PATEONS OF INDUSTRY MEETING.

A Discourse on the Frinciples of the Order by a Practical Farmer.

The Patrons of Industry held their first public meeting in Athens on Friday evening last. A number of villagers and a very fair turn-out of farmers attended, all anxious to learn more of the principles of an organization that has already made its influence strought felt in the by-elections that have taken place recently.

Friday evening last. A number of villagers and a very fair turn-out of farmers at tended, all anxious to learn more of the principles of an organization that has already made its influence strongly felt in the by-elections that have taken place recently.

Mr. Fuller Stevens, of Eigin, was called upon to take the chair, and after a brief explanation of the object of the weeting, he said that Mr. W. Beatty was present and twenty minutes would be allowed him to speak for or against the P. of I. Mr. Beatty declined to take advantage of the privilege, stating that he, was present simply for the purpose of gaining a better knowledge of the organization. The speak or of the evening, Mr. Wil-on, a practical farager of Glengarry Co., was then introduced. His advress was listened to with interest and unwearied attention, and, perhaps, no political speech ever delivered in Athens met with nore general approval from both Reformers and Conservatives. Of course, there were mental reservations on the part of members of the old parties, as his demunciations were levelled at both the Toronto and Ottawa houses of parliament, but his address, in chief, was a condemnation of extravagance in administering the affairs of the country, and in this respect his sentiments were generally endorsed. He said that the primary object of the Patrons was to secure a proper representation in parliament. Notwithstanding that the farmers represented even-tenths of the pupulation, the country was ruled by lawers, dectors and merchants, who did not, or would not, pass laws in their interests. A good many with the country was not bottom for the country was ruled by lawers, dectors and merchants, who did not of would not, pass laws in their interests. A good many aim their interests. The British Medical Monthly offers some interesting statements, which our readers may test for themselves if they will, as to the times of growth of the human body.

The year of greatest growth in the boys is the seventeenth; in girls the fourteenth. While girls reach full height in their fifteenth year, they acquire full weight at the age of twenty. Boys are stronger than girls from birth to the eleventh year; then girls become physically superior until the seventeenth year, when the tables are turned, and remain so.

From November to April children grow very little and gain no weight; from April to July they gain in height, but lose in weight, and from July to November they increase greatly in weight, but not in height.
