SALMON BOAT SANK IN WESTFIELD RACE

The race of salmon boats off Westfield Saturday, was marked by the sinking of the Lalla Rookh, and a struggle for five men in the water. They were rescued soon but had an unpleasant experience. A Westfield message says that the Lalla Rookh was capsized because of breaking out a balloon jib which made too much sail in the weather conditions, and that she would not answer under it and overboarded and sank. In the boat were Geo. L. Warwick, Dr. Wm. Warwick, Geo. R. Ewing, David Leighton and James Powrie of the Bank of Montreal staff. Coming back to the wharf on the last leg the accident happened. The life buoy aboard was given to Mr. Ewing who, it is said, could swim but little and the others hung to the top of the mast. Mr. Allen in the Kenwood was near and took all aboard.

Seven boats started in the race. John Frodham's Mona broke her tiller and was not started. Nor were the Anona, Rosalind, Kenwood and San Souci. Those which went over the line included the Chinook, Thistle, Gladys, Florence, Leola and Lalla Rookh. The course was from Westfield wharf, running to a buoy down river, then a dead down to the wharf; then up river to Belyea's Point and return. The wind was stiff from the northwest at the start and was equally throughout the race, the hardest blow in fact of any race this season.

The starting gun was fired at 3:37 and the boats finished as follows:

Boat	Time	Occupied
Chinook	4:53	1
Thistle	5:02	1
Gladys	5:04	1
Florence	5:17	1
