

BUSY WEEK AMONG TRINITY MEDICALS

Some Interesting Papers Read Before the Medical Society

ANNUAL TRINITY BANQUET

Batch of Lively News from the Spruce Street School

Already the interest in our Annual Banquet is becoming manifest, and every one can hear fellows asking: "Where's it going to be?" and "When are they going to have it?" Mr. Boyd and his committee have informed us that the Banquet will be held on the evening of December 8th, at the Temple Cafe.

Now everyone knows the amount of energy and reserve force which lies in the Banquet Committee, and with such men as we have this year at the helm, the success of this annual function is assured, and all that is required now is that each and every man, who has the honor to belong to our Alma Mater, should do all that lies in his power to assist the committee, and we have no hesitation in saying that this year "we will hold a vaster Banquet than has been."

The gentlemen may wonder what they can do to assist their committee. Now, the greatest aid will be given, and the greatest assistance rendered, if every man in the College will make it his personal business to see the members of the committee, and unsolicited, purchase his ticket. It seems a shame that anyone should allow himself to be coaxed to go to the Banquet, and it seems a greater shame for us to elect men to come back and beg us to support a function for the carrying out of which we elected them. By all means let us all go to the Banquet this year, and after it is over, we hope that the most scrupulous man in the College will not have a word to say but of the highest praise.

The first meeting of the Medical Society was held last Tuesday evening, and if the attendance at that meeting is any criterion, there is not room for a fragment of doubt but that the work and progress of this branch of the institution will this year totally eclipse anything in the past.

We came and listened to two of the most instructive papers ever presented before our society. Mr. Treblecock's paper on the "Sanitarium Treatment of Tuberculosis" seeming to drop in at this occasion most admirably, since just now we see the whole medical world wrought up over this most important topic, important not only with regard to the care and treatment of the present generation, but important from a prophylactic standpoint with regard to the future inhabitants of the civilized world.

The paper read by Dr. Fotheringham was also most interesting and instructive, and drew forth quite a lengthy discussion from several members present.

Now the "ball is rolling," and we would urge the gentlemen of all the years to attend these meetings regularly for several reasons. Everybody should take a night off, once in a while. That night could not possibly be spent more advantageously than by attending a meeting where you can listen to papers and addresses upon subjects dealing with medicine and surgery, and "two heads are better than one," so even if the papers to be read are upon subjects with which you may be very familiar, you may, and no doubt will, pick up some point which you may have overlooked.

After the meeting of the Medical Society was over, the members were all cordially invited to attend an informal "oyster supper," in the Final Room, and upon entering the room many were the remarks passed that "our Banquet Committee and Representatives," who were the hosts of the occasion, were all right, and jolly good fellows, and everything else that was nice. Well, did the boys enjoy themselves? Well, I guess they did, and the Faculty, too. If you could have seen the hungry-looking faces that entered the door, and below those faces large, loose vests—and then seen the smiling countenances and the well-filled-up, plump waistscoats that came away in the wee sma' 'oors, you would be inclined to say that everybody enjoyed themselves. Who's everybody? Trinity! Well, then, Trinity enjoyed themselves, and taken all in all, the evening was one of the most pleasant reunions ever passed in the history of Trinity Medical College.

Who got on to the outside of five dishes of oysters? McCormack, '01.

What did you do with that pie—Landsboro, '01.

Who had the plate of cakes in his desk? Rundle, '01.

Who has the greatest "oyster" capacity? "Big Furgy."

What have we held.—Tommy Allison.

"Dick" and Ranny were once more conspicuous by their absence. They should have come, and trusted to the "adage" that absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Thursday morning dawned and the sun shone brightly. It was an ideal day—a clear, blue sky, without a streak of overcast. The artist came with a smiling countenance to take a photo of the student body of Trinity. At first he termed them the wise men of the East, but soon a cloud came over the freshmen and the bright sunlight and clear blue sky were occluded, and after about fifteen rounds of "rough and tumble," he decided to take them as they were, and label the "Chromo," with the epithet: "Leather-lunged hoodlums."

The artist wanted to exclude a certain gentleman who is purported to be creating a sensation on Spruce street occasionally after the respectable portion of the population has been in dreamland some few hours. Now will you be good, Mc? —

Blake has evidently secured a copy of the almanac, judging by the coarse jokes he inflicted upon the group.

Glad we wer'nt in the "darn" thing—"Elliott and Dryden."

"We are lawyers—our name is Marks"—and you always want to find out which way the wind is blowing before making any suggestions as to celebrations.

"Ohm Paul" has returned.

The familiar form of "Freddy" Edwards is to be seen in the halls once more. He has returned denuded of that little bunch of lilacs which formerly adorned his chin.

"Father" Durum expected next week. "Dreyfus" will not be back until Christmas.

"Why don't you get a sister of your own?" was the question put to a certain gentleman of the third year the other evening by the "Mistress on Duty," when he, along with a "privileged brother," entered the sitting-room of a certain Young Ladies' College, not far distant. The very much surprised young man was almost overcome, and had it not been for the presence of mind of his friend, no doubt he would have been put completely out of business, when the "Mistress" informed him that only brothers were permitted to see the girls, and that he would confer a favor upon her by making himself scarce.

TRINITY DEFEATED ST. MICHAEL'S

Score was 10 to 1 in Favor of the Former

Friday afternoon St. Michael's went down before Trinity. Both teams put up a sharp, hard game, utterly devoid of roughness, and notwithstanding the mass plays, to which St. Michael's often resorted, there were no injuries. St. Michael's halves, Collins, Sheridan, and Vissette, and their quarter, Cringan, were largely responsible for the good showing their team made. Trinity's halves were especially effective in running tactics. Lucas, at quarter, put up his usual rattling game, Burbidge, Vode, Whittaker and Hewetson, on the wing line, took prominent parts in the play. In the first half, St. Michael's, winning the toss, took advantage of the light wind, and supplemented their mass plays with high kicking. Two or three times they got within striking distance of Trinity's goal line, but lost their opportunities on off-sides. Towards the end of the half, they forced a rouse on a long kick.

In the second half Trinity did a little kicking, too, and made good gains. A few minutes after the kick-off, combination runs by Strathy, Mockridge, and Walker brought the ball to St. Michael's 25-yard line. Here Strathy made a high kick, the wings followed up, and Code fell on the ball for a try, which was not converted. Score, 4 to 1. For a while Sheridan's brilliant runs kept the ball in Trinity's territory, but before the last whistle, Trotter went over for a try, which Lucas converted. Score, 10 to 1. The teams lined up as follows:

Trinity—Back, Sowers; halves, Mockridge, Strathy, Walker; quarter, Lucas; scrimmage, McDonald, Hewetson, Higginson; wings, Code, Richards, Whittaker, Burbidge, White, Lancelfield, Trotter.

St. Michael's—Back, Tickett; halves, Collins, Sheridan, Vissette; quarter, Cringan; scrimmage, Staley, Keys, Carter; wings, McAllister, Duggan, Carey, Bluett, Stormont, McGuire, Kelly.

Week by week we hear of the success of some of the younger graduates of Trinity. This week we are pleased to be able to record the success of Dr. E. Shoemaker, '08, in the town of Newfane, N.Y. He has an immense practice already, which is one more evidence of the superiority of Trinity's graduates. Dr. Shoemaker took honors before the New York State Board, being one of a very few, who achieved such a high standing. He was married last June to Miss McGillvary, of Ontario County, and "one and all" join in extending to Dr. Shoemaker our best wishes for the future.

Seeing that the brain exams are coming on soon, it has been suggested that every primary man should be able to differentiate between the "Cloustrum" and the "Colostrum."

The fees for the Literary Society are coming in fairly well, but the members of the Literary Committee beg to remind the gentlemen that they will be called upon soon to provide funds for the delegates, reading-room and for the concert, of which notice will be given next week. Pay up, boys, and get the Literary out of debt.

The most heartfelt sympathy of the students and Faculty is extended to our worthy fellow-student, Mr. H. E. Service, in his sad bereavement.

LAST WEEK AT THE LIT

Large Crowd turn out to Discuss Vice-president Cornish's Motion

The fourth regular meeting of the Union Literary and Scientific Society was held in the Students' Union on Friday evening, November 10th. An unusually large attendance was present, President Smale occupying the chair. After the minutes were read, the General Committee recommended that: The date of the open meeting be changed from 17th Nov. to 8th December. That an oratorical contest be held in the second term, on a date to be fixed by the General Committee. That the date of the Annual Dinner be December 15th, and that the General Committee be given power to nominate the necessary committees required to manage the event, and to take such other action as is necessary to arrange an undergraduate dinner. These recommendations were all approved.

Representatives of 3rd and 2nd Year S.P.S. were then nominated. These were as follows: 3rd Year, Mr. Henderson, by Mr. W. Campbell; 2nd Year, Mr. Hamer, by Mr. Cassidy.

When new business was called, Mr. G. Cornish brought in the motion of which he had given notice at the previous meeting, which is as follows:

"Resolved, that in the opinion of this society the use of intoxicating liquors at student functions is not to the best interests of the students, nor of the University, and that this society places itself on record as opposed to the use of intoxicants at all functions over which it has control."

This motion was seconded in a few well-chosen and forcible words by Mr. George Kay.

The President here interrupted the debate to call to the platform Messrs. Monds, Burch, Crook, McKeffer, McAlpine, graduates present in the hall.

After a protracted and earnest discussion, in which members seemed to sympathize uniformly with Mr. Cornish's principle, while in many cases differing in opinion on point of method, Mr. Fisher introduced an amendment, seconded by Mr. P. Carson, which read:

"Resolved, that inasmuch as the action suggested by this motion may create division amongst us, and thereby do more harm than good, this society does not deem it advisable to do more than place itself on record that it is its desire that the Dinner Committee do its utmost to see that everything is done decently and in order."

The amendment was then put, and lost, while the motion, being formally put to vote, was carried by a large majority.

After the settlement of business, it was decided to be too late to continue the programme provided, so after cheering demands for speeches from the graduates on the platform, followed by the speeches themselves, the meeting concluded with the National Anthem.

M'GILL FAVORS A CHANGE

Urges the Adoption of the English Game by Canadian Colleges

Montreal, November 10th.—At a well-attended and very representative meeting of the McGill Football Association, it was decided by popular vote that the present system of football played in our Canadian Colleges is not a good one, and a resolution was drawn up advising the General Committee to dispense with the present rules and introduce the system of football played in England. The resolution is not a rash or hasty one, but is the result of long thought and much discussion amongst the football men of the College, and the subject was thoroughly discussed at the meeting before it was finally decided upon.

For some months there has been a growing feeling, not only in McGill, but also in the other Colleges of the Inter-Collegiate Series, that the present game was not a satisfactory one, especially from the spectators' point of view, and it was felt that the comparatively small attendance which has marked the games has only been the result of this, and would be remedied by a change in the game. The reasons of the change are mainly that the scrimmage in the Canadian game is weak, and quite detrimental to good play, while it spoils the appearance of the game.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE

At the fourth regular meeting of Lit. Society on Friday evening, the Reading-room Regulations were discussed at some length.

The former Vice-President of the society, Mr. Wilson, having been made President, the vacancy was filled on the vote of the society by Mr. Woodruff, who has gone home for several days to Woodstock.

The first Inter-Collegiate debate of the year is to be held in Wycliffe on Wednesday, November 22nd, between Knox and Wycliffe. Invitations are not issued specially. The public and students of the city are cordially invited.

Mr. French was visiting Mr. Adams again on Saturday and Sunday. He is still looking well.

McCallum has a headache.

Mr. Ainslie Greene had what might have been a serious accident, while ascending the lower stairs on Saturday evening. Luckily no evil results are apparent.

Dickson has a peculiar knack of carrying the ball along with him on his hips up the side.

Wynn is blessed with much the same happy faculty.

While Gourlay is a charming fellow to meet on a hot summer's day; so cool, so delightfully easy—and yet he simply can't part with the ball.

Douglas is a sure and reliable kick on back. Seybro tackles anything from an elephant to an ant, and always traces his check properly. His namesake, Harry, was up against the Dents, but did not touch the Knox bunch. Jack was taken with cramps, one or two times, in a spot, unfortunately, where spirits vini gallici would do no good. Lee was taking a rest after his Hallowe'en exertions and battle with the Dents. Smith was in both games, up to his neck, and Wright, the only goal keeper, held up his end like the man of battle he is.
