Tablet Unveiled At Mission Church

Harvest Festival Held on Sunday and Memorial Placed on Wall for Men of Congregation Who Gave Lives in War.
Sunday was observed at the Mission Church St. John the Baptist as Harvest Thanksgiving, when the church was beautifully decorated with wheat, fruit and flowers. At 7 p. m. a Harvest Evensong was held, when the sermon was by Rev. Percy Coulthart, late Army Chaplain, who took for his text fourth chapter of the Gospel of St. John, 37th verse. Previous to this the solemn ceremony of unveiling the tablet to the memory of the members of the congregation killed in the war was proceeded with. The clergy, choir, crucifer and thurifer marched to the centre of the south wall, when Rev. J. V. Young, wearing white cope, formally drew aside the Union Jack and unveiled the memorial, naming those who had given their lives in the service of their country, and blessed and dedicated the tablet, praying for those who had thus been taken. After the memorial had been unveiled by the thurifer, the procession returned to the altar, where the choir sang the hymn "The Sains of God," and the remainder of the service was concluded.

The memorial is of solid polished brass, oblong in shape, but on the top in the centre a gothic panel in which is a raised Latin cross with Gothic ends, and on either side the words "Jesu, Mercy." Underneath is the inscription: "To the Glory of God and in Honored Memory of Band Master G. H. Williams (W. O.), Sergeant Alex. W. Whitehead, Corporal D. William Hamsey, Private Foster Brown, Private Robert G. Gabriel, Private Frank L. Gaudet, John H. Leppard, Private Howard Logan, Private Douglas T. Mowery, Private Frederick Wolfe, Canadian Expeditionary Force, Members of This Church, who laid down their lives in The Great War, 1914-1919. Grant them, O Lord, Eternal Rest, and may Light Perpetual Shine upon them!"

The lettering is in black and red, while the four corners of the tablet are brass circles of red, in which in raised work are in the first the raised monogram I. H. S., in the second the Chi-ro, or P. X., the third has a Union Jack, and the fourth a maple leaf, with crown and Canada thistle, the border of the brass being a laurel wreath. The whole is mounted on a solid dark oak shield and is placed on the south wall of the church. The memorial is one of the most handsome in the city, the work of G. Herbert Green.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Percy Coulthart, who took for his text the 4th chapter of St. John's Gospel, part of the 37th verse, "One soul, and another reapeth." The preacher pointed out that harvest time is full of great spiritual lessons showing to God's people His greatness, wisdom and power, the beauty of His works and the unchangeableness of His promises. It reminded us of the great moral harvest which followed the human sowing whether of individuals or nations, and brought to the mind a realization of the final harvest at the end of the world.

The chief lesson to be emphasized from the text was that God makes use of a constant succession of workers. People point out the defects of the age, but the Christian sees God's purpose in everything. Pieces may crumble off the wall, but the structure remains unchanged. The work seen on though the worker may not see the fruition of his work.

This led Mr. Coulthart to speak of the quiet unselfishness of workers. He said that all thoughts dwell on the seed of liberty, purity and freedom sown by the men who had fought these principles might be embodied in national life. It is a great incentive to all those who shall come after to hand on this message to the next generation, and all should thank God for opportunities of sowing. It might seem little each one can do, but seeds are always small, and each one must be content to do his best. It is for each one to trust and let God bless the efforts. Let us not be weary in well doing.

The service was read by Rev. R. H. Bennett, who assisted Rev. J. V. Young. The special music included many harvest hymns.

Round Trip Daily To P. E. Island

A. P. Barnhill Receives Telegram Stating That Double Summer Service Has Been Eliminated Effective Oct. 5

The following telegram has been received by A. P. Barnhill from L. F. Brown, General Superintendent at Moncton: "Answering your wire. At a meeting of the management held in Toronto a few weeks ago it was decided to eliminate double summer service to the island, effective October 5, that is one round trip daily instead of two. The present time table permits citizens of St. John leaving that city at 7.10 a. m. making through connection to the island, arriving at Charlottetown at 6.30 p. m. and leave Charlottetown daily (except Sunday) at 6.25 a. m., connecting with Ocean Limited at Seckville, arriving at St. John at 1.30 p. m. Previous to October 5, train leaving St. John at 12.30 p. m. ran through to Cape Tormentine, making through connection to the island arriving Charlottetown at 11.30 p. m. but this service has been discontinued between Moncton and P. E. Island, also the evening connection from the island with the Maritime Express was discontinued October 5. The service now in effect is similar to that maintained all last winter, and was considered ample to take care of the requirements. Of course you will understand that the operating of the boat between Tormentine and Borden at night and during stormy weather is considered hazardous." Mr. Barnhill stated last evening that he leaves today for Toronto, and if the service is not thought ample he would be glad to take the matter up on his arrival in Toronto.

Orangemen Held Church Parade

Largely Attended Service in St. Luke's Church Sunday Afternoon—Sermon Preached by Rev. R. P. McKim.

A largely attended service was held Sunday afternoon in St. Luke's Church, when the members of the Orange Order held their church parade. The lessons were read by the Rev. W. C. Robinson and the sermon preached by the Rev. R. P. McKim, rector of the church. The text was taken from St. Mark 10:14 and the sermon opened with a greeting to the members of the Orange Order and a welcome to St. Luke's church. Mr. McKim spoke of the value of the child and congratulated the members of the Orange Order because of their recognition of the needs of children. He told of the many difficulties which the child has to battle against—neglect and lack of proper housing—and the case of the child who feels it is unwelcome.

There is some provision made for orphans but the scope is restricted because of conditions placed upon the institutions, several only taking boarders and being obliged to receive many children needing shelter. He was glad that a home was being established on Wright street which would have its doors always open to all children who required care and assistance. Parents in difficulties might have their little ones taken care of and get them home again when things got brighter.

The preacher illustrated the love of the Saviour for the little ones and said that caring for these children was the Master's work. He hoped the Church would support the new home in every way. The special music was given by the choir and J. Willard Smith sang a solo.
