CONNOLLY v. ST. JOHN.

One of the biggest law-suits ever tried in this city was begun on the 20th before Judge Landry and a jury. Messrs. Connolly of Kingston, Ont., who, under contract with the city corporation, built some large wharves on the west side of the harbor in 1892 and 1893, bring action against the city and 1893, bring action against the city to recover $44,000 on the contract and $22,224 more for extra towage and dredging. In addition to these amounts they also claim over $8,000, made up of $6,645 which they had deposited in a bank and which the city now held, $917 for extra material furnished, $362 for removing posts, and $138 for interest on the deposit in bank. The city denies the plaintiffs' right of action and contends that the Connollys have been fully paid all that is due them. Attorney General Blair and L. A. Currey, Q. C., appear for the plaint-iffs, and Recorder Skinner, Q. C., and Ald. Baxter for the city. There is a cloud of witnesses to be examined.

Sch. Sierra, from New York for Port Williams, called at Parreboro to unload the oak keel, stem and stern post for the bark which is to be built at Parreboro, and they expect to lay the keel in about a week. She will be laid on the same blocks as the Annie Blanche was launched from.

Farmers who have nad the tide stopped from overflowing their marshes are highly pleased with the way in which their land has dried. In places where it was previously unsafe to take a horse the way this season has been cut with a mowing machine, and now it can be harrowed and seed sown for next year's crop. Cape Traverse, Sept. 29.—The tourist season at the Lansdowne is about over for this season. The number of visitors exceeded that of any previous-summer. A society of the Patrons of Industry was organized here a few evenings ago by Messrs. Marshall and Gillis, with a small membership, but the prospect for an increase of their number is favorable.

On Monday last Edgar Strang accidentally had his right arm broken above the elbow while in the act of harnessing a kicking horse. Charlottetown, Sept. 20.—There is still a little of the defunct Bank of P.
