A break in the ranks of the delegates to the national convention I. O. D. E. was narrowly averted yesterday in Calgary, where the convention is in session. Mrs. Gooderham had resigned the presidency and trouble threatened between the Gooderham and Kingsmill factions.

TASK OF RESTORING YPRES UNDER WAY

Contract for Reclamation of Shell-Torn Areas, Involving Millions, Already Let.

The government of Belgium has decided to rebuild the entire city of Ypres.

leaving none of the ruins caused by the war except the Cloth Hall, the Cathedral, and the Cloister, which are to serve as monuments.

There has been a popular demand that the two ruined cities of Ypres and Dixmude be left as they are, as a monument to those who lost their lives in the former population of the area, who desire to have their property restored. This has been particularly true of Ypres, which before the war had 18,000 inhabitants, who are returning in some numbers and starting to rebuild.

The royal commissioner, recently appointed for the reconstruction of the Ypres arrondissement, outlines the government programme as follows: It will be necessary to clear and excavate the city and the principal surrounding villages to build about 20,000 houses, and to restore the roads, the water and gas installations. The contract for this work has already been let and the work begun. The building material obtained from the ruins will be resold to the government by the contractors and will be used in the foundations of the new city. Bricks, for example, will be bought by the government at the fixed price of thirty francs a thousand.

Only the most necessary buildings are to be constructed, the schools, churches and stores are to be left to the last. All building is done by the government and the owner of the property is required to pay nothing. If the owner, however, wishes any particular plan followed this can be done, provided he is willing to bear any extra expense entailed, otherwise the plans for the building will be drawn up by a committee of architects. There are nineteen architects at present assigned to the arrondissement. Where the owner of a piece of land is known to have died without heirs the ownership reverts to the government, which will then dispose of it at auction or otherwise, but for the present no construction is to be done on any piece of land whose owner is not accounted for.

"The question of agricultural construction in the devastated area is much more difficult," says a report from the trade commissioner at Brussels. "Al-
