New York, Aug. 8.—Bill Brennan, of Chicago, outpointed Bartley Madden, of this city, in every round of a 10-round contest here last night. Madden was knocked down twice in the first round with right swings to the jaw. Brennan weighed 195 pounds and Madden 170 pounds.

White Sox Twirler Ranks With Best of Great Veterans

Thirty-three years old and just beginning to have his most remarkable success as a pitcher—that's the record of Eddie Cicotte. Credited this year with the most successful use of the "shine ball," he also is given credit for having some control over a knuckle ball and is more than the average performer with the spitter. Cicotte, a veteran who, according to usual records, should be getting out of the way, heaved himself into the records for keeps when he hurled a no-hit, no-run game this year.

When Jack Coombs was getting his first experience as a major leaguer, Cicotte had been taken on by Detroit, found wanting and sent back. He graduated from the same club that turned loose of Ty Cobb and they both went to Detroit the same year.

Since the beginning of the 1908 season Cicotte has been twirling them over in the American League—first as a member of the Red Sox and then as a member of the White Sox.

Cicotte missed participation in the 1912 world's series by a hair, for he was transferred to the Chicago Club in that year, after he had been turned down and spurned by Jake Stahl as no good.

Cicotte has been going along in an even way, winning a game here and losing one there. His most successful season was while he was with Lincoln in the Western League in 1907. He won twenty-three and lost ten games.

If the White Sox finally do club their way into the American League pennant it will be largely the fault of the veteran pitcher.

An heaver. His work is the most consistent, and the really brilliant among all the curvers of the great baseball club.

NEW BILL AT THE GEM EXCELLENT

Fine Irish Comedian—Old Time Songs Recalled—Robert Warwick in Great Picture

There is no discounting the fact that the Gem's new programme was keenly enjoyed last night and that it is a remarkably good one. The picture feature is "Sudden Riches," in which a noted English actor, Robert Warwick, is again welcomed to the Gem. This time Gelda Holmes plays the leading role opposite him and there is a strong company in support. It is a World film picture in five reels. The story is that of the results of having a large fortune dumped into your lap, in which the recipients turn from thrifty to spendthrifts, from upright and honest husband and wife to dissipated, high-flying and otherwise leaders of a dissolute life, and how their great love for their little child succeeds in making them realize the folly of following their life of extravagance, bringing the father and mother back to their happy little home. It is told in a dramatic, convincing, plausible manner, by the author, E. Richard Schayer. There are magnificent scenes of life among the very rich and in the gay life of the high rollers. Actors, director and photographer have lent their best efforts to bring out the story effectively and the results are strikingly good. The picture was followed with close interest and all were delighted with it.

The first of the new vaudeville acts was presented by Harry Kelley, who proved to be an excellent Irish comedian. He has a very entertaining line of stories and songs. The stories he presents well and the songs he renders in excellent voice and with good effect. The act was very much enjoyed.

Lang and Green gave a delightful rendering of old-time songs. Their act represented them as sitting in their home on their fiftieth wedding anniversary and they sing some of the songs of other days with much feeling. It was very pleasant indeed to hear the good old melodies and the tear that moistened the eyes of many was a tribute to the singers and the songs. The act was heartily received.

The Gem will continue this act until including Friday night with an entire big change on Saturday afternoon.
