He has consistently fought the Socialistic movement and in the three national conventions of miners it was his influence that prevent ed the organization from wavering and partly committing itself to Socialism. The Socialists regard Mitchell as their arch enemy, and have sent their delegates to the convention time and again to counteract his influence. But this has always failed.

Mitchell is also known as a conservative. Le has been in the lime-light many years, but this has not turned his head. He has kept on making friends and of ourse a few enemies, and some of the latter are in his own organization. Should latter are in his own organization. threatened the whole business section of the town. The Steaubli block was saved only by hard work, and if that had caught fire five other buildings would have gone with it, including some of the most important stores in Blaine.

Thirteen loaded freight cars on Great Northern tracks in the rear of the buildings were also in danger the fire take the negro from them.

According to the confession, young Dempster became involved in trouble with the little girl Margaret immediately after the departure of Mr. Pearce. The mother, to defend her daughter, went to a bureau to get a revolver to shoot the negro. Dempster says he secured the gun first and after shooting the mother and children set fire to the house to hide the crime.
