the flowers centered with jewels. The costumes of the men were very gorgeous indeed, the hero a pitiful character, wearing the puffed and slashed sleeves, in a richly embroidered doublet of the period, in charming combination of shades of blue, succeeded by another of maroon and grey made in the same fashion. Mrs. Campbell and her daughter, Miss Stella Campbell, were the guests of Mrs. George Beardmore, whose sister, Mrs. Fisk from Montreal, was also staying at Chudleigh. The party occupied one of the stage boxes consisted of Mrs. Fisk, Miss Campbell, Mr. George Beardmore, Mr. Alfred Beardmore, Captain des Vaux, Mr. Fred Beardmore. In another box were General and Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Forsyth Grant, Mr. D. R. Wilkie, Lady Mulock and Mrs. Arthur Kirkpatrick were in the stalls. Mrs. Barwick and her daughter, Mr. Justice MacMahon and Mrs. MacMahon, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cockburn, Mrs. Calderwood of Collingwood, Miss Ellen Gertham and many others were present, including the Hon. Andrew Blair, Mrs. Monro, Mr. Ruel, Mr. Edmund Phillips, Colonel and Mrs. J. I. Davidson, Miss Davidson, Mr. Douglas Young and Mr. and Mrs. F. Plumb.

Mrs. Mortimer Clark held her fortnightly reception at government house on Thursday afternoon. She looked exceedingly well in a handsome gown of richly brocaded satin, with much softness of chiffon and lace, the black in which she is seldom seen proved very becoming. A knot of flowers in her bodice and beautiful diamonds relieved the sombre hue. Miss Mortimer Clark wore claret satin and Miss Elise Clark blue.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Annie Catherine Blair, daughter of Mrs. John Blair, Wellesley street, to Mr. Percy Sidney Maule, son of the late Major Maule and Mrs. Maule, Avenue-road. The wedding will take place on May 17.

Mrs. Oswald Spiers (Galt) is staying with her mother, Mrs. Lockhart.

Mr. T. Shivers Birchall and Miss Birchall have removed from 314 Huron-street to 237 Brunswick-avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Treble have returned to town and are settled at 374 College-street.

Mrs. Applegath of Beverley-street will receive Tuesday, April 11, for the last time this season.

Toronto society is now looking forward with renewed interest to the ball of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, which takes place at the King Edward Hotel, on Tuesday evening, April 25, the evening of the horse show. While the postponement necessitated by illness in the vice-regal family was regretted at the time, there is little question but that it has not in the slightest degree operated against the success of this brilliant event of the season; in fact, in some respects it may result in enhancing the enjoyable nature of the occasion. The floral decorations, for instance, will be much more elaborate and handsome, as many more varieties of blooms will be available at this later season. The menu originally drawn up will also be supplemented by the addition of some seasonable delicacies. The invitation committee is now holding daily meetings to deal with the many applications coming in from the city and from out of town places. As most of the invitations issued before the postponement have been retained, there are few vacancies left in the lists, and those who have not already applied for invitations will do well to do so immediately, as the limit of 500 will be strictly adhered to.

Mrs. W. A. Charlton's tea on Thursday was a very cheery one and much enjoyed by her guests, who admired the lovely flowers and listened to the orchestra which played during the afternoon. Mrs. Charlton wore a graceful gown of black lace, the bodice having a yoke of cream lace, combined with jet and a note of rose color. Her daughters were, one in dove color crepe de chene, and the other in rose pink. Assistant hostesses in the tea-room were Miss B. Charlton, Miss Biggar and Miss Christian.

Great preparations are under way to make Paderewski's concert a notable one, beyond the fact that if the great pianist were to play in a barn his audience would be of the elite. His visit here will be during the latter part of the week, when Toronto will be crowded, and a special logo is being provided at Massey Hall. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess Grey, their party with that of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Mortimer Clark being large.

Mrs. George Bruce of 171 Causton-street gave a tea on Wednesday afternoon for her cousin, Mrs. Benson, from England. Mrs. Bruce wore a cream homespun dress with lace trimmings. Mrs. Benson, who received with Mrs. Bruce, wore a black silk with much handsome old lace. General Benson also received with Mrs. Bruce and was given a hearty welcome by many of his old friends.
