ELEVENTH ANNUAL DOG SHOW
GOT AWAY TO A GREAT START

Seven Classes Were Judged Yesterday—The Number of Entries Was Unusually Large and the Quality of the Entries Was First Class—Winners from Other Shows Competing.

The eleventh annual show of the New Brunswick Kennel Club got away to a good start yesterday, with the judging of seven classes, the entrance to a large field of competitors and a good attendance during the afternoon and evening.

A feature of the afternoon showing was the award of the special prize in the pointer class to Patricia, a breezy bitch owned by Kellie Wilson, St. John, winning over the champion Montreal Rip Rap, entered by N. B. Germain.

In the evening, the local Irish setter, Senora Rheola Jess, owned by E. J. Wallace, put up a stiff fight for special prize, but was nose-out by Tyrone Larry, owned by E. C. Howard, of Montreal.

Many of the fans expected that Campbell's Stylish, the winning exhibit of Ed. McGuire, would carry off the honors in this class, but though she won an easy first in her class, second was the award given in the open, the special prize being captured by Verdon Ballantyne, entered by the Dougan and Smythe kennels of Verdon, Quebec.

Competition was keen in every class, and the final award in the collie class was not given until 11 o'clock in the evening.

This morning at 10 judging starts again, with the bulldogs in the ring. Cocker and sporting spaniels, French bulls and shepherd dogs will also be judged today. Tonight is the night of the show as far as the terrier fanciers are concerned, for it is planned to devote the whole evening to this class.

Tomorrow will see the Pomeranians, Pekinese and other toy classes in the sawdust, and it is expected that motion pictures of all winners, winning exhibitors and officials will be taken for the animated newspapers.

There are some 157 dogs exhibited this year, which is not quite such a large entry as in former years, but it makes up in quality everything that is lacking in quantity. Exhibitors are entered from many of the important centres of the Dominion, and many of the winners at the Toronto exhibition and other Upper Canada bench shows are waiting their turn for the honors or wear their proudly over their section of the kennels.

The Irish setter class is the largest individual one, with 19 entries. English setters come next, followed by the popular Boston bull terriers.

Many fanciers last night were admiring Ridgeway Darky, one of the wire-haired fox terriers, who is valued at over $1,000, that sum being the price paid for him by the present owner. He will be shown today. Prior Wood Pagan, a Pekinese champion, is also a valuable animal, its owner having paid in the vicinity of $2,000 for this great bench animal.

Among the local dogs who have swept things their way at the big shows is Sir Nangis, winner over a field of 60 at the recent Toronto show. Hilan Black Douglas, owned by W. W. Maskey, is also expected to compete. This beauty won two weeks ago at Toronto over a heavy field.

The judge this year is R. A. Ross, Montreal, well known to all local fanciers, and a man who has done a world of good for the bench shows of this province. Though this is his first appearance in St. John as a judge, the satisfaction he gave to all exhibitors last night was remarked by the large number of fans present.

The committee in charge of the show includes: J. W. Cameron, chairman; W. C. McKay, secretary; E. J. Wallace, superintendent; R. Alward, John Scott, James Pollock, Bert Porter, LeBaron Wilson, Robert Magee, J. Verner McLehann, George Grey, Bliss Smith, Lieut. Ritchie, James Sprout.

WANTS A MATCH.
Bridson Greene, champion welterweight wrestler of New England, who is here with the Williams' shows, is anxious to arrange a finish wrestling match with any local man. Greene has visited the province on former occasions and shown marked ability on the mat. He is meeting all-comers at the show and offers a reward for those whom he does not throw in a given time.

At one time he was wrestling instructor at Andover Academy, Andover, Mass., and on one occasion met Lewis Nelson in a match which lasted for five hours and twenty-seven minutes. Greene will be here during the remainder of the week and any wrestler who would like to arrange a match with him will likely be able to make the necessary arrangements.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Ninety-one football candidates reported at Yale Field on Monday for the opening practice of the season. The number of candidates out for the first drill exceeded the expectations of the coaches. There were fifty-six men trying for the line positions and ten for quarterback.

Harvard had one hundred and seven men out for football practice on Monday. There was a heavy rain but the coaches put the men through their paces. There is expected to be competition for every position on the team. Many stars of former days were out and it is expected that Harvard will have one of the best teams in recent years.

It looks like a fine season for winter league stuff, with the American League chucking its usual harmony to the winds. The fans would prefer to have the players on the stage rather than the magnates. Some day there may be big men enough in baseball to make real harmony reign. It will be a glad day for baseball.

Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee are going to mingle for eight rounds over the no-decision route in Jersey tonight. Billy Gibson was perfectly willing to bring this match to Boston over the 12-round no-decision route instead. Of course in this town we are not too strong for the no-decision game, but at that it would have been well worth the price of admission to see these two boys cavort through the distance and let the fans decide for themselves just who had the better of it. That's just about what they have been doing with our decision contests.—Boston Post.

Johnny Kilbane is hanging on to that featherweight title by the skin of his teeth, but just as soon as Johnny takes part in a real featherweight battle over the regulation distance we are going to jog along with the blokes that believe that Johnny will be beaten.

Jimmy Curran, the Mercedes coach and trainer, who brought out Ted Meredith and a score of other good athletes, discovered the famous Lieut. Haiswell, considered England's greatest quarter-mile, with a record of 48.2-5. Jimmy was a soldier in South Africa back in 1902, when he observed an officer in his regimentals run a "100" in 10.2-5, a quarter in 5-5 and a half in 2m 10s. It was Haiswell, who six years later made the British amateur record.

The Neptune Swimming Club of Stockton, Calif., has a four-year-old swimming prodigy. Tiny Wilbert Cope of that city dives from platforms 40 feet high. Too high by far. That child should be limited to midget stunts in swimming and barred from hazardous feats, no matter how great his courage or skill.

Ty Cobb is still the king of ball players, but when a man outranks all others as champion batsman every year except one in the last 13 years, it gets to be an old story, and the fans turn to a new hero to worship in a home-run hitter of the class of "Babe" Ruth, the best ever.

Joie Ray is thinking about going to Australia to run, if they will allow Joie to take his wife and family along and pay him more than $5 a day expenses. If Ray does go to Kangaroo Land he is sure to show the Australians more running than since Al Shrubb made his last visit to Australia.

PUBLIC MEETING AT GREAT SALMON RIVER

Salmon River, N. B. Sept. 16—A public meeting in the interest of the proposed Provincial Protestant Orphanage was held in the hall here on Friday evening, Sept. 12th. After a brief address by the chairman, Mr. Robt. Crossman, Mr. David Hipwell, the principal speaker was introduced. Mr. Hipwell gave a very forceful address explaining the present day needs for an orphanage compared with that of fifty years ago. In his address he made special mention of the good work accomplished in this respect by the people of Salmon River, as already over $250.00 has been raised. The speaker also thanked the ladies for their part in raising the last donation of $100.00 in the Fancy Work Sale and Social, which donation was to go to the present need of equipping the temporary quarters at West St. John. After a vote of thanks being tendered to the speaker, the meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

Two Favorites
Lost At Capital

Crowds at Fredericton Exhibition Saw Some Good Racing Yesterday.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, Sept. 16.—Two of the favorites in the opening day's races of the Fredericton exhibition meeting this afternoon were beaten when both Mac and Jennie Penn, two provincial bred pacers, won the 2:14 and 2:16 stakes. Fred Cameron drove both of them, and Roy Volo and Exposer, the local horses which were the favorites, were never contenders. Royal McKinney, the big grey pacer from Acrostook, won the second heat of the 2:14 stake in 2:11 1/2, but it evidently looked like too fast a win race record to the Maine contingent and driver Mont Gerow made it so apparent to win that the judges replaced him by Peter Carroll, of Halifax in the next heat that he wasn't trying. It was too late and Bob Mac won easily.

Tommy Cotter, was the contender in the 2:16 stake and gave Jenny Penn a hard drive in the first and third heats, Exposer making his best bid in the second heat. (Jacopla looked like a winner of the first heat, but Exposer answered in the stretch and hit the Moncton horse sulky. Driver Lint claimed it was an unavoidable accident and the judges accepted his statement, but under the rules had to set him back from third to last position.

Tous, the chestnut pacer from Bathurst, which took a win race record of 2:15 1/4, romped away with the 2:30 stake and was never in danger.

The summary:

Clerk of Course—George H. Howie, Fredericton.

The judges awarded $10 of Royal McKinney's winnings to Driver Peter Carroll for driving the grey pacer the last heat.

Tomorrow the Free-for-All promises to be the liveliest betting affair ever seen here with Peter Farrow, John A. Hal, White Sox and Fern Hal as starters.

For the Free-for-All tomorrow Peter Farrow has been selling favorite in the pools tonight at even money against the field, while in the 2:25 trot the other class on the programme Bayliss is favorite against the field at even money.

The programme has been revised to bring the 2:25 trot on tomorrow and the 2:16 trot goes over to Thursday.

Charing Cross
An Air Station

London-Paris Aerial Express from Great London Terminal.

Another milestone in the advance of civilization was passed yesterday, when the first regular passenger air service between London and Paris was inaugurated at Hounslow aerodrome—now the Charing Cross of the air.

Two British aircraft companies—the Handley Page Transport Company, Limited, and Aircraft Transport and Travel, Limited—had the honor of the first express flights. Airco 4A was the first machine to leave, carrying a cargo of leather, newspapers, grouse, and fresh clotted cream from Devonshire, which is a rare luxury to Parisians.

This machine reached Hounslow on the return journey by 2:45 p. m., having covered the journey both ways in five and three-quarter hours. The first two passenger aeroplanes, Airco 16 and H. P. 1, left Hounslow later in the morning, carrying four and eleven passengers respectively, with a heavy cargo. The regular service opens on Monday.

Hounslow aerodrome now has its passport and Customs office, with notices in English, French, and Italian, and all the bustle of a great terminus.—London Express.

WAYS OF THE GREAT.

Mr. Asquith is credited with the authorship of a good story of the Allied representatives in Paris inclined to take things as leisurely as their more august predecessors. Mr. Lansing declared that the conference could not meet before 3:30 p. m. because for many years he had been accustomed to take a nap after lunch, and could hardly be expected at this age to make a change in his habits.

The Italian delegate remarked that this was unfortunate because he always took his siesta punctually at 5:30. "Not at all," said Mr. Lansing; "the conference will meet at 3:30 and break up at 5:30." "That of course," observed Mr. Asquith, slyly, "will suit Mr. Balfour very well indeed, for he always likes to sleep between those two hours."

At a meeting of the Thistle Curling Club on Monday evening it was decided to lease the club house and rink from the new owners, the Sisters of Charity, for the coming season. Plans are being discussed for the erection of a new building, and six different sites are under consideration. Dr. L. A. Langstroth presided at the meeting.
