

LITTLE FEET.

Two little feet so small that both may nestle
In one caressing hand,
Two tender feet upon the untrodden border
Of life's mysterious land.

Dimpled and soft and pink as peach tree blossoms
In April's fragrant days;
How can they walk among the briery tangle
Edging the world's rough ways?

These white rose feet along the doubtful future
Must bear a woman's load;
Alas! since woman has the heaviest burden
And walks the hardest road.

Lore for awhile will make the path before them
All dainty, smooth and fair—
Will call away the thistle, letting only
The roses blossom there.

But when the mother's watchful eyes are shrouded
Away from the sight of men,
And these dear feet are left without her guiding
Who shall direct them then?

Will they go stumbling blindly in the darkness
Of sorrow's fearful shades,
Or find the upland slopes of peace and beauty,
Whose sunlight never fades?

How shall it be with her, the tender stranger,
Fair face and gentle-eyed,
Before whose unstained feet the world's rude highway
Stretches so strange and wide?

Ab! who may read the future? For our darling
We crave all blessings sweet,
And pray that He who feeds the crying ravens
Will guide the baby's feet.

—Torence Percy.

THE HOME.

Girls' Writing.

Girls should look to their handwriting, for it may serve them at some future crisis better than the shorthand or the type writer.

There is a lady clerk in the Department of the Interior, Mrs. Avery by name, who has a snug and easy place of sixteen hundred dollars a year, chiefly on account of the extraordinary excellence of her penmanship. It is she who is selected to copy the letters of the department which are regarded as of the greatest consequence, such, for example, as are to receive the attention of the president, who frequently compliments Mrs. Avery's admirable penmanship.

Considering the advantage it is to many girls to write a good hand, it is strange that most of them do not try to acquire this accomplishment. Of late years, our school-girls and school-boys do a great deal more writing than they did formerly. Much is done in school now by the way of dictation, and in many schools the pupils have pencil or pen in hand almost all the time.

But it would not be true to say that the girls of to-day write more legibly and neatly than their mothers did. It would be well if they paid far more attention to this matter than they do. But they should make a serious study of it, acquire the habit of taking the best posture, learn to use the muscles to advantage, so that they may not easily become tired; and then practice, as one who intends to become a professional musician practices.

When a piece of writing gets worse and worse, page after page, it is because the writer did the work with only one end of the muscular of the arm, instead of employing the whole of its exquisite and harmonious machinery.

Mrs. Avery, it is said, writes as easily as she does legibly. She writes as well at the end of her day's work as at the beginning, and her fingers never ache. —Youth's Companion.

THE FARM.

The invention of labor-saving devices, and the improvement in farming methods, have lifted the husbandman from the level of the mere machine (we might say, of the beast of burden) to that of the intelligent and skilled manipulator and engineer. Employing water, steam, wind, and horse-power and complicated machinery in the performance of the same work that only a few years ago he had to do by force of his own strong arms and hands, he can no longer be styled "the horny-handed son of toil." He is more and more making himself master of the situation.

The farm home gives testimony to this improved condition. Where strictest economy, even to the deprivation of common comforts, used to be practiced, we now find many conveniences of city life, pianos and organs, fine furniture and pictures and every comfort of life.

The farmer's wife alone, in many cases, has yet the same old burdens to bear as of yore—churning, washing, cooking, baking, house-cleaning—not to speak of rearing and tending children. It is the same old story—endless drudgery and premature old age. Nobody needs and deserves an improvement in her condition, and a lightening of the pressing burden, more than does the ever-busy housewife.

The possession of a good sewing and washing machine, of clothes wringer, power churn, and of all the many devices calculated to lighten the good housewife's arduous duties, are just as essential to good farm management as mow and self-binder.

The drudgery of washing days has ruined many a good woman's health, and made her old before her time. With our best modern washers and wringers, the former dread of the household can be reduced to an easy job. A machine of this kind, substantially made, is somewhat expensive. But a good one will pay as an investment, and as a present to wife or daughter must be a most valuable gift of gold or silver, as it will add years to a woman's life.

Few women are aware of the fact that a very small quantity of kerosene added to the boiling water will make the work easier and the clothes whiter. Anything that may assist in lightening women's work, and relieve her of unnecessary drudgery, is well worthy of our earnest consideration.

Work for the Season.

Scions should be cut. The cherry and plum scions should be set at once; pear and apple can be kept for a while in damp moss or other substance that will prevent their shriveling.

Wood for family use should all be sawed, split and hauled before the spring work comes on.

Driveways and walks should be put in order.

Laws should receive a dressing of some commercial fertilizer, if they were not manured last fall, and raked or turned over to remove the dead grass.

Peas should be sown on a warm piece of ground for an early crop.

Pruning had better be done now than not at all. When large wounds are made, it is quite important to paint them over. Do not prune grapevines or any maple trees at this season of the year, as they will bleed.

Hotbeds should receive attention. Trees and plants that are to be procured from a distance should be ordered.

Seeds. Every one who has to buy seeds should make up a list before the rush of the busy season comes on.

Walls may be repaired, and later all fences.

Cellars should be cleaned out before the weather grows warmer.

Door-yards should be cleaned up and made tidy.

Mowing fields should be looked over, and all stones and rubbish removed that will be in the way of the mower.

Early Potatoes.

Farmers may forward the seed for their crops of early potatoes and gain several days. We usually cut the tubers in March, sprinkling the soil surfaces freely with gypsum (land plaster) to keep them and prevent their sticking together. The pieces are then laid in the "flat" first mentioned or other shallow boxes. They are placed close together, skin sides up, and exposed to the sunlight of the kitchen window. The eyes will form strong sprouts which at the proper season may be planted. If the first shoots that appear above the ground are cut by the frost, other shoots will appear from the dormant buds, and the labor will not be all lost. Of course this forwarding process is advised for those only who wish to be early with a proper season, and who can try a part of their early kinds to see if it will pay. A still further help is to nail two boards together after the manner of a trough; place these by side of the rows, and if a frost seems probable, or even a cold night, it is but to turn the work over a minute to turn them over the rows; in indeed it would be well to cover the rows every night until the potatoes outgrow their protection. —American Agriculturist for March.

The clover plant contains more of the necessary elements for egg production than the grains. All the lime for the shells can be procured by a liberal supply of clover, as there is a large amount of lime in its composition, and it is also rich in nitrogen, so important for the use of the hen in providing the albumen of the egg. True, it is not so concentrated as wheat or corn, but the hens can eat a large quantity of it, as it quickly digests. It will also serve to keep the hens in good laying condition, as it does not fatten them so readily as will grain. Clover chopped fine is one of the best and cheapest feeds that can be used in the poultry yard.

It is better to begin with trees two years from the bud than with those ten or twelve years old; and in ten years or even less the young trees will be larger than the old ones. We would not advise setting trees more than four years old, and those even two years old are quite as good as four-year-old ones as a rule. It is to be understood that the trees are thrifty and in healthy condition, for none others should be set under any circumstances. The larger the tree the greater the care that should be exercised in its removal. Trees should be cut as living things, as they are, and not as so much merchandise. What has been said will apply not only to apple and pear, but to cherry and plum trees as well. Peach trees should be cut one year from the bud when transplanted to the orchard. As a rule, two-year-old peach trees are not worth setting. Let no one be deceived and think he can do what so many have failed to do—transplant old trees with good results. If a lifetime of experience is worth anything, it is sufficient to show that to expend money in moving old trees is a waste of money, except with a ball of earth on the roots in winter—is generally a waste of time and money.

TEMPERANCE.

Prohibition and High License.

The Philadelphia Press has recently made a careful comparison of High License and Prohibition cities, and from reports obtained from over one hundred American cities, it concluded to award the palm of righteousness to High License cities—Wheeling, W. Va., and Sullivan, Ill., which it denominates as "the worst cities in the Union." As the result of two years' trial of High License in the former, the chief of the police there says, "Crime is on the increase." Drunkenness is the chief offence. Prostitution is alarmingly on the increase. Drunkenness among women is on the increase." The chief concludes by saying that how to bring about a reform of this condition of affairs is to him a problem beyond solution. Wheeling has a population estimated at about 40,000, and two years ago its saloon licenses were brought up to $250. During the recent West Virginia Amendment campaign, a special reporter was sent from this run-cursed city to Maine to obtain evidence against its licensing its High License Police for Prohibition. It will be interesting, therefore, to see what the reports of the Philadelphia Press say about Prohibition cities in Maine and other States. Some of the facts as given by the chief of police are as follows: August, Me. "Crime is on the decrease." It is the chief conclusion of the Philadelphia Press. "Crime is on the decrease." Drunkenness among women is on the decrease; we have very little of it. The opium habit is not on the increase." The Press editorially adds that crime there is being held at arm's length, the answers furnishing a striking contrast to those of the others given. The report from Topeka, Kansas, said, "Crime is on the decrease. Prostitution is on the decrease. Drunkenness among women is on the decrease; we have very little of it here. The opium or chloral habit is not known in our city." Without an exception the reports in the Press from Prohibition cities are highly encouraging. One of the most noticeable things is the unanimous statement that the opium habit does not prevail. The claim of the liquor men that the opium curse invariably follows prohibition is therefore absolutely without support, so far as conclusions can be drawn from the testimony of the chiefs of police. —Watchman.

THE WAY BURDETTE PUTS IT.—"Just now all the enemies of Prohibition are crying out that 'Prohibition is a failure.' But you never hear a Prohibitionist say that. It's the fellows who want it to fail who raise that cry. Go about about joining that cry, my boy. Not one of the States that adopted Prohibition has repealed the Prohibition amendment; not one. Don't be in a hurry to declare any cause, any movement that aims to make bad times good, and good times better, that aims to help men, a failure, even though you see the cause flat on its back; both legs broken, and its sword arm twisted. It isn't dead yet. Don't believe too much in failures, my boy, lest you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack. Don't stop to explain and apologize for the failure of your cause; maintain and enforce its virtues. 'You haven't taught me any of the parades; let you grow to be a better watchword, has a clearer ring to it, and a man looks, and feels, and is prouder and nobler, fighting for success, than when he is struggling in the name of failure. Don't defend; attack.