DOUBLE SHOOTING TRAGEDY

Laboring under the apprehension that he might have to face trial for the death of his chum, Joseph R. Barnes, aged 16, who was accidentally killed while on a hunting expedition in the woods near Alvinston on Saturday afternoon, it is believed that John A. Horspool, also aged 16, turned the rifle on himself, death resulting almost instantaneously.

Barnes and Horspool, accompanied by several other boy chums, started out on a hunting trip. After journeying a short distance in the woods they sighted a squirrel, and armed with .32 calibre rifles stood one on each side of the tree awaiting its descent. When the squirrel descended, Horspool fired, but instead of snuffing out the life of the furry creature, the bullet found lodgment in Barnes' brain, causing almost instant death.

As Barnes fell, Horspool ran away, stating he was going for medical assistance. His last words were: "I've killed him. I've killed him." A minute later his companions heard another shot, quite near by. An investigation was held and the body of Horspool was found with a gaping wound through his head.

The tragedy occurred on the farm of Neil McLean. Horspool's home was near Bridgen. He was visiting his sister, near Alvinston, at the time. The parents of Barnes reside on a farm near Alvinston.

FORMER WARDEN DEAD

Appin, Nov. 3.—The death of Geo. B. Campbell occurred in the general hospital at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, on Friday afternoon, Oct. 31. The deceased had been ailing for some few months, never having fully recovered from the flu last winter. About two weeks ago he was stricken with pneumonia and with the weakened condition of the heart he failed to recover.

The funeral was held from his late residence in Wetaskiwin. His brother, Angus, was with him when he died. He was the third son of the late Angus Campbell, J. P. of Appin. Besides his widow and two young daughters he leaves to mourn five brothers and one sister: J. Ferguson (Campbell, of Yearbook, Mont.; Dr. T. F. of Wickenburg, Arizona; Angus, of Grand Prairie, Alberta; Samuel E. of Dutton, and J. Harry, of Toronto, and Mrs. J. S. Macraut, of Appin. George B. Campbell was an ex-warden of the county of Middlesex. He also ran against Sir George W. Ross over 20 years ago.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday evening of last week six of the girls of the Junior W. A. of St. John's church treated a large audience in the school room to a really superb, humorous and most interesting performance at the close of a good program. R. Singleton, S. Humphries, Corporal Hartley, Mrs. McGeachy, Miss Moss, Miss Garbutt and the Misses Westcott ably supplied the first part of the evening's program with songs, readings, recitations and pianoforte selections. The J. W. A. then gave their one-act play entitled "Our Aunt From California." It is not too much to say that the young people were inimitable in their impersonation of the various characters, and fairly "brought down the house." Mary Westcott, as sister and aunt, excelled herself. Jessie Currie, as the real aunt and make-believe dressmaker, was all that could be desired. Isabella McGaffey, as the mother, took her part with dignity and efficiency. Frances Moss and Arlie Parrott, as the two sisters endeavoring to please the aunt, left the impression that they were thoroughly conversant with their parts. Hilda Allen, as the dressmaker, went through her part without a hitch, and Della Squire acquitted herself splendidly. In fact the audience were one and all enchanted with the evening's entertainment. The young people were superintended throughout by the president, Mrs. T. J. Charlton. The entertainment closed with the National Anthem. The rector was in the chair. From the proceeds the society have given the Sunday school $10 towards requisites.

WANTS $35 FOR BEAVER

In a communication to the St. Thomas authorities in charge of the Pinafore Park zoo, Samuel Leitch of Newbury informed them of the capture about a year ago of the beaver that escaped from there. He had found the little wanderer on his farm and had kept it a cage ever since. For his time and trouble and other incidental expenses he considered himself entitled to $35, and expressed his willingness to deliver the beaver to the city when that amount was forthcoming.

When a man turns over a new leaf he is never satisfied until he gets it blotted up worse than the old one.
