

STILL TALKING SETTLEMENT IN G.T.R. STRIKE

Impression Prevails In Montreal That Settlement Is About At Hand—Men Abandon Some Demands.

PORTLAND REPORTS CONDITIONS NORMAL

Special to The Standard. Montreal, July 31.—The impression that the Grand Trunk strike is nearing its closing hours is stronger than ever tonight, but when the various rumors are sifted down the most that can be positively said is that negotiations are still going on and that a settlement, therefore, is not an improbability.

FOUND DEAD IN BED WITH LAMP BURNING

Mrs. Mary E. Eaton, Native Of St. John, Passed Away Suddenly In Moncton—Supposed Heart Disease.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, July 31.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Eaton, a widow, aged 76, was found dead in her bed on Saturday. Mrs. Eaton, who had been in her usual health on Friday evening, was partially undressed when found with a lamp beside her bed.

WATCH FOR SQUALLS COMING ON THURSDAY

Chief Of U. S. Weather Bureau Predicts Bad Weather Coming From Rockies About That Time.

Washington, July 31.—Willis S. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau in prognosticating the weather for the present week, said tonight that the general pressure distribution indicates that there will be no general warm wave over the country this week.

STREET RAILWAY MEN IN RUTLAND STRIKE FOR PAY

Rutland, Vt., July 31.—Thirty conductors and motormen employed by the Rutland Street Railway went on strike yesterday because of the refusal of the company to grant a demand for an increase to 25 cents per hour pay and recognition of the union.

Crippen and Girl Companion Arrested on S.S. Montrose at Father Point Sunday Morning

Prisoner Turned Pale and Muttered Unintelligible Words But Girl Became Hysterical When Arrest Was Made—Not the Least Confusion When Inspector Dew Turned the Trick.

Last Chapter Written in World Wide Chase After Man Wanted in London for Killing Actress Wife—Couple Under Guard in Montrose Cabin Expected at Quebec at Midnight.

THE LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF MRS. CRIPPEN.

Special to The Standard. Father Point, July 31.—The world wide search for Dr. Hawley Crippen wanted in London for the murder of his wife, formerly Belle Elmore, came to an end this morning when "Rev. Mr. Robinson and son" the passengers on the C. P. R. steamer Montrose from Liverpool, suspected of being Crippen and his companion, Miss LeNeve, proved to be the persons wanted, and were promptly placed under arrest.

Will Probably Be Deported. London, July 31.—Scotland Yard officials did not have any exact information as to whether Crippen would be deported or extradited, but they anticipated deportation in which case it is stated Crippen would be placed on trial within three weeks.

Neighbors Talk Of Crippens. London, July 30.—The truth of the old adage "murder will out" was never more apparent than in the case of the mystery of Hilldrop Crescent, which teeming with dramatic situations and all the elements that go to make a thrilling romance still holds the country in its grip.

"Be Brave, Little Girl." Ethel LeNeve's relatives tonight are relieved that their long suspense is ended. They have been apprehensive of some untoward fate, and are convinced now that the woman can prove her innocence.

Mrs. LeNeve called a pathetic appeal to her daughter today, imploring her to tell the police everything and not to allow her affection for Crippen to stand in the way of her duty to herself and to her family.

How Crippen Lived On Steamer. London, July 31.—A Sunday paper published a long wireless despatch from Capt. Kendall, of the S.S. Montrose amplifying previous dispatches regarding the way the supposed Dr. Crippen is putting in his time on the steamer.

Capt. Kendall says that he collected all the English papers on the steamer to prevent the alleged Crippen from seeing them. Once he told the man a story to make him laugh, in order to see if he had false teeth. The ruse was successful. The next morning the suspect told him that the song, "We All Walked Into a Shop, had been running in his head all night.

The "A. P." Had It First. London, July 31.—London, eagerly waiting, got the first news of the identification and arrest of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and his companion, Ethel LeNeve through the Associated Press dispatches, which were received here far ahead of scores of other despatches, announcing the dramatic event. These dribbled in from various points from one-half to two hours later, and it was nearly four hours before Scotland Yard received an official message of confirmation.

Neighbors Talk Of Crippens. London, July 30.—The truth of the old adage "murder will out" was never more apparent than in the case of the mystery of Hilldrop Crescent, which teeming with dramatic situations and all the elements that go to make a thrilling romance still holds the country in its grip.

"Be Brave, Little Girl." Ethel LeNeve's relatives tonight are relieved that their long suspense is ended. They have been apprehensive of some untoward fate, and are convinced now that the woman can prove her innocence.

Mrs. LeNeve called a pathetic appeal to her daughter today, imploring her to tell the police everything and not to allow her affection for Crippen to stand in the way of her duty to herself and to her family.

"Be Brave, Little Girl." Ethel LeNeve's relatives tonight are relieved that their long suspense is ended. They have been apprehensive of some untoward fate, and are convinced now that the woman can prove her innocence.

DR. CRIPPEN

Working with highly strung nerves and trembling hands in the semi-darkness of the cellar he forgot for the moment or he did not know that the clay soil would not allow the water to percolate, and so the lane refused to do the work that was required of it.

"It would be a simple matter to make at once for the house of some friend, and lie there in hiding while the hue and cry was on, but there would be the chance of being seen, and to fly to it as soon as he knew the police were about to arrest him? I know a hundred such places in which I could hide safely, but, of course, I could not live there for any length of time, and that is the reason I say that the mystery will be solved."

Several Businesses. "Crippen was known to have several businesses, and what would have been easier than to have taken some lock-up store under another name, and to fly to it as soon as he knew the police were about to arrest him? I know a hundred such places in which I could hide safely, but, of course, I could not live there for any length of time, and that is the reason I say that the mystery will be solved."

A Happy Woman. "We all know that she was in the theatrical profession, but, personally, I did not know her stage name. I always thought she looked a very happy woman and one whom I would like to know. I often saw her husband going off to the city. He was generally well dressed, and it always struck me when I saw him that he was a man who made his living by his brains. My husband and I used to think he was a teacher."

The "A. P." Had It First. London, July 31.—London, eagerly waiting, got the first news of the identification and arrest of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and his companion, Ethel LeNeve through the Associated Press dispatches, which were received here far ahead of scores of other despatches, announcing the dramatic event.

Neighbors Talk Of Crippens. London, July 30.—The truth of the old adage "murder will out" was never more apparent than in the case of the mystery of Hilldrop Crescent, which teeming with dramatic situations and all the elements that go to make a thrilling romance still holds the country in its grip.

"Be Brave, Little Girl." Ethel LeNeve's relatives tonight are relieved that their long suspense is ended. They have been apprehensive of some untoward fate, and are convinced now that the woman can prove her innocence.

Mrs. LeNeve called a pathetic appeal to her daughter today, imploring her to tell the police everything and not to allow her affection for Crippen to stand in the way of her duty to herself and to her family.

"Be Brave, Little Girl." Ethel LeNeve's relatives tonight are relieved that their long suspense is ended. They have been apprehensive of some untoward fate, and are convinced now that the woman can prove her innocence.

SMART SET

Royal Engineer Officer Attempts To Call On Society Woman By Window Route—She Called Her Husband.

INTRUDER ARRESTED SPENT NIGHT IN JAIL

Special to The Standard. Campbellton, N. B., July 31.—Public opinion for some time has been agitated by the case of a young man, who, it was said, had been in the employ of a prominent citizen in the town of Campbellton, and who, it was said, had been in the employ of a prominent citizen in the town of Campbellton, and who, it was said, had been in the employ of a prominent citizen in the town of Campbellton.

SPAIN SUSPENDS ALL NEGOTIATIONS

Premier Canalejas Speaks Of Rupture With Vatican—King Approves And Press Applaud Action.

Madrid, July 31.—Premier Canalejas describes the recall of Marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican as "an indefinite suspension of negotiations."

"I opened negotiations for a reduction of the religious orders. The Vatican replied, offering less than was offered to Premier Maurier. We were grievously disappointed, but pressed the issue in a spirit of great moderation."

"Desiring to advance the question without rupturing the negotiations we exercised our right of sovereignty by issuing decrees, compelling the orders to register under the law and under the supervision of the state, and to display the emblems of public worship. As the Vatican replied only with protests, we introduced a bill interdicting further orders until the revision of the concordat had been accomplished."

Known For Years. Carl Stever and Miss Velaska Heideck have known each other for years. They met at a social gathering in Cologne. In the social life of the city they met frequently and in time Mr. Stever became a caller at the Heideck home.

THIS YARN READS LIKE LAST ACT OF MELODRAMA

Captain Morton Of Boston Returns After 38 Years To Buy Last Relic Of Tree On Which Ancestor Was Hanged

Boston, July 31.—Returned to his home country after an absence of 38 years in South America, Captain Benjamin D. Manton has come to Boston and secured possession of the last relic of the famed Boston Elm from the branches of which his great-great-great-grandmother, Mary Dyer, was hanged in June, 1660.

Amateur People Still In Dire Need

Purse Strings Are Being Gradually Unloosed But Much More is Needed if Refugees are to Survive Rigors of Winter—Epidemic of Measles Threatened Among Children.

YOUNG COUPLE FLED OVER SEA TO BE MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. Stever Arrive By Different Ships—Religious Beliefs Caused Parents To Forbid Union.

New York, July 31.—It was not until Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stever had been registered at the Union Square Hotel late Thursday that Carl Stever and his young wife sighed with relief. They had successfully carried out an over-sea elopement, passed the immigration officers at this port and married before the arrival of a cable to the representative of the German government here, asking that the girl be detained.

CANADIAN NAVY RATES OF PAY ARE SETTLED

Scale Of Service For Officers And Men Laid Down In Order In Council Passed At Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 30.—An order-in-council has been passed, detailing the rates of pay for officers, men and employees of the Canadian naval service. The principal are the following: Captains, on promotion, $8,200 per year; after four years, $9; after eight years, $9,600; command money per day, $3; after four years, $4; after eight years, $4,500; Commanders on promotion, $6; after three years, $7; after six years, $8; command money, $1.

In the accounting branch the paymaster is to get $5 per day; the staff paymaster, $6; the first paymaster, $7; with increases after varying terms of service. The engineer captain is to get $13.50 per day; engineer commander on promotion $15.00, with increases to $9; engineer lieutenants $4; sub-lieutenants $3; chief artificer engineer $3.75; artificer engineer $3; lead steward $2.50; the wages range down as low as $60 cents a day.

Known For Years. Carl Stever and Miss Velaska Heideck have known each other for years. They met at a social gathering in Cologne. In the social life of the city they met frequently and in time Mr. Stever became a caller at the Heideck home.

Some days after his departure Miss Valeska obtained permission to visit relatives. Instead of doing so she crossed to England and took passage on the White Star liner Teutonic. The Finland got here some days ago. Stever, though he was a cabin passenger, was questioned by the immigration officials because the ship's manifest gave no address to which he was destined upon arrival here. He explained that he crossed the Atlantic for pleasure and was going to a hotel. He had plenty of money and was allowed to land. This questioning by the immigration men set him thinking that perhaps the girl would be held up on arrival. They had not prepared for this contingency.

Could Not Be Prevented. Knowing that the girl was a Lutheran, he went at once to the Lutheran Lutheran Home, at 4 State St., and laid the matter before Pastor Doering. It was explained that as the girl was of age and they were to marry she could not be prevented from landing unless her parents should cable to the German consul here asking that she be detained. The young man found out quietly that no such cable had been received. The Teutonic reached her pier soon after 2 p. m. on Thursday afternoon. An hour before she got in those on the pier noticed a rather excited young German pacing up and down the stringpiece. He was accompanied by Anthony Raab, agent for the home, who had been assigned to see the young couple through their difficulties. Long before the vessel's gangplank went out Carl Stever caught sight of the young woman at the rail. He shouted in German that all was well, and she answered with many smiles and the waving of a handkerchief.

Twenty Negroes Killed By Mob Of Armed Men

Palestine Texas Scene Of Fierce Man Hunt—Victims Shot Down Without Real Cause, Says Sheriff.

Palestine, Tex., July 31.—At least 15, perhaps 20, negroes, all of them probably unarmed were hunted down and killed by a mob of from two to three hundred men in Slocum and Debuson Springs neighborhood of Palestine last night and yesterday, according to Sheriff Black, who returned early this morning after twenty-four hours in that district. He told of a fierce manhunt in the woods of riddled bodies found on lonely roads and of the terror among the inhabitants in the southwestern part of Anderson county.